the Danger Zone Debbie Lisle, 2016-07-15 Holidays in the Danger Zone exposes the mundane and everyday interactions between two seemingly opposed worlds warfare and tourism Debbie Lisle shows how a tourist sensibility shapes the behavior of soldiers in war especially the experiences of Western military forces in exotic settings This includes not only R R but also how battlefields become landscapes of leisure and tourism She further explores how a military sensibility shapes the development of tourism in the postwar context from Dark Tourism engaging with displays of conflict and atrocity to exhibitions of conflict in museums and at memorial sites as well as advertising film journals guidebooks blogs and photography Focused on how war and tourism reinforce prevailing modes of domination Holidays in the Danger Zone critically examines the long historical arc of the war tourism nexus from nineteenth century imperialism to World War I and World War II from the Cold War to globalization and the War on Terror

Consuming Space Michael K. Goodman, David Goodman, 2016-05-23 An examination of the relationship between space place and consumption offers important insights into some of the most powerful forces constructing contemporary societies Space and place are made and remade through consumption Yet how do cultures of consumption discover space and how do they construct place This book addresses these questions by exploring the implications of conceptualizing consumption as a spatial increasingly global yet intensely localized activity The work develops integrative approaches that articulate the processes involved in the production and consumption of space and place The result is a varied engaging and innovative study of consumption and its role in structuring contemporary capitalist political economies
