The Year's Best Science Fiction: Seventeenth Annual Collection Gardner Dozois, 2000-08-12 In science fiction's early days stories often looked past 1984 to the year 2000 as the far unknowable future. Here now on the brink of the twenty-first century the future remains as distant and as unknowable as ever and science fiction stories continue to explore it with delightful results. Collected in this anthology are such imaginative gems as The Wedding Album by David Marusek. In a high-tech future the line between reality and simulation has grown thin and it's often hard to tell who's on what side. Everywhere by Geoff Ryman. Do the people who live in utopian conditions ever recognize them as such? Hatching the Phoenix by Frederik Pohl. One of science fiction's Grand Masters returns with a star-crossing tale of the Heechee, the enigmatic vanished aliens whose discarded technology guides mankind through the future. A Hero of the Empire by Robert Silverberg. Showing that the past is as much a province of the imagination as the future, this novelette returns to an alternate history when the Roman Empire never fell to show us just how the course of history can be altered. The twenty-seven stories in this collection imaginatively take us to nearby planets and distant futures into the past and into universes no larger than a grain of sand. Included here are the works of masters of the form and of bright new talents. Supplementing the stories are the editor's insightful summation of the year's events and a lengthy list of honorable mentions, making this book a valuable resource in addition to serving as the single best place in the universe to find stories that stir the imagination and the heart. Hindi

Film Songs and the Cinema Anna Morcom, 2017-07-05 Since their beginnings in the 1930s, Hindi films and film songs have dominated Indian public culture in India and have also made their presence felt strongly in many global contexts. Hindi film songs have been described on the one hand as highly standardized and on the other as highly eclectic. Anna Morcom addresses many of the paradoxes, eccentricities and myths of not just Hindi film songs but also of Hindi cinema by analysing film songs in cinematic context. While the presence of songs in Hindi films is commonly dismissed as purely commercial, this book demonstrates that in terms of the production process, musical style and commercial life, it is most powerfully the parent film that shapes and defines the film songs and their success, rather than the other way round. While they constitute India's still foremost genre of popular music, film songs are also situational, dramatic sequences inherently multi-media in style and conception. This book is uniquely grounded in detailed musical and visual analysis of Hindi film songs, song sequences and films, as well as a wealth of ethnographic material from the Hindi film and music industries. Its findings lead to highly novel ways of viewing Hindi film songs, their key role in Hindi cinema and how this affects their wider life in India and across the globe. It will be indispensable to scholars seeking to understand both Hindi film songs and Hindi cinema. It also forms a major contribution to popular music, popular culture, film music studies and ethnomusicology, tackling pertinent issues of cultural production, multi-media and the cross-cultural use of music in Hindi cinema. The book caters for both music specialists as well as a wider audience. The Year's Best Science Fiction: Eighteenth Annual Collection Gardner Dozois, 2001-08-18 The twenty three stories in this collection imaginatively take us far across the universe into the very core of our being to the realm of the gods and the moment just after now Included here are the works of masters of the form and of bright new talents including Stephen Baxter M Shayne Bell Rick Cook Albert E Cowdrey Tananarive Due Greg Egan Eliot Fintushel Peter F Hamilton Earnest Hogan John Kessel Nancy Kress Ursula K Le Guin Paul J McAuley Ian McDonald Susan Palwick Severna Park Alastair Reynolds Lucius Shepard Brian Stableford Charles Stross Michael Swanwick Steven Utley Robert Charles Wilson Supplementing the stories is the editor s insightful summation of the year s events and lengthy list of honorable mentions making this book a valuable resource in addition to serving as the single best place in the universe to find stories that stir the imagination and the heart
