Ordinary Families Extraordinary Lives Assets And Poverty Reduction In Guayaquil 1978 2004:

Ordinary Families, Extraordinary Lives Caroline O.N. Moser, 2010-04-01 Fifty years after Oscar Lewis's famous depiction of five Mexican families caught in a culture of poverty Caroline Moser tells a very different story of five neighborhood women and their families strategically accumulating assets to escape poverty in the Ecuadorian city of Guayaquil In Ordinary Families Extraordinary Lives Moser shows how a more sophisticated understanding of the complexities of asset accumulation as well as poverty itself can help counter inaccurate stereotypes about global poverty It provides invaluable insight into strategies that may help people in developing countries improve their wellbeing The similar socioeconomic characteristics and economic circumstances of the Guayaquil families in 1978 when Moser began her research set the stage for a natural experiment By 2004 these circumstances varied widely Moser captures the causes and consequences of these developments through economic data anthropological narrative and personal photos She then places this compelling story within the broader context of political economic and spatial changes in Guayaquil and Ecuador Moser describes how households in a Third World urban slum relentlessly and systematically fought to accumulate human social and financial capital assets Her longitudinal account of their odyssey captures long term trends and changes in perception that are missed in snapshot assessments Chapters in this holistic story cover diverse issues such as housing and infrastructure community mobilization and political negotiation employment family dynamics violence and emigration

Untamed Urbanisms Adriana Allen, Andrea Lampis, Mark Swilling, 2015-07-30 An electronic version of this book is available Open Access at www.tandfebooks.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 3.0 license One of the major challenges of urban development has been reconciling the way cities develop with the mounting evidence of resource depletion and the negative environmental impacts of predominantly urban based modes of production and consumption This book aims to re politicise the relationship between urban development sustainability and justice and to explore the tensions emerging under real circumstances as well as their potential for transformative change For some cities are the root of all that is unsustainable while for others cities provide unique opportunities for sustainability oriented innovations that address equity and ecological challenges This book is rooted in the latter category but recognises that if cities continue to evolve along current trajectories they will be where the large bulk of the most unsustainable and inequitable human activities are concentrated By drawing on a range of case studies from both the global South and global North this book is unique in its aim to develop an integrated social ecological perspective on the challenge of sustainable urban development Through the interdisciplinary and original research of a new generation of urban researchers across the global South and North this book addresses old debates in new ways and raises new questions about sustainable urban development

