New Museum Theory And Practice An Introduction:

New Museum Theory and Practice Janet Marstine, 2008-04-15 New Museum Theory and Practice is an original collection of essays with a unique focus on the contested politics and ideologies of museum exhibition. Contains 12 original essays that contribute to the field while creating a collective whole for course use. Discusses theory through vivid examples and historical overviews. Offers guidance on how to put theory into practice. Covers a range of museums around the world from art to history, anthropology to music, as well as historic houses, cultural centres, virtual sites and commercial displays that use the conventions of the museum. Authors come from the UK, Canada, the US and Australia and from a variety of fields that inform cultural studies. Public History Thomas Cauvin, 2016-05-20 Public History: A Textbook of Practice is a guide to the many challenges historians face while teaching, learning and practicing public history. Historians can play a dynamic and essential role in contributing to public understanding of the past and those who work in historic preservation in museums and archives, in government agencies as consultants, as oral historians or who manage crowdsourcing projects, need very specific skills. This book links theory and practice and provides students and practitioners with the tools to do public history in a wide range of settings. The text engages throughout with key issues such as public participation, digital tools and media, and the internationalization of public history. Part One focuses on public history sources and offers an overview of the creation, collection management and preservation of public history materials, archives, material culture, oral materials or digital sources. Chapters cover sites and institutions such as archival repositories and museums, historic buildings and structures and different practices such as collection management, preservation, archives, objects, sounds, moving images, buildings, sites and landscape, oral history and genealogy. Part Two deals with the different ways in which public historians can produce historical narratives through different media, including exhibitions, film, writing and digital tools. The last part explores the challenges and ethical issues that public historians will encounter when working with different communities and institutions. Either in public history methods courses or as a resource for practicing public historians, this book lays the groundwork for making meaningful connections between historical sources and popular audiences. Beyond Pedagogy Brenda Trofanenko, 2014-07-11 Beyond Pedagogy: Reconsidering the public purpose of museums explores issues standing at the intersection of public pedagogy, memory and critical theory, focusing on the explicit and implicit educational imperative of art, natural history and indigenous museums, cultural centers, memorial sites, heritage houses and other cultural heritage sites that comprise the milieu of educating, learning and knowing. Taken together, the various essays comprising this book demonstrate that a more nuanced examination of the role of cultural heritage institutions as pedagogical sites requires a critical gaze to understand the function of the authority and ways through which such institutions educate. Beyond Pedagogy also makes a vital point about the complexity of such institutions and the need to comprehend how pedagogy emerges not only as an end result of the museum's educational purpose but also in relation to the historically defined mandates that increasingly come to question the distinction between the knowledge we know and how we come to know it. As such, this volume expands our understandings of the ways in which pedagogy operates in the contexts of museums and heritage sites and the forms of knowledge knowing and being it conjures, celebrates, obscures, and/or silences in the process of producing among museum visitors particular notions of identity, subjectivity, and voice, ones that more often than not reify rather than challenge traditional conceptualizations of the nation and its past, present, and future.

Redisplaying Museum Collections
Hannah Paddon, 2016-04-08. This is the first book to examine in depth the multi-million pound redisplay and reinterpretation process in British museums in the early twenty-first century. Acknowledging the importance of the Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) as project catalyst, Hannah Paddon explains and explores the complex process from the initial stages of project conceptualisation to the final stages of museum re-opening and exhibition evaluation. She also provides an in-depth look using three case study museums at the factors which shape each museum redisplay project, including topics such as museum architecture, government agendas, and the exhibition team. Finally, the book offers discussions and conclusions around pitfalls and successes and thoughts about the future of collection redisplay.

The Routledge Companion to Museum Ethics

Janet Marstine, 2012-05-23. Routledge Companion to Museum Ethics is a theoretically informed reconceptualization of museum ethics discourse as a dynamic social practice central to the project of creating change in the museum. Through twenty-seven chapters by an international and interdisciplinary group of academics and practitioners, it explores contemporary museum ethics as an opportunity for growth rather than a burden of compliance. The volume represents diverse strands in museum activity, from exhibitions to marketing, as ethics is embedded in all areas of the museum sector. What the contributors share is an understanding of the contingent nature of museum ethics in the twenty-first century, its relations with complex economic, social, political, and technological forces, and its fluid, ever-shifting sensibility. The volume examines contemporary museum ethics through the prism of those disciplines and methods that have shaped it most. It argues for a museum ethics discourse defined by social responsibility, radical transparency, and shared guardianship of heritage. And it demonstrates the moral agency of museums, the concept that museum ethics is more than the personal and professional ethics of individuals and concerns the capacity of institutions to generate self-reflective and activist practice.

Klassiker der Soziologie der Künste
Christian Steuerwald, 2016-09-19. Die Soziologie kennt zahlreiche Schriften, die Einführungen in die Geschichte der Soziologie, Zusammenfassungen über spezielle Forschungsgebiete und Fragen oder Überblickswerke über die Klassiker des Fachs bieten. Auch wenn in jüngster Zeit verschiedene kunstsoziologische Einführungen und Überblickswerke veröffentlicht worden sind, fehlt in der Soziologie der Künste eine aktuelle Zusammenstellung der Klassiker. In Folge der intensiven Auseinandersetzungen um den Klassikerbegriff in der Soziologie sowie umfangreicher Weiterentwicklungen der

Soziologie der Kunst kann es in einer aktuellen Zusammenstellung aber nicht nur um Klassiker an sich gehen Gerade die Soziologie der Kunst weist verschiedene höchst bedeutende und prominente Ansätze auf die nur auf höchst problematische Weise mit dem Klassikerbegriff in welcher Form auch immer zu vereinbaren sind Dementsprechend geht es in dem Buch nicht nur um Klassiker Vielmehr sollen auch Kultur und Sozialwissenschaftlerinnen beziehungsweise Kultur und Sozialwissenschaftler aufgenommen werden die richtungsweisende Arbeiten für eine Soziologie der Kunst vorgelegt haben

