The bibliographer's manual of English literature, containing an account of rare, curious, and useful books, publ. in or relating to Great Britain and Ireland William Thomas Lowndes, 1865 The Bibliographer's Manual of English Literature Containing an Account of Rare, Curious, and Useful Books, Published in Or Relating to Great Britain and Ireland, from the Invention of Printing William Thomas Lowndes, 1890 The Bibliographer's Manual of English Literature, Containing an Account of Rare, Curious, and Useful Books, Published in Or Relating to Great Britain and Ireland, from the Invention of Printing ... and the Prices at which They Have Been Sold in the Present Century William Thomas Lowndes, 1865 The American Shorthorn Herd Book, 1875 Literature and Medicine in Nineteenth-Century Britain Janis McLarren Caldwell, 2004-11-18. Although we have come to regard clinical and romantic as oppositional terms, romantic literature and clinical medicine were fed by the same cultural configurations. In the pre-Darwinian nineteenth century, writers and doctors developed an interpretive method that negotiated between literary and scientific knowledge of the natural world. Literary writers produced potent myths that juxtaposed the natural and the supernatural, often disturbing the conventional dualist hierarchy of spirit over flesh. Clinicians developed the two-part history and physical examination, weighing the patient's narrative against the evidence of the body. Examining fiction by Mary Shelley, Carlyle, the Brontës, and George Eliot alongside biomedical lectures, textbooks, and articles, Janis McLarren Caldwell demonstrates the similar ways of reading employed by nineteenth-century doctors and imaginative writers and reveals the complexities and creative exchanges of the relationship between literature and medicine. The American Herd Book Lewis Falley Allen, 1875. To which is prefixed a concise history of English and American Short-horns compiled from the best authorities. Making a Difference Gayle Green, Coppélia Kahn, 2020-07-24. Feminist scholarship employs gender as a fundamental organizing category of human experience, holding two related premises: men and women have different perceptions or experiences in the same contexts; the male perspective having been dominant in fields of knowledge and that gender is not a natural fact but a social construct, a subject to study in any humanistic discipline. This challenging collection of essays by prominent feminist literary critics offers a comprehensive introduction to modes of critical practice being used to trace the construction of gender in literature. The collection provides an invaluable overview of current feminist critical thinking. Its essays address a wide range of topics: the relevance of gender scholarship in the social sciences to literary criticism; the tradition of women's literature and its relation to the canon; the politics of language; French theories of the feminine; psychoanalysis and feminism; feminist criticism of writing by lesbians and black women; the relationship between female subjectivity, class, and sexuality; feminist readings of the canon. Feminist Readings in Middle English Literature Dr Ruth Evans, Ruth Evans, Leslie Johnson, 2005-08-04. This volume, designed with the student reader in mind, is an indispensable blend of key essays in the field.

with specially commissioned new material by feminist scholars from the UK and the US It includes a diversity of texts and feminist approaches a substantial and very illuminating introduction by the editors and an annotated list of Further Reading offering preliminary guidance to the reader approaching the topic of gender and medieval literature for the first time Works and writers covered include Chaucer Margery Kempe Christine de Pisan The Katherine group of Saints Lives Langland's Piers Plowman Medieval cycle drama Students of both medieval and feminist literature will find this an essential work for study and reference
