The Cambridge Companion to Global Literature and Slavery Laura Murphy, 2022-12-22 The Cambridge Companion to Global Literature and Slavery reveals the way recent scholarship in the field of slavery studies has taken a more expansive turn in terms of both the geographical and the temporal These new studies perform area studies driven analyses of the representation of slavery from national or regional literary traditions that are not always considered by scholars of slavery and explore the diverse range of unfreedoms depicted therein Literary scholars of China Central Asia the Middle East and Africa provide original scholarly arguments about some of the most trenchant themes that arise in the literatures of slavery authentication and legitimation ethnic formation and globalization displacement exile and alienation representation and metaphorization and resistance and liberation This Cambridge Companion to Global Literature and Slavery is designed to highlight the shifting terrain in literary studies of slavery and collectively challenge the reductive notion of what constitutes slavery and its representation Neem K. K. Singh, 2009 The present edited volume Neem A Treatise provides a comprehensive account of this wonder tree Neem Azadirachta indica A Juss An excellent reference text it offers a versatile and in depth discussion of the following the occurrence of neem its distribution ethnobotany uses in agroforestry silviculture and social forestry cultivation and improvement of neem propagation by tissue culture chemical constituents and their bioactivity against micro flora and micro fauna disease stored grain insect pests enhancing fertilizer use efficiency neem in health and cosmetics various therapeutic uses such as malaria and vector control contraceptive ancient veterinary medicines uses of neem bark in dyeing cotton fabrics and steps for promoting neem and its cultivation This book will be very useful for researchers of various disciplines such as botany forestry chemistry toxicology agrochemicals soil science agronomy entomology plant pathology medical and veterinary science as well as to the environmental conscious farmers of developed and developing countries The Law of Geographical Indications Bernard O'Connor, 2004 Over time a product made in a specific place can develop a unique reputation This reputation is often due to special characteristics present in the place its people its climate and its landscape There are thousands of examples In the food and drinks sector there are fruits and vegetables wines cheeses and cured meats Champagne Cheddar Parma ham and Tipperary turnips In manufacturers there are Persian carpets Murano glass Toledo steel and Japanese electronics Should all these reputations be protected by law and if so how This book The Law of Geographical Indications addresses these questions The book examines what names can and cannot be protected in national and international law and the nature of the protection given In the last years there has been a rapid expansion of the protection given to geographical indications The book looks at the specific systems adopted in some countries and the general systems in others Protection is most developed in Europe and specific attention is given to the rules in the European Union and the bilateral agreements the EU has forged with many third countries The book also examines protection in international law from the 1883 Paris Convention on the protection of intellectual property in general to the more recent TRIPs Agreement in the WTO Also examined are the two most controversial legal issues surrounding the protection of geographical indications namely conflicts between trademarks and geographical indications and the generic character of certain names Immunotherapy of Infections K. Noel Masihi, 1994-07-15 Based on the International Symposium on Immunotherapy of Infections held recently at the Robert Koch Institute Berlin Germany this work discusses cytokines as well as synthetic and natural immunomodulators and their applications in the immunotherapy of bacterial viral parasitic and fungal infections The contributors describe innovative treatment concepts that act as adjuncts to established therapies for the control of both existing and newly emerging infectious diseases Urban Forestry and Arboriculture in Malaysia Sreetheran Maruthaveeran, Wendy Y. Chen, Justin Morgenroth, 2022-11-29 This book represents the latest research on urban forestry in a Malaysian context It demonstrates that urban forestry is concerned not only with environmental enhancement but also other aspects such as recreation health and well being and government policies This edited collection provides a comprehensive overview of urban forestry studies from various researchers in Malaysia and includes rich historical perspectives of urban forestry in the country It also tackles related issues in policy The greening of urban Malaysia in the 1970s focused primarily on beautification and was primarily the province of horticulturists landscapers nursery workers town planners and architects with negligible inputs from foresters particularly urban foresters Perhaps for that reason the term landscaping has been used more widely than urban forestry by government and private institutions politicians stakeholders academicians and the public Nevertheless the authors show that the concept of urban forestry is not new for developing countries such as Malaysia where urbanization is increasing at a rapid rate The book unpacks this demographic shift from a predominantly rural to a principally urban society As the only unified body of work on urban forestry and arboricultural studies in Malaysia this volume presents an important interdisciplinary reference for students researchers and scholars in physical geography forestry and urban forestry arboriculture and landscape architecture both in Malaysia and in other developing urbanizing countries particularly in Southeast Asia It is also an important resource for those working in environmental policy and practice excavating the vital connection between the environment and well being

Modern Agriculture and the Environment David Rosen, E. Tel-Or, Y. Hadar, Y. Chen, 2012-12-06 This volume comprises the proceedings of the First International Rehovot Conference on Modern Agriculture and the Environment held at the Rehovot Campus of the Faculty of Agriculture the Hebrew University of Jerusalem Israel 26 October 1994 The conference first in a series intended to be convened in Rehovot at 45 year intervals to address various aspects of the interaction of agriculture and the environment was initiated organised and carried out under the auspices of the Faculty of Agriculture the leading academic institution in agricultural and environmental studies in Israel It featured four keynote addresses 39 invited lectures 40 submitted papers and 62 posters Of these 51 articles written by 122 contributing authors from 14 countries were selected by the editors to be presented in this book All through the twentieth century and especially ever since the advent of the Green Revolution modern agriculture has been striving to feed and clothe the ever increasing multitudes of the human species through improved technology relying heavily on tremendous inputs of fertilisers pesticides and various other agrochemicals Undoubtedly this has been a great blessing to mankind and enormous strides have indeed been made in the never ending struggle against starvation but these have been achieved at a very steep price of increased environmental deterioration In fact modern agriculture has become one of the major factors contributing to the degradation of the world's fragile biosphere
