Nice Holy Smoke Anna Campion:

Women Screenwriters Jill Nelmes, Jule Selbo, 2015-09-29 Women Screenwriters is a study of more than 300 female writers from 60 nations from the first film scenarios produced in 1986 to the present day. Divided into six sections by continent, the entries give an overview of the history of women screenwriters in each country as well as individual biographies of its most influential.

Jane Campion Alistair Fox, 2011-03-28 Introduction authorship creativity and personal cinema. Origins of a problematic the Campion family. The tragic underbelly of the family fantasies of transgression in the early films. Living in the shadow of the family tree. Sweetie. How painful it is to have a family member with a problem like that. authorship as creative adaptation in An angel at my table. Traumas of separation and the encounter with the phallic other. The piano. The misfortunes of an heiress. The portrait of a lady. Exacting revenge on cunt men. Holy smoke as sexual fantasy. That which terrifies and attracts simultaneously. Killing daddy in the cut. Lighting a lamp. Loss, art and transcendence in The water diary and Bright star. Conclusion theorizing the personal component of authorship.

Jane Campion Dana Polan, 2019-07-25 With the phenomenal success of The Piano 1993, Jane Campion became revered by many as the leading female film director of the 1990s. In this book, Dana Polan examines the phenomenon of The Piano and how it develops from the early shorts and first features which evoke an often surreal and critical distanced style of looking at everyday issues. Looking at all of Campion's work before and since, including Holy Smoke 1999 which returned again to the battleground of gender politics, the author concludes his survey of the director's work by offering some hypotheses about the erotic thriller The Cut 2001 whilst asking what variety of approaches to the study of directors might now be fruitful.

Women Screenwriters Today Marsha McCreddie, 2005-12-30 The question of whether women write from a unique perspective has been debated since the silent era. McCreddie examines how this female sensibility has been defined and whether in fact it exists at all. Such films as Lost in Translation and Monster suggest that women screenwriters are moving in a new direction heading away from the big budget action movies that dominate Hollywood today. But action driven genre films like the thrillers of Alexandra Seros seem to belie the perception that women write films that are more dialogue and character driven than those of male screenwriters. Whether or not women actually write differently from men and about different topics, the author's unique approach working with and through the words and lives of the women screenwriters themselves allows both readers and writers an otherwise unattainable look into the ever growing and ever more essential world of women in Hollywood. Over the course of cinematic history, women screenwriters have played an essential role in the creation of the films we watch. The question of whether women write from a unique perspective has been debated since the silent era. Marsha McCreddie examines how this female sensibility has been defined and questions whether in fact it exists at all. The emergence of such films as Lost in Translation and Monster would seem to suggest that women screenwriters are moving in a new direction heading away from the big budget action movies that dominate Hollywood today. But there can always be found an Alexandra Seros for instance whose thrillers would seem to prove the opposite case Working through these contradictions Marsha McCreadie takes a captivating look at the words and lives of women screenwriters allowing readers an otherwise unattainable look into the ever growing and ever more essential world of women in film Readers interested in film and women s studies will especially enjoy reading Marsha McCreadie s discussions of such films as Little Women The Thomas Crown Affair The Piano Pollock and Under the Tuscan Sun Interviews with major women players in the movie business including Sofia Coppola Lost in Translation and Emma Thompson Sense and Sensibility allow readers a unique chance to learn firsthand how women are trying to enter the business how they pursue and approach the topics they love and how they have managed to survive and prosper in the unforgiving world of modern cinema By talking with writers working in Hollywood Australia New Zealand and Europe Marsha McCreadie provides film fans with an international perspective on the increasingly global film industry

single new Ebert review Jane Campion Hilary Radner, Alistair Fox, Irène Bessière, 2009 An innovative collection of original essays on Jane Campion renowned female auteur filmmaker In Jane Campion Cinema Nation Identity a diverse group of contributors challenge the view that Campion's body of work lacks coherence or unity to instead examine the important characteristics and themes that underlie it Editors Hilary Radner Alistair Fox and Irène Bessière have compiled rich original scholarship on Campion's oeuvre to probe issues previously neglected by scholars like her debt to New Zealand sources and her personal views of family dynamics and those that benefit from additional insight such as her place in the feminist filmmaking tradition This volume also investigates Campion's distinct cinematic style in light of these issues to examine the source of her enduring cross cultural and international appeal Contributors in the first section explore the creation of subjectivity and identity in Campion's films which include well known works like The Piano and Holy Smoke to trace the unique perspectives of Campion's characters and Campion herself as director In the second section essays analyze Campion's close relationship with literature and argue that the singular vision in her literary adaptations stems from her New Zealand background and her personal mythology Contributors in the third section argue that while Campion devotes considerable attention to the evocation of feminine internal space she also uses the symbolic potential of her external physical locations to register what is taking place in the inner life of her characters and reflect their search for personal fulfillment A final group of essays presents a variety of responses to Campion's films demonstrating that Campion is a highly personal and idiosyncratic director who nonetheless manages to fascinate viewers across a broad cultural spectrum Taken together contributors in Jane Campion Cinema Nation Identity present a compelling analysis of Campion's status as a leading female filmmaker with close attention to her distinctive cinematic style and particular mise en scène The collective nature of this volume will appeal to students and teachers of film literature and gender studies as well as fans of Campion's work Jane Campion on Jane Campion Michel Ciment, 2023-09-26 A chronological overview of one of modern cinema's most celebrated directors featuring interviews with Jane Campion herself Jane Campion on Jane Campion offers a unique perspective on the creative process of one of cinema's greatest contemporary film directors Through a series of interviews from the early days of Campion's career to her most recent projects conducted by Michel Ciment each chapter contains the study of a film starting with the short films that Campion made during her studies at the Australian Film Television and Radio School then moving through the Academy Award winning The Piano The Portrait of a Lady Holy Smoke In the Cut Bright Star the TV series Top of the Lake and ending with her most recent film the Academy Award nominated The Power of the Dog Organized chronologically film by film the interviews are illustrated with film stills and photographs taken on set as well as with annotated scripts storyboards and personal documents lent by Campion The book also reproduces three short stories and a text about the poet John Keats written by the director along with actress Holly Hunter's Scattered Memories of their collaboration on The Piano and Top of the Lake A detailed bibliography and filmography of the filmmaker complete this volume which contains more than 300 color and black and white illustrations

Jane Campion Bernadette Wegenstein,2025-01-23 Throughout films and television series like The Piano Bright Star In the Cut and Top of the Lake Jane Campion has constantly explored gender subjectivity and narrative representation In an intensive engagement with her cross medium career Bernadette Wegenstein examines how Campion gives a tangible and visible form to the female gaze in her exploration deployment and ultimately her subversion of highly formalized genres such as the period piece the thriller and the procedural drama Keeping a strict focus on her directorial practice and specifically on the capacity of her cinematography to induce both empathy and estrangement this vital new book shows how Campion is engaged in a permanent artistic and intuitive exposition of a profoundly feminist philosophical vision Wegenstein s work will be invaluable to scholars and students in gender and women s studies film studies and those on philosophy and film courses