Museums, Equality and Social Justice Richard Sandell, Eithne Nightingale, 2013-05-20 The last two decades have seen concerns for equality diversity social justice and human rights move from the margins of museum thinking and practice to the core The arguments both moral and pragmatic for engaging diverse audiences creating the conditions for more equitable access to museum resources and opening up opportunities for participation now enjoy considerable consensus in many parts of the world A growing number of institutions are concerned to construct new narratives that represent a plurality of lived experiences histories and identities which aim to nurture support for more progressive ethically informed ways of seeing and to actively inform contemporary public debates on often contested rights related issues At the same time it would be misleading to suggest an even and uncontested transition from the museum as an organisation that has been widely understood to marginalise exclude and oppress to one which is wholly inclusive Moreover there are signs that momentum towards making museums more inclusive and equitable is slowing down or in some contexts reversing Museums Equality and Social Justice aims to reflect on and crucially to inform debates in museum research policy and practice at this critical time It brings together new research from academics and practitioners and insights from artists activists and commentators to explore the ways in which museums galleries and heritage organisations are engaging with the fast changing equalities terrain and the shifting politics of identity at global national and local levels and to investigate their potential to contribute to more equitable fair and just societies

Cultural Anthropology JoAnn Jacoby, Josephine Kibbee, 2007-05-30 The latest edition of a major literature guide provides citations and informative annotations on a wide range of reference sources including manuals bibliographies indexes databases literature surveys and reviews dissertations book reviews conference proceedings awards and employment and grant sources The organization closely follows that of the 1st edition with some much needed additions relating to online resources and new areas of interest within the field such as forensic anthropology environmental anthropology and Lesbian Bisexual Gay and Transgendered Anthropology Separate sections focus on individual subfields as well as emerging concerns such as ethical issues in cultural heritage preservation For academic and research library collections as well as faculty members in anthropology area studies and intercultural studies

Mind Museums Francesca Lanz, 2024-03-05 Mind Museums offers a fresh perspective on the heritage of mental health bringing museums into sharp focus Drawing on interdisciplinary approaches from architecture museum and exhibition design and heritage and museum studies it examines former psychiatric asylums that have been converted into museums The book presents a comprehensive investigation of mind museums the first of its kind in Europe and explores their potential in raising awareness and dismantling the stigma surrounding mental health Through an indepth examination of selected European examples Lanz describes what mind museums are and how they came to be The innovative visitor studies carried out at the Museo di Storia della Psichiatria in Reggio Emilia which are presented here explore people s encounters with mind museums and reveal the profound impact of such experiences By uncovering the power of these heritage sites in facilitating discussions on mental health civility and care Lanz provides new insights into the emotive capacity of the museum and visitors reflexivity at place based memory sites Mind Museums will be of great interest to scholars and postgraduate level students engaged in the study of museums heritage exhibition design architecture and mental health It should also be of interest to heritage professionals particularly those working in mind museums and other similar sites such as prison museums and sites of conscience The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative

Rethinking Research in the Art Museum presents an original and radical perspective on how research can function as an agent of change in art museums today The book analyses a range of art organisations and draws on numerous interviews with museum professionals to outline the limitations of existing models of museum research Arguing for a more democratic formulation in tune with the current needs and ambitions of the art institution Emily Pringle puts forward a framework for practitioner led co produced research that redefines how knowledge is created in the museum Recognising that museums today negotiate multiple agendas the book outlines the value of constructing the art museum professional as a practitioner researcher and their work as a mode of practice based research be they educators archivists curators or conservators Locating these arguments within the framework of new museology critical pedagogy professional and organisational studies and epistemology the book offers insights and guidance for those interested in how art museums function and the role research plays within these complex institutions Rethinking Research in the Art Museum provides a timely and important resource for museum professionals and scholars students artists and community members It should be of particular interest to those invested in exploring how art museums can continue to make the most of their unique resources whilst becoming more collaborative inclusive and relevant to the twenty first century Museum as Process Raymond

Silverman, 2014-09-19 The museum has become a vital strategic space for negotiating ownership of and access to knowledges produced in local settings Museum as Process presents community engaged culture work of a group of scholars whose collaborative projects consider the social spaces between the museum and community and offer new ways of addressing the challenges of bridging the local and the global Museum as Process explores a variety of strategies for engaging source communities in the process of translation and the collaborative mediation of cultural knowledges Scholars from around the world reflect upon their work with specific communities in different parts of the world Australia Canada Ghana Great Britain New Zealand Papua New Guinea Philippines South Africa Taiwan and the United States Each global case study provides significant insights into what happens to knowledge as it moves back and forth between source communities and global sites especially the museum Museum as Process is an important contribution to understanding the relationships between museums and source communities and the flow of cultural knowledge Contested Spaces Concerted Projects Cristina F. Colombo, Jacopo Leveratto, 2022-05-18 European cultural heritage is inherently complex and layered In the past conflicting or controversial perspectives on different historical memories and experiences have been colliding in the rich cultural landscape of Europe and continue to do so in the present Contemporary projects of re activation of contentious spaces seem to challenge both the traditional design parameters and the role of spatial practitioners They require new strategies that effectively mix top down and bottom up impulses through a new design approach that is still in search of a clear definition Contested Spaces Concerted Projects collects the stories of some selected cases of difficult built heritage in order to highlight the most innovative methodologies of re activation by which architects artists designers and collectives have developed new participatory public interfaces