Gender, Asset Accumulation and Just Cities Caroline O.N. Moser, 2015-10-05 With more than half the world's population now living in urban areas urbanisation is undoubtedly one of the most important phenomena of the 21st century However despite increasing recognition of the critical relationship between economic and social development in cities gender issues are often overlooked in understanding the complexities of current urbanisation processes This book seeks to rectify this neglect Gender Asset Accumulation and Just Cities explores the contribution that a focus on the gendered nature of asset accumulation brings to the goal of achieving just more equitable cities To date neither the academic debates nor the formulated policy and practice on just cities has included a focus on gender based inequalities discriminations or opportunities From a gender perspective a separate discourse exists closely associated with gender justice particularly in relation to urban rights and democracy Neither however has addressed the implications for women s accumulation of assets and associated empowerment for transformational pathways to just cities In this book contributors specifically focus on gender and just cities from a wide range of gendered perspectives that include households housing land gender based violence transport climate and disasters The Horizontal Metropolis Between Urbanism and Urbanization Paola Viganò, Chiara Cavalieri, Martina Barcelloni Corte, 2018-05-04 This book provides an overview of the Horizontal Metropolis concept and of the theoretical methodological and political implications for the interdisciplinary field in which it operates The book investigates the contemporary emergence of a new type of extended urbanity across regions territories and continents up to the global scale Further it explores the diffusion of contemporary urban conditions in an interdisciplinary and original manner by analyzing essential case studies Offering extensive content on the Horizontal Metropolis concept the book presents a range of approaches intended to transcend various inherited spatial ontologies urban rural town country city non city and society nature The book is intended for all readers interested in the emergence and development of new approaches in cultural theory urban and design education landscape urbanism and geography The City in Urban Poverty C. Lemanski, C. Marx, 2015-05-12 The contributors respond to the absence of critical debate surrounding the ways in which spaces of the city do not merely contain but also constitute urban poverty The volume explores how the spaces of the city actively produce and reproduce urban poverty Latin American Urban Development into the Twenty First Century D. Rodgers, J. Beall, R. Kanbur, 2012-10-10 By the dawn of the 21st century more than half of the world s population was living in urban areas This volume explores the implications of this unprecedented expansion in the world s most urbanized region Latin America exploring the new urban reality and the consequences for both Latin America and the rest of the developing world Betrayed S. Kaplan, 2013-11-26 Betrayed takes a new approach to the subject of global poverty one that doesn t blame the West but also doesn t rely on the West for solutions Betrayed puts the poor themselves at center stage and shows how their entrepreneurial energies are shackled by political and social discrimination When these shackles are removed as is happening in places such as China and Vietnam the poor are able to seize opportunities and drive wealth creation Combining the latest research into poverty and state building with the author s personal observations drawn from years running businesses in the developing world Betrayed explains how leaders in the developing world can build more inclusive societies and more equitable governments thereby creating dynamic national economies and giving the poor the opportunity to accumulate the means and skills to control their own destinies This refreshing new approach will appeal to business people who are fed up with reading critiques of global poverty that see capitalism as the problem not the solution people in both the global North and South who want to see attention focused not on Western aid but on what developing countries and their citizens can do to help themselves scholars and practitioners in the development field who are looking for new practicable ideas and general readers who want accessible and engaging accounts of ordinary people struggling to overcome poverty

Housing and Belonging in Latin America Christien Klaufus, Arij Ouweneel, 2015-05-01 The intricacies of living in contemporary Latin American cities include cases of both empowerment and restriction In Lima residents built their own homes and formed community organizations while in Rio de Janeiro inhabitants of the favelas needed to be pacified in anticipation of international sporting events Aspirations to get ahead in life abound in the region but so do multiple limitations to realizing the dream of upward mobility This volume captures the paradoxical histories and experiences of urban life in Latin America offering new empirical and theoretical insights to scholars

Researching the contemporary city Peter Kellett, Jaime Hernández García, 2013-11-12 The city is perhaps the most complex of all human constructs In the 21st century when cities are bigger than ever and the majority of the world's population now live in urban areas the need for research into this complexity to address the large scale challenges of urban life has never been greater This collection of research studies from different parts of the world brings together case studies underpinned by theory to contribute to the urgent search to make our cities more just more livable more accessible more participatory and more democratic in short more humane places to live and work These crosscutting themes of social inclusion spatial integration and poverty alleviation are the ever present motifs and motivations throughout this volume The eleven chapters are grouped into four interrelated sections the creation and representation of the urban the production and transformation of the informal the construction and appropriation of public spaces and finally the transformation use and meaning of home Collectively the essays engage with the city at a range of scales but underpinning all of them is a concern for the everyday realities of ordinary people's lives These detailed and finegrain analyses of complex processes are a modest contribution towards the creation of cities which are not simply more economically viable and environmentally sustainable but also embody the ideals of social justice

The Spacemaker's Guide to Big Change Nabeel Hamdi, 2014-06-05 This book gives definition to participatory practice as a necessary form of activism in development planning for cities It gives guidance on how practice can make space for big and lasting change and for new opportunities to be discovered It points to ways of building synergy and negotiating our way in the social and political spaces in between conventional and often competing ideals public and private interests top down and bottom up formal and informal the global agendas which outsiders promote and the local needs of insiders for example It offers guidance on process designed to close

