Linguistic Theory and the Romance Languages John Charles Smith, Martin Maiden, 1995-01-01 This volume contains revised versions of papers given at a conference at the Manoir de Brion in Normandy They deal with phonology morphology syntax and semantics and cover a wide range of Romance languages including many lesser known varieties The contributors to the volume are committed to the view that Romance Linguistics is not narrowly philological but is rather General Linguistics practised with reference to particular data The point has been made many times but is worth reiterating that Latin and the Romance languages offer an unrivalled wealth of synchronic and historical documentation and provide both a stimulus and a test bed for ideas about language structure language change and language variation Many of the papers in this volume can be interpreted simultaneously as using the analytical tools of linguistic theory to illuminate the structure of individual Romance languages or of the family as a whole and as using Romance data to throw light on general problems in linguistic theory or on the structure of languages beyond Romance Specific areas covered include prosodic domains
