Fit to Be Tied Rebecca M. Kluchin, 2011 The 1960s revolutionized American contraceptive practice Diaphragms jellies and condoms with high failure rates gave way to newer choices of the Pill IUD and sterilization Fit to Be Tied provides a history of sterilization and what would prove to become at once socially divisive and a popular form of birth control During the first half of the twentieth century sterilization tubal ligation and vasectomy was a tool of eugenics Individuals who endorsed crude notions of biological determinism sought to control the reproductive decisions of women they considered unfit by nature of race or class and used surgery to do so Incorporating first person narratives court cases and official records Rebecca M Kluchin examines the evolution of forced sterilization of poor women especially women of color in the second half of the century and contrasts it with demands for contraceptive sterilization made by white women and men She chronicles public acceptance during an era of reproductive and sexual freedom and the subsequent replacement of the eugenics movement with neo eugenic standards that continued to influence American medical practice family planning public policy and popular sentiment

Everyone's Guide to Cancer Survivorship Ernest Rosenbaum, Holly Gautier, 2011-10-01 This book was written both for survivors and health professionals some of whom are cancer survivors too Our goal is to provide you with a survivor's road map Dr Ernest H Rosenbaum More than 30 medical professionals reveal insights on surviving cancer to empower cancer survivors and their caregivers as well as the doctors who manage their continued care The CDC's National Action Plan for Cancer Survivorship estimates that there are 9.6 million persons living following a cancer diagnosis And this number is strictly related to patients It does not include family members friends or caregivers For anyone approaching life from the perspective of remission respected oncologist Dr Ernest Rosenbaum leads a team of 34 oncology specialists and medical contributors some of whom are both doctors and survivors themselves in creating a guide specifically geared for cancer survivorship The growing number of people approaching life post cancer will find solace understanding and opportunity with information specifically geared to managing the lingering effects of cancer treatment such as Lifestyle changes to improve health and longevity What survivors need to know following anticancer therapy How to manage the side effects of chemotherapy and radiation therapy How to set goals for the future Clearinghouse Review ,1980 Women in Medicine Anne Walling,2025-06-30 In telling the history of women in medicine the pioneers especially the turbulent ones are rightly remembered and celebrated in books articles memorials awards names of buildings and organizations even in stone statues and memorials In contrast the generation who began the transition from minority status to the current numerical equity are seldom memorialized yet without the efforts of these few determined women in what was unambiguously a male profession the achievements of these pioneers could easily have withered This book is written to celebrate this unique generation of women who entered medicine between the Second World War and the early 1970s determined women who just wanted to be doctors but ended up fundamentally changing the profession Utilizing oral histories from 37 women who became physicians between 1948 and 1975 these women tell their stories in their own words and provide a valid picture of their experiences throughout their careers that has much resonance for those entering or practicing medicine today Women in Medicine Stories from the Girls in White will be of interest to all health professionals or those considering entering health professions particularly women and their advisers and supporters to medical educators and to medical historians seeking to understand the progress of women in medicine and other professions since the end of WWII Healthcare Financial Management ,2008 Cumulated Index Medicus ,1989
