How Canadians Communicate V David Taras, Christopher Waddell, 2016-03-15 Fewer Canadians than ever are lacing up skates swimming lengths at the pool practicing their curve ball and experiencing the thrill of competition However despite a decline in active participation Canadians spend enormous amounts of time and money on sports as fans and followers of sporting events and sports culture Never has media coverage of sports been more exhaustive and never has it been more driven by commercial interests and the need to fuel consumerism on which corporate profits depend But the power plays now occurring in the arena of sports are by no means solely a matter of money At issue as well in the media capture of sports are the values that inform our daily lives the physical and emotional health of the population and the symbols so long central to a sense of Canadian identity Writing from a variety of perspectives the contributors to this collection set out to explore the impact of the media on our reception of and attitudes toward sports to unpack the meanings that sports have for us as citizens and consumers Some contributors probe the function of sports as spectacle the escalation of violence controversies over drug use and the media's coverage of tragic deaths while others shed light on the way in which the media serve to transform sports into a vehicle for the expression of identity and nationalism The goal is not to score points but to prompt critical discussion of why sports matter in Canadian life and culture and how they contribute to the construction of identity

The Layperson's Guide to Exercise, Diet & Supplements Daniel J. Shamy, 2013-04 We instinctively know that exercise eating the right things and taking vitamins sustains our health maintains our youth and offers a sense of wellbeing Traditional fitness publications do a great job telling you what to do but lack any explanation as to the why and how They offer a map to youth by micromanaging your diet exercise and or supplements You blindly follow their lead in expectation of finding your fountain of youth through their training Every body is different which is why one map may work for one person but not another maybe it failed you so you try another What you may not realize is that although they offer step by step instruction to find the fountain they are not teaching you how to read the map Although the map is the same the directions are different for each of us to find the fountain of youth The difference between the layperson and expert is their ability to read the map as a whole that map is our anatomy That cartography lesson is learned by teaching you how exercise diet and supplements work rather than being told what in the same to follow At the end of the lesson you may now understand that your journey may require parts of many methods rather than the single direction of one The author shares his own journey as he teaches you how to read the map so you understand how one has successfully read the map to discover his fountain of youth
