Navigating the Academic Career Victor N. Shaw, 2013-03-01 There is an urgent need to provide academic professionals with individual institutional and contextual accounts of their careers and career making endeavors An individual account makes academicians think about what they do and how they might do it better An institutional account makes academicians reflect upon the organizational environment in which they function and ponder what they might do to improve it A contextual account connects academicians and their work to knowledge the knowledge enterprise and the larger social structure so that they know and understand the impact they and their career making efforts have on themselves academia and general social processes This book examines academic careers and career making activities with respect to their main aspects milestones and general pathways In content it divides into four identifiable parts Part I focuses on professional preparation It examines education degree reeducation job search and job change Part II centers on organizational employment It investigates position research teaching service and tenure Part III revolves around professional networking It looks into publication conference presentation application for grants and awards and membership in academic associations Part IV rises above specific issues It explores general career pathways and overall scholarly identity

Rethinking Race and Ethnicity in Research Methods John H Stanfield II, 2016-06-03 This collection of original work demonstrates the new ways in which particular research methodologies are used valued and critiqued in the field of race and ethnic studies Contributing authors discuss the ways in which their personal and professional histories and experiences lead them to select and use particular methodologies over the course of their careers They then provide the intellectual histories strengths and weaknesses of these methods as applied to issues of race and ethnicity and discuss the ethical practical and epistemological issues that have influenced and challenged their methodological principles and applications Through these rigorous self examinations this text presents a dynamic example of how scholars engage both research methodologies and issues of social justice and ethics This volume is a successor to Stanfield s landmark Race and Ethnicity in Research Methods

Multicultural Jurisprudence Marie-Claire Foblets, Alison Dundes Renteln, 2009-01-16 As individuals travel across borders societies have become more and more pluralistic The result of increased migration is the interaction among cultural communities and inevitably clashes between state law and customary law These cultural conflicts have given rise to a new multicultural jurisprudence In this volume scholars grapple with the immense challenges judges are currently experiencing everywhere To what extent can and should courts accommodate litigants requests by taking their cultural backgrounds into account This collection brings together powerful examples of the cultural defense in many countries in Western Europe North America and elsewhere It shows the ubiquity of this defense contrary to the mistaken impression that it has been invoked principally in the United States This book makes the case for undertaking studies of the use of the cultural defense in jurisdictions all over the world where this has not been previously documented Many of the chapters concentrate on criminal cases including homicide in the context of honour crimes provocation based on loss of face or witchcraft killings Some deal with other areas of law such as asylum jurisprudence family law and housing policy They show in concrete cases how cultural claims have arisen and how legal systems wrestle with these arguments It is clear that judges have had considerable difficulty handling many of the cultural claims The authors demonstrate persuasively the need to reconsider the proper use of cultural evidence in legal proceedings Those interested in the ways in which expertise influences the disposition of cases will find this book compelling Contemporary Conversations on Immigration in the United States Judith Noemí

Freidenberg, 2016-05-20 Contemporary Conversations on Immigration in the United States The View from Prince George s County Maryland contextualizes the narratives of international migrants arriving to Prince George s County Maryland from 1968 to 2009 The life course trajectories of seventy individuals and their networks organized chronologically to include life in the country of origin the journey and settlement in the county frame migration as social issue rather than social problem Having internalized the American dream immigrants toil to achieve upward social mobility while constructing an immigrant space that nurtures well being This book demonstrates that an immigrant s experience is grounded in personal social economic and political spheres of influence and reflects the complexity of migrants stories to help demystify homogenous categorization Mothering, Mixed Families and Racialised Boundaries Ravinder Barn, Vicki Harman, 2015-09-04 This pioneering volume draws together theoretical and empirical contributions analyzing the experiences of white mothers in interracial families in Britain Canada and the USA The growth of the mixed race population reflects an increasingly racially and culturally heterogeneous society shaped by powerful forces of globalisation and migration Mixed family formations are becoming increasingly common through marriage relationships and adoption and there is also increasing social recognition of interracial families through the inclusion of mixed categories in Census data and other official statistics The changing demographic make up of Britain and other Western countries raises important questions about identity belonging and the changing nature of family life It also connects with theoretical and empirical discussions about the significance of race in contemporary society In exploring mothering across racialised boundaries this volume offers new insights and perspectives The notion of racialisation is invoked to argue that while the notion of race does not exist in any meaningful sense it continues to operate as a social process This crucial resource will appeal to academics researchers policy makers practitioners and undergraduate and postgraduate students This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

Handbook on Lived Experience in the Justice System Christopher P. Dum, Jamie J. Fader, Thomas P. LeBel, Kevin A. Wright, 2025-12-11 This volume offers a diverse set of scholarly essays on the imaginative potential of corrections and sentencing research practice that centers on the lived experience of the criminal legal system The Editors define lived experience broadly encompassing the subjective ways in which corrections and sentencing directly or indirectly affect a person's daily life They employ a diverse and expansive conceptualization of lived experience for example people with lived experience can be directly involved in writing or conducting the research or may be indirectly involved where the submission is about a program that includes people with lived experience in its operations e.g. credible messengers The volume includes 60 chapters written by academics practitioners and lived experts who are currently or formerly system impacted Chapters include short reflection essays on the meaning of lived experience state of the knowledge reviews on topics related to lived experience and more traditional empirical entries that highlight specific dimensions of lived experience This groundbreaking and thought provoking Handbook will appeal to academics practitioners policymakers advocates and students seeking to understand the many ways in which corrections and sentencing directly or indirectly affect a person's daily life This is Volume 10 of The ASC Division on Corrections and Sentencing Handbook Series The handbooks provide in depth coverage of topical issues around sentencing and corrections for scholars students practitioners and policymakers
