detailed information that is obtained from employers on employment in job groups by gender and race ethnicity for identifying the possibility of discriminatory practices The U S Equal Employment Opportunity Commission EEOC the Office of Federal Contract Compliance programs of the U S Department of Labor and the Civil Rights Division of the U S Department employers for further investigation and to perform statistical analysis that is used in enforcing the anti discrimination laws The limited data from employers do not include with a few exceptions the ongoing measurement of possible discrimination in compensation The proposed Paycheck Fairness Act of 2009 would have required EEOC to issue regulations mandating that employers provide the EEOC with information on pay by the race gender and national origin of employees The legislation was not enacted If the legislation had become law the EEOC would have been required to confront issues regarding currently available and potential data sources methodological requirements and appropriate statistical techniques for the measurement and collection of employer pay data The panel concludes that the collection of earnings data would be a significant undertaking for the EEOC and that there might be an increased reporting burden on some employers Currently there is no clearly articulated vision of how the data on wages could be used in the conduct of the enforcement