gaps and converge worlds which we know have become divisive and discriminatory working from the detail of everyday life in search of beginnings that count building out and making meaningful locally the abstractions of the global causes we champion poverty alleviation environmental sustainability resilience Practice the collective process by which decisions are negotiated plans designed and actions taken in response to needs and aspirations locally and globally we will see is not just about being practical but more Its purpose is to give structure to our understanding of the order and disorder in our cities today then to disturb that order when it has become inefficient or inequitable even change it It is to add moral value to morally questionable planning practice and so build a social economy for the satisfaction of human need Practice in these spaces in between redraws the boundaries of expectation of disciplinary work and offers a new high ground of moral purpose from which to be more creative more integrated more relevant more resourceful more strategic Latin America at 200 Phillip Berryman,2016-04-26 Between 2010 and 2025 most of the countries of Latin America will commemorate two centuries of independence and Latin Americans have much to celebrate at this milestone Most countries have enjoyed periods of sustained growth while inequality is showing modest declines and the middle class is expanding Dictatorships have been left behind and all major political actors seem to have accepted the democratic process and the rule of law Latin Americans have entered the digital world routinely using the Internet and social media These new realities in Latin America call for a new introduction to its history and culture which Latin America at 200 amply provides Taking a reader friendly approach that focuses on the big picture and uses concrete examples Phillip Berryman highlights what Latin Americans are doing to overcome extreme poverty and underdevelopment He starts with issues facing cities then considers agriculture and farming business the environment inequality and class race and ethnicity gender and religion His survey of Latin American history leads into current issues in economics politics and governance and globalization Berryman also acknowledges the ongoing challenges facing Latin Americans especially crime and corruption and the efforts being made to combat them Based on decades of experience research and travel as well as recent studies from the World Bank and other agencies Latin America at 200 will be essential both as a classroom text and as an introduction for general readers Urban Poverty and Climate Change Manoj Roy,Sally Cawood,Michaela Hordijk,David Hulme,2016-04-20 This book deepens the understanding of the broader processes that shape and mediate the responses to climate change of poor urban households and communities in Asia Africa and Latin America Representing an important contribution to the evolution of more effective pro poor climate change policies in urban areas by local governments national governments and international organisations this book is invaluable reading to students and scholars of environment and development studies Climate Change, Assets and Food Security in Southern African Cities Bruce Frayne,Caroline Moser,Gina Ziervogel,2013-03-01 There is overwhelming evidence that the climate is changing It is the poorest countries and people who are the most vulnerable to this threat and who will suffer the most This book shows how increasing urbanization and growing poverty levels mean that it is imperative to ask how climate change might impact on asset accumulation and food security for the urban poor It demonstrates how these three often separate foci can be brought together to frame a holistic urban adaptation approach Furthermore although much has been written about climate change limited evidence exists in southern Africa of how climate change has been integrated in urban planning The authors explore the urban climate change nexus linking asset adaptation climate change science and food security through several case study cities These include Cape Town George and Khara Hais South Africa Lusaka Zambia Maputo Mozambique Mombasa Kenya and Harare Zimbabwe The results shed light on how this nexus might be explored from different perspectives both theoretical and practical in order to plan for a more resilient future Climate Change Assets and Food Security in Southern African Cities comprises ten chapters which focus on southern African cities with each chapter written by highly experienced academics research focused practitioners and professional planners Although the book concentrates on southern African cities the insights which are presented can be used to understand other urban centres in low and middle income countries outside of this region and around the world

Land, Investment, and Migration Camilla Toulmin, 2020-01-09 How do people survive and thrive in the uncertain and risk prone Sahel Land Investment and Migration seeks to answer this question through a long term study of the people of Dlongu bougou in Central Mali It uses a combination of infographics satellite images interviews and survey data to present the strategies and fortunes of individuals and their families in this region over 35 years In the early 1980s Camilla Toulmin spent two years in Dlongu bougou She has since revisited to explore how climate change population growth new technologies and land grabs have been affecting the livelihoods and prospects of local people since Land Investment and Migration Thirty five Years of Village Life in Mali brings together her findings A trebling in population unpredictable rainfall and the arrival of Chinese investment have forced people into new ways of making ends meet and building up wealth some doing much better than others This book presents the search for new cash incomes the shift of people from village to town and the erosion of collective solidarity at household and village levels Land Investment and Migration presents a mixed picture of a changing society It shows the vibrancy of the village economy rapid uptake of mobile phones and solar panels and increased migration It also shows the persistence of large family structures which offer some protection from the risks that many villagers face

