Becoming an Author

by James King

Bill Martin Jr.

Bill Martin Jr. was born in 1926. He grew up in Boston. Reading was not easy for Bill. He had difficulty learning to read and often became discouraged.

When Bill was a young boy, his grandmother told him stories. She listened to her son, Bill, because he was so interesting.

Bill's fifth-grade teacher read books aloud from home each day. While she read, she often asked for Bill's help. Bill learned he could please the teacher by his book.

As a college student, Bill Martin Jr. was excited to receive books from his teacher. Bill was relieved that his teacher did not know he had difficulty reading. The teacher told him that good readers become good writers.

He has asked their reader to write a letter to the editor. The first place Bill will read is the letter to the editor.
