learning experiences in museums and related institutions such as galleries zoos and botanic gardens that can attract and intrigue diverse audiences The original Manual of Museum Learning was published in 2007 The editors have totally rethought this new edition This second edition focuses on the ways museum staffs and the departments for which they work can facilitate the experience in a way that capitalizes on their individual institutional strengths The goal of this new edition is to provide museums with guidance in developing a strategic approach to their learning programs There is a close connection between institution wide strategic planning where an institution decides what course and direction it will take for a five to seven year period and its approach to museum learning One size does not fit all and what each museum is or aspires to be will affect its individual approach Thus there are many routes for museums to take many alternative ways for them to play this role No one museum can be all things to all prospective learners they will be better suited to some approaches than to others This new edition identifies these approaches and enables museums to find the paths for which they are individually best suited to help them identify their own unique approaches to facilitating museum learning Each one s mission and vision its relationships with institutional and public stakeholders local cultural and market factors its individual collection and programmatic strengths its financial position all of these things matter This second edition aims to help each museum find the right approach to learning for its unique situation by showing them the range of museum personalities in terms of their being learning institutions what constitutes each type and what the implications are of choosing one or another approach for a particular museum A major theme of the 2nd edition of The Manual of Museum Learning is museum as connector the ways in which museums are facilitating self directed learning by connecting people with resources Not all will connect audiences with learning vehicles in the same way If museum learning is affective learning then it is the role of the museum to connect its visitors program participants and others who benefit from its knowledge to the learning resources that best suit the institution s strengths and matches them to the learning needs of the museum s audiences By connecting users to the resources they are most interested in or which best suit each individual s particular learning styles museums are at their best when they empower individuals to design their own learning experience in ways that resonate best with each individual

Manual Training Magazine ,1922 Accountability for Killing Neta C. Crawford,2013-09-30 The unintended deaths of civilians in war are too often dismissed as unavoidable inevitable and accidental And despite the best efforts of the U S to avoid them civilian casualties in Afghanistan Iraq and Pakistan have been a regular feature of the United States wars after 9 11 In Accountability for Killing Neta C Crawford focuses on the causes of these many episodes of foreseeable collateral damage and the moral responsibility for them The dominant paradigm of legal and moral responsibility in war today stresses both intention and individual accountability Deliberate killing of civilians is outlawed and international law blames individual soldiers and commanders for such killing An individual soldier may be sentenced life in prison or death for deliberately killing even a small number of civilians but the large scale killing of dozens or even hundreds of civilians may be forgiven if it was unintentional incidental to a military operation The very law that protects noncombatants from deliberate killing may allow many episodes of unintended killing Under international law civilian killing may be forgiven if it was unintended and incidental to a militarily necessary operation Given the nature of contemporary war where military organizations training and the choice of weapons doctrine and tactics create the conditions for systemic collateral damage Crawford contends that placing moral responsibility for systemic collateral damage on individuals is misplaced She develops a new theory of organizational moral agency and responsibility and shows how the US military exercised moral agency and moral responsibility to reduce the incidence of collateral damage in America s most recent wars Indeed when the U S military and its allies saw that the perception of collateral damage killing was causing it to lose support in the war zones it moved to a population centric doctrine putting civilian protection at the heart of its strategy Trenchant original and ranging across security studies international law ethics and international relations Accountability for Killing will reshape our understanding of the ethics of contemporary war , National Trade and Professional Associations of the United States ,2008
