bungen und Gymnastikexperimenten im 20. Jahrhundert Aus dem Nachlass einer nahezu unbekannten Emigrantin entsteht eine fesselnde Familien- und Kulturgeschichte Wer sie liest wird selbst beginnen ganz bewusst Luft zu holen Das sagt Carola Spitz Speads macht glücklich Historicity in Organization Studies François-Xavier de Vaujany, Kätlin Pulk, Pierre Labardin, 2025-07-28 As soon as we go beyond the borders of our present and begin to explore remote pasts and futures management and organization scholars are exposed to two dangers The first is the exaggeration of continuities and anachronism about the past The second is the projection of present ordinariness into the future So how can we describe long term processes of entrepreneurship accounting marketing finance information systems or innovation This edited volume gathers a team of leading interdisciplinary scholars inspired by process philosophy phenomenologies and critical schools After presenting issues debates and perspectives likely to inspire and guide historical description several examples of historical work in entrepreneurship accounting and organization studies are used to show situations in which researchers have had to tackle this resonance between ontology and methodology in their historiography It will be of great interest to scholars and students of management and organization studies Subjectivity and Neonihilism Patric Plesa, 2025-06-12 Subjectivity and Neonihilism examines the current Western sociopolitical climate revealing how it shapes who we are how we think of ourselves and how we create meaning in a seemingly meaningless world Drawing on critical theory this book looks at some of the social inequities produced under neoliberal capitalism and the ways these problems are internalized into subjectivity as the neoliberal self Neoliberal cultural values are shown to reframe social inequities as personal problems and simultaneously create a sense of personal responsibility for solving them within the self rather than addressing them externally The author argues that current crises in meaning making and mental health have been exacerbated by the neoliberal values of individualization responsabilization self governance and competition Divided into 3 parts this book begins by outlining the emergence of subjectivity and technologies of the self It demonstrates how the sociopolitical conditions that amplify social inequities intertwine with the hyperawareness of the internet age to create an atmosphere of meaninglessness that is pervasive on social media and in internet culture In part 2 the author further analyses this phenomenon here labelled neonihilism as the process in which we confront meaninglessness through irony questioning whether this might hold the intrinsic condition for overcoming this new nihilism Part 3 examines the possibility for collective meaning making solidarity and collective action afforded by creating an art of nihilating the neoliberal self or what the author terms the ars nihil via subversion and resistance This book offers fresh insights that will be of interest to students and scholars of critical theory psychology philosophy and sociology Gender, Race, and Class in Media Gail Dines, Jean McMahon Humez, 2011 51 contemporary articles are new to this edition with 14 classic pieces retained from prior editions Medicalizing Counselling Tom Strong, 2017-09-18 This book discusses how counselling a profession known for diverse and innovative practices has recently been influenced by scientific marketplace and administrative developments corresponding with a medicalized focus on psychiatric diagnoses and related evidence based treatments Tensions associated with this medicalized focus refer to competing logics and accountabilities regarding how to understand and address concerns brought to counselling Tom Strong reviews such tensions as they relate to counsellors approaches to practice experienced as incompatible with a medicalized approach The role of media and technology therapy culture and counsellor education are examined with respect to medicalizing tensions that professionals and clients of counselling increasingly face The book will interest readers who share concerns regarding the potential for a mental health monoculture grounded in the diagnose and treatment logic of medicalized counselling

The Mourner's Dance Katherine Ashenburg,2004-09-01 When her daughter's fiancé died suddenly Katherine Ashenburg was surprised to see how her daughter intuitively re-created the traditional rituals of mourning even those of which she was ignorant Intrigued Ashenburg began to explore the rich and endlessly inventive choreographies different cultures and times have devised to mark a universal and deeply felt plight Contemporary North American culture favors a mourning that is private and virtually invisible But as Ashenburg reveals the grieving customs of the past were so integrated into daily life that ultimately they gave rise to public parks and ready to wear clothing Our keepsakes prescribed bereavement garb resting places mourning etiquette and ways of commiserating from wakes to Internet support groups remain clues to our most elemental beliefs and our most effective means of restoring selves and communities unraveled by loss

Invested Paul Crosthwaite, Peter Knight, Nicky Marsh, Helen Paul, 2022-12-21 Invested examines the perennial and nefarious appeal of financial advice manuals Who hasn't wished for a surefire formula for riches and a ticket to the good life For three centuries investment advisers of all kinds legit and otherwise have guaranteed that they alone can illuminate the golden pathway to prosperity despite strong evidence to the contrary In fact too often they are singing a siren song of devastation And yet we keep listening Invested tells the story of how the genre of investment advice developed and grew in the United Kingdom and the United States from its origins in the eighteenth century through today as it saturates our world The authors analyze centuries of books TV shows blogs and more all promising techniques for amateur investors to master the ways of the market from Thomas Mortimer's pathbreaking 1761 work Every Man His Own Broker through the Gilded Age explosion of sensationalist investment manuals the early twentieth century emergence of a vernacular financial science and the more recent convergence of self help and personal finance Invested asks why in the absence of evidence that such advice reliably works guides to the stock market have remained perennially popular The authors argue that the appeal of popular investment advice lies in its promise to level the playing field giving outsiders the privileged information of insiders As Invested persuasively shows the fantasies sold by these writings are damaging and deceptive peddling unrealistic visions of easy profits and the certainty of success while trying to hide the fact that there is no formula for avoiding life's economic uncertainties and calamities
