The Mislabeled Child Brock Eide, Fernet Eide, 2006-08-01 An incredibly reassuring approach by two physicians who specialize in helping children overcome their difficulties in learning and succeeding in school For parents teachers and other professionals seeking practical guidance about ways to help children with learning problems this book provides a comprehensive look at learning differences ranging from dyslexia to dysgraphia to attention problems to giftedness In The Mislabeled Child the authors describe how a proper understanding of a child s unique brain based strengths can be used to overcome many different obstacles to learning They show how children are often mislabeled with diagnoses that are too broad ADHD for instance or are simply inaccurate They also explain why medications are often not the best ways to help children who are struggling to learn The authors guide readers through the morass of commonly used labels and treatments offering specific suggestions that can be used to help children at school and at home This book offers extremely empowering information for parents and professionals alike The Mislabeled Child examines a full spectrum of learning disorders from dyslexia to giftedness clarifying the diagnoses and providing resources to help The Eides explain how a learning disability encompasses more than a behavioral problem it is also a brain dysfunction that should be treated differently Focusing on EFL Reading Rahma Al-Mahrooqi, Adrian Roscoe, 2014-06-02 Reading a complex and multi faceted skill is essential for life and academic success While its mysteries still baffle first language research the nature of reading in a foreign language presents an even greater puzzle However given reading s importance for EFL students who study their specializations in English and whose future employment may depend on their competence in it researchers must continue to investigate foreign language reading and devise ways of improving students capacity for it Hence this book with its thorough coverage of up to date theory practice and research will be of great value in today s educational context As they strive to understand reading and help EFL students to acquire it researchers and language teachers will find much of value here

Spelling Diane Montgomery, 1997-03-20 Designed for teachers wanting to know what to do to help pupils with spelling difficulties this book combines practical advice with theory research and accounts of the author s own experience The author looks at how spelling skills develop in both young children and older pupils What Works Now? Boaz, Annette, Davies, Huw, 2019-03-27 Building substantially on the earlier landmark text What Works Policy Press 2000 this book brings together key thinkers and researchers to provide a contemporary review of the aspirations and realities of evidence informed policy and practice The text is clearly structured and provides sector by sector analysis of evidence use in policy making and service delivery It considers some cross cutting themes including a section of international commentaries and concludes by looking at lessons from the past and prospects for the future This book will be of interest to a wide range of social science researchers students and practitioners as well as those interested in supporting more evidence informed policy and practice

Resources in Education , 2000 Support and aspiration Great Britain: Department for Education, 2011-03-09 This report unveils proposals for the biggest programme of reform in the education and health support for children with special educational needs SEN and disabilities in 30 years The Government wants to fundamentally reform the SEN system to address problems including parents having to battle to get the support their child needs SEN statements not joining up education health and care support children falling between the gaps in services or having to undergo multiple assessments multiple layers of paperwork and bureaucracy adding delays to getting support therapy and vital equipment confusing and adversarial assessment process with the perceived conflict of interest where the local authority must provide SEN support as well as assess children's needs too many children are being over identified as SEN preventing them from achieving their potential because teachers have lower expectations of them The Government proposes to include parents in the assessment process and introduce a legal right by 2014 to give them control of funding for the support their child needs replace statements with a single assessment process and a combined education health and care plan so that health and social services is included in the package of support ensure assessment and plans run from birth to 25 years old replace the existing complicated School Action and School Action Plus system with a simpler new school based category to help teachers focus on raising attainment overhaul teacher training and professional development inject greater independence from local authorities in assessments give parents a greater choice of school and the power to set up special free schools

Learning to Read in a New Language Eve Gregory, 2008-03-03 This book is a helpful edition to a field where there is a limited amount of good literature to support teachers dealing with second language acquisition in the classroom ESCalate Gregory's book is an important and timely contribution to the literature on literacy biliteracy second language learning and early childhood education synthesizing cutting edge research perspectives and teaching approaches in a clear and accessible way Overall it is a terrific resource Dinah Volk Across the world an increasing number of young children are learning to read in languages different from their mother tongue and there is a clear need for a book which addresses the ways in which these children should be taught Eve Gregory's book is unique in doing so Building upon the ideas proposed in Making Sense of a New World this second edition widens its scope arguing for the limitations of policies designed for monolingual minds in favour of methodologies which put plurilingualism at the centre of literacy tuition This book offers a practical reading programme an Inside Out starting from experience and Outside In starting from literature approach to teaching which can be used with individuals small groups and whole classes It uses current sociocultural theory while drawing on examples of children from America Australia Britain China France Singapore South Africa and Thailand who are engaged in learning to read nursery rhymes and songs storybooks letters the Bible and the Qur'an as well as school texts in languages they do not speak fluently Gregory argues that in order for literacy tuition to be successful reading must make sense children must feel part of a community of readers There is no common method which they use to learn but rather a shared aim to which they aspire making sense of a new world through new words Eve Gregory is Professor of Language and Culture in Education at Goldsmiths University of London
