Identity, Community, Discourse Giuseppina Cortese, Anna Duszak, 2005 Languages are inseparable from their contexts of use. They are not only congruent with but also involved in the configuration of the worldviews and value systems manifested in cultures and embodied in texts. The spread of English worldwide foregrounds the issue of textual dynamics in intercultural settings. The production/reception of texts in English facilitates international contacts and exchanges yet it also triggers hegemonic practices. The volume aims to investigate the representations and negotiations of sociocognitive identities in intercultural settings relevant for good practice. Contributions explore languaging strategies: verbal, visual, multimodal. English, monolingual, bilingual, multilingual through a range of methodological perspectives wherein the respect for sociocultural differences is a constitutive value.

Making Sense Bill Cope, Mary Kalantzis, 2020-01-30 The phenomenon of multimodality is central to our everyday interaction. Hybrid modes of communication that combine traditional uses of language with imagery, tagging, hashtags and voice recognition tools have become the norm. Bringing together concepts of meaning and communication across a range of subject areas including education, media studies, cultural studies, design and architecture, the authors uncover a multimodal grammar that moves away from rigid and language-centered understandings of meaning. They present the first framework for describing and analysing different forms of meaning across text, image, space, body, sound and speech. Succinct summaries of the main thinkers in the fields of language, communications and semiotics are provided alongside rich examples to illustrate the key arguments. A history of media including the genesis of digital media, Unicode, Emoji, XML and HTML, MP3 and more is covered. This book will stimulate new thinking about the nature of meaning and life itself and will serve practitioners and theorists alike.

Revisiting the Toolbox of Discourse Studies Markus Rheindorf, 2019-06-07 This book revisits discourse analytic practice, analyzing the idea that the field has access to, provides or even constitutes a toolbox of methods. The precise characteristics of this toolbox have remained largely untheorized and the author discusses the different sets of tools and their combinations, particularly those that cut across traditional divides such as those between disciplines or between quantitative and qualitative methods. The author emphasizes the potential value of integrating methods in terms of triangulation and its specific benefits, arguing that current trends in Open Science require Discourse Studies to re-examine its methodological scope and choices and move beyond token acknowledgements of eclecticism. In-depth case studies supplement the methodological discussion and demonstrate the challenges and benefits of triangulation. This book will be a valuable resource for students and scholars in Discourse Studies, particularly those with an interest in combining methods and working across disciplines.

Studies of Discourse and Governmentality Paul McIlvenny, Julia Zhukova Klausen, Laura Bang Lindegaard, 2016-06-29 This volume brings together analyses of governmentality from different angles in order to explore the multiple forms, practices, modes, programmes and rationalities of the conduct of conduct today.

Following the publication of Foucault's annual lecture series at the Collège de France scholars have attempted to critically rethink Foucault's ideas. This is the first volume that attempts to revisit and expand studies of governmentality by connecting it to the theories and methods of discourse analysis. The volume draws on different theoretical stances and methodological approaches including critical discourse analysis, conversation analysis, dialogic analysis, multimodal discourse analysis, the discourse historical approach, corpus analysis, and French discourse analysis. The volume is relevant to students and scholars in the fields of critical discourse studies, conversation analysis, international studies, environmental studies, political science, public policy, and organisation studies.

This edited book provides cutting edge contributions from an international array of prominent experts who discuss the relevance of pedagogical stylistics in relation to diverse contexts and areas including empirical approaches, corpus stylistics, creative writing, literary linguistic criticism, students as researchers, critical discourse, academic register, text world, pedagogy, cognitive stylistics, classroom discourse, language of literary texts, L1/L2 education, EFL learners, and multimodal stylistics. Intended as a follow up to Watson and Zyngier 2007, this volume situates the reader by offering a broad assessment of how the field has developed during the past 15 years and where it stands now. By examining both contemporary research and future challenges, it should be regarded as essential reading for all teachers, researchers, scholars, and students interested in understanding language and how to apply stylistics in educational settings. This book will be of interest to students and scholars working in stylistics, cognitive linguistics, language teaching, applied linguistics, literary studies, and materials development.

Der Einfluss der Grenze und die Grenze des Einflusses Verena Maar, 2025-01-10

Die Dissertation befasst sich mit der Familiensprachenpolitik (FLP) vgl. King et al. 2008, Curdt Christiansen 2009, mehrsprachiger Familien in Brandenburg und stellt die Frage, ob und warum die Eltern in diesen Familien ihre verschiedenen Sprachen mindestens Deutsch und Polnisch in manchen Familien auch weiter an ihre Kinder weitergeben oder nicht und wenn ja, auf welche Weise sie dies tun. Brandenburg grenzt im Osten mit einer relativ dünn besiedelten Region direkt an Polen und umgibt die vielfältige deutsche Hauptstadt Berlin. So wurde aufgrund der örtlichen Gegebenheiten zudem die Frage behandelt, inwiefern sich Theorien von Transnationalität und Superdiversität auch auf Regionen abseits der Urbanität anwenden lassen. Es wurden zehn leitfadengestützte Interviews mit jeweils einem Elternteil aus Familien in unterschiedlicher Entfernung zur deutsch-polnischen Grenze durchgeführt und auf dem theoretischen Hintergrund von Transnationalität und Superdiversität unter der Nutzung der Nexusanalyse vgl. Scollon 1998, 2001, Scollon & Scollon 2004 diskursanalytisch ausgewertet sowie auf der Einzeltext-, der Diskurs- und der Gesellschaftsebene dargestellt und diskutiert vgl. Bendel & Larcher 2015. Auf der Gesellschaftsebene wurde die Nexusanalyse dabei in einer innovativen Herangehensweise durch ein triadisches Analyseraster mit der Theorie der Grenze vgl. Schiffauer et al. 2018 zusammengebracht, so dass Fragen der Grenzziehung auf den Bereich der Sprachweitergabe bezogen werden konnten. Hier konnte ein Einfluss der räumlichen Nähe zu Polen auf die

Familiensprachenpolitik festgestellt werden Die Grenzregion Brandenburgs zu Polen kann als Schlussfolgerung auch als transnational und superdivers beschrieben werden wobei Transnationalität hier Yamamura 2022 folgend als sozialräumliche Expression von Superdiversität verstanden wird Die Ergebnisse sprechen dafür die Spezifik des Ortes ins dynamische Modell zur Beschreibung von FLP vgl Curdt Christiansen Huang 2020 aufzunehmen und den externen Einflussfaktoren zuzuordnen Es zeigt sich zudem dass die Theorie der Grenze zukünftig weitere Aspekte der Erforschung von Familiensprachenpolitik bereichern kann Die Grenztheorie scheint geeignet zukünftig sowohl auf räumliche als auch z B auf soziale oder sprachliche Grenzziehungen angewendet zu werden
