One Credit Event Models For Cdos Of Abs:

The Art of Credit Derivatives Joao Garcia, Serge Goossens, 2010-02-16 Credit derivatives have been instrumental in the recent increase in securitization activity. The complex nature and the size of the market have given rise to very complex counterparty credit risks. The Lehman failure has shown that these issues can paralyse the financial markets and the need for detailed understanding has never been greater. The Art of Credit Derivatives shows practitioners how to put a framework in place which will support the securitization activity. By showing the models that support this activity and linking them with very practical examples, the authors show why a mind shift within the quant community is needed: a move from simple modeling to a more hands-on mindset where the modeler understands the trading implicitly. The book has been written in five parts covering the modeling framework, single name corporate credit derivatives, multi name corporate credit derivatives, asset backed securities and dynamic credit portfolio management. Coverage includes groundbreaking solutions to the inherent risks associated with investing in securitization instruments, how to use the standardized credit indices as the most appropriate instruments in price discovery processes and why these indices are the essential tools for short term credit portfolio management, why the dynamics of systemic correlation and the standardised credit indices are linked with leverage and consequently the implications for liquidity and solvability of financial institutions, how Lvy processes and long term memory processes are related to the understanding of economic activity, why regulatory capital should be portfolio dependant and how to use stress tests and scenario analysis to model this, how to put structured products in a mark to market environment, increasing transparency for accounting and compliance. This book will be invaluable reading for Credit Analysts, Quantitative Analysts, Credit Portfolio Managers, Academics and anyone interested in these complex yet important markets.

Investing in Collateralized Debt Obligations Frank J. Fabozzi, Laurie S. Goodman, 2001-05-15 The fastest growing sector of the asset backed securities market is the collateralized debt obligation CDO market. CDOs are securities backed by a pool of diversified assets and are referred to as collateralized bond obligations CBOs when the underlying assets are bonds and as collateralized loan obligations CLOs when the underlying assets are bank loans. Investing in Collateralized Debt Obligations covers not only the fundamental features of these securities and the investment characteristics that make them attractive to a broad range of institutional investors but also the tools for identifying relative value. Nearly a dozen of today's best known analysts discuss emerging market CBOs, relative value frameworks, pricing strategies and techniques and more.

Rethinking Valuation and Pricing Models Carsten Wehn, Christian Hoppe, Greg N. Gregoriou, 2012-12-17 It is widely acknowledged that many financial modelling techniques failed during the financial crisis and in our post crisis environment many techniques are being reconsidered. This single volume provides a guide to lessons learned for practitioners and a reference for academics. Including reviews of traditional approaches, real examples and case studies, contributors consider portfolio theory methods for valuing equities and equity derivatives, interest rate derivatives and hybrid products.

The Oxford Handbook of Credit Derivatives Alexander Lipton, Andrew Rennie, 2013-01-17

From the late 1990s the spectacular growth of a secondary market for credit through derivatives has been matched by the emergence of mathematical modelling analysing the credit risk embedded in these contracts This book aims to provide a broad and deep overview of this modelling covering statistical analysis and techniques modelling of default of both single and multiple entities counterparty risk Gaussian and non Gaussian modelling and securitisation Both reduced form and firm value models for the default of single entities are considered in detail with extensive discussion of both their theoretical underpinnings and practical usage in pricing and risk For multiple entity modelling the now notorious Gaussian copula is discussed with analysis of its shortcomings as well as a wide range of alternative approaches including multivariate extensions to both firm value and reduced form models and continuous time Markov chains One important case of multiple entities modelling counterparty risk in credit derivatives is further explored in two dedicated chapters Alternative non Gaussian approaches to modelling are also discussed including extreme value theory and saddle point approximations to deal with tail risk Finally the recent growth in securitisation is covered including house price modelling and pricing models for asset backed CDOs The current credit crisis has brought modelling of the previously arcane credit markets into the public arena Lipton and Rennie with their excellent team of contributors provide a timely discussion of the mathematical modelling that underpins both credit derivatives and securitisation Though technical in nature the pros and cons of various approaches attempt to provide a balanced view of the role that mathematical modelling plays in the modern credit markets This book will appeal to students and researchers in statistics economics and finance as well as practitioners credit traders and quantitative analysts