Family Futures Anne Power, Helen Willmot, Rosemary Davidson, 2011-07-06 Based on a unique longitudinal study this timely book examines the initiatives introduced to help families and the impacts on them their future prospects and the implications for policy

The Routledge Handbook on Cities of the Global South Susan Parnell, Sophie Oldfield, 2014-03-26 The renaissance in urban theory draws directly from a fresh focus on the neglected realities of cities beyond the west and embraces the global south as the epicentre of urbanism This Handbook engages the complex ways in which cities of the global south and the global north are rapidly shifting the imperative for multiple genealogies of knowledge production as well as a diversity of empirical entry points to understand contemporary urban dynamics The Handbook works towards a geographical realignment in urban studies bringing into conversation a wide array of cities across the global south the ordinary mega global and peripheral With interdisciplinary contributions from a range of leading international experts it profiles an emergent and geographically diverse body of work The contributions draw on conflicting and divergent debates to open up discussion on the meaning of the city in or of the global south arguments that are fluid and increasingly contested geographically and conceptually It reflects on critical urbanism the macro and micro scale forces that shape cities including ideological demographic and technological shifts and constantly changing global and regional economic dynamics Working with southern reference points the chapters present themes in urban politics identity and environment in ways that re frame our thinking about cities The Handbook engages the twenty first century city through a southern urban lens to stimulate scholarly professional and activist engagements with the city

On Norms and Agency Ana María Muñoz Boudet, Patti Petesch, Carolyn Turk, 2013-04-25 Based on focus groups and interviews with nearly 4 000 women men girls and boys from 20 countries this book explores areas that are less often studied in gender and development gender norms and agency It reveals how little gender norms have changed how similar they are across countries and how they are being challenged and contested

The Oxford Handbook of the Modern Slum Alan Mayne, 2023 The Oxford Handbook of the Modern Slum explores the history of the modern slum connecting nineteenth century iterations through multiple pathways to its contemporary existence With chapters by 28 scholars this handbook brings an array of important and original perspectives and methodologies to bear on slums real and imagined across the globe Drawing upon anthropology archaeology architecture geography history politics sociology and urban planning the book delves into households and communities whose existence has been hidden by stereotypes

Indigenous Rights to the City Philipp Horn, 2019-01-30 This book breaks new ground in understanding urban indigeneity in policy and planning practice It is the first comprehensive and comparative study that foregrounds the complex interplay of multiple organisations involved in translating indigenous rights to the city in Latin America focussing on the cities of La Paz and Quito The book establishes how planning for urban indigeneity looks in practice even in seemingly progressive settings such as Bolivia and Ecuador where indigenous rights to the city are recognised within constitutions It demonstrates that the translation of indigenous rights to the city is a process involving different actor groups operating within state institutions and indigenous communities which often hold conflicting interests and needs The book also establishes a set of theoretical methodological and practical foundations for envisaging how urban indigenous planning in Latin America and elsewhere should be understood studied and undertaken As a process which embraces conflict and challenges power relations within indigenous communities and between these communities and the state This book will appeal to practitioners researchers and students working within the fields of urban planning urban development and indigenous rights

Life and Death in Latin American Cities Christien Klaufus, 2025-10-21 The infrastructure of death is an undeniable part of urban life yet it is often overlooked in the study of cities This book explores the intricate dynamics between the living and the dead in six Latin American cities Bogotá Medellín Lima Buenos Aires Quetzaltenango and Cuenca Drawing on more than a decade of ethnographic research the author investigates how urban death infrastructures such as cemeteries and spaces for the deceased are shaped by rapid urbanization legacies of violence neoliberal policies and alternative spiritual practices With a fresh Global South perspective this unique contribution will challenge the boundaries of death studies placing the infrastructure of death at the heart of urban life
