Digital Scholarship 2009 Charles W Bailey Jr, Charles Wesley Bailey, 2010 Digital Scholarship 2009 includes four bibliographies the Scholarly Electronic Publishing Bibliography 2009 Annual Edition the Institutional Repository Bibliography the Electronic Theses and Dissertations Bibliography and the Google Book Search Bibliography The longest bibliography the Scholarly Electronic Publishing Bibliography 2009 Annual Edition presents selected English language articles books and other printed and electronic sources that are useful in understanding scholarly electronic publishing efforts on the Internet Most sources have been published between 1990 and 2009 however a limited number of key sources published prior to 1990 are also included Peter Jacso said in ONLINE vol 27 no 3 2003 pp 73 76 SEP Scholarly Electronic Publishing Bibliography is compiled with utter professionalism It reminds me of the work of the best artisans who know not only every item that leaves their workshops but each component used to create them providing the ideal quality control The selection of items is impeccable I have yet to find journal articles irrelevant to the scope of the bibliography SEP could be used as a benchmark in evaluating abstracting indexing databases that proudly claim to have coverage of electronic publishing but do not come close to SEP

Higher Education at Risk Sandra Featherman, 2023-07-03 Sandra Featherman believes that colleges are in denial about the severity of the threats to the current model of higher education Based on her own experience as a president as a trustee and as a board member who has worked in private and public universities and on interviews with the presidents of major institutions she offers both a trenchant analysis of those threats and clear prescriptions about the painful but necessary decisions that colleges need to make to ensure they remain viable accessible and affordable and deliver a high quality education Sandra Featherman considers higher education to be at a game changing moment When markets don't function well as is the case with today's college marketplace with offerings that cost too much and return too little it opens the door to new types of suppliers who offer new ways of providing what students are looking for particularly the increasing cohort of mature working students In the face of new competitors for profit education companies technology start ups and foreign universities vying for international students trustees and senior level administrators are generally stuck in a traditional ethos and with decision making processes unsuited to these times They know what used to work and find it easier to follow old ways than to make the difficult transition to new ways of delivering education She lays out a strategy that emphasizes the centrality of students and how to provide them with the most effective learning environment that is clear eyed about focusing on the core missions and abandoning practices that constrain or impede them and that requires constant self monitoring to learn from and act upon what works She offers a blueprint for redesigning institutions for paring away what is unnecessary and cost ineffective and for adopting the best technologies all in the service of developing meaningful degree programs at an affordable price and widening access for under represented groups She ranges over the implications of budget decisions accreditation and MOOCs addresses government regulation and tuition costs presents promising new models and concludes with 11 key recommendations that should be heeded by all higher education administrators and trustees Postgraduate UK study and funding guide, 2008 Features information on studying at Postgraduate level in the UK what is involved what opportunities there are lists details 75 million of funding available to Postgraduate students
