Orchard Beach The Bronx Riviera:

Orchard Beach Wayne Lawrence, 2013 This collection of engaging and beautiful portraits by Wayne Lawrence celebrates the diversity and community of one of New York City's most popular beaches Orchard Beach might not be the most elegant place to sunbathe but if you live in the Bronx it's the closest place to swim relax on the sand and escape the city's oppressive summer heat Drawn to the public beach for its less than glamorous reputation photographer Wayne Lawrence felt a connection to the community as soon as he began snapping pictures His glamorous portraits of proud men and women loving couples and families at play challenge stereotypes associated with working class people by focusing on universal themes such as the ties that bind and cultural pride Whether Anglo African American or Latino statuesque or stout young or old each individual is treated with dignity and sensitivity Lawrence's subjects are a community standing in defiance of popular opinion proud to call Orchard Beach their own

Drowning by Accident Elizabeth Meinhard, 2022-02-15 Drowning By Accident explains why it is so easy to drown where accidents happen and how to save lives by early rescue and resuscitation More than 600 people die by drowning in Britain every year Swimming is promoted as a particularly safe form of exercise so that swimmers forget or ignore the dangers of frigid lakes swollen rivers incoming tides or outgoing rip currents Drowning accidents take place because we don't recognise water as a hostile environment We overestimate the strength and endurance of our bodies and underestimate the power and deceptiveness of water Year after year victims lose their lives in typical drowning accidents often sinking so quickly and silently that nearby family friends and onlookers fail to notice the tragedy taking place close beside them Babies drown in baths Toddlers drown in garden ponds School children fall off rafts Teenagers strike too far from the shore Pensioners wade into rivers to save their dogs Victims often die within minutes of sinking beneath the surface A quarter of those who reach hospital alive will also die while others survive with severe permanent brain damage This means that it is vitally important for parents grandparents teachers lifeguards and lawmakers to recognise the risks and prevent drowning accidents before they take place
