With the 41st Division in the Southwest Pacific Francis B. Catanzaro,2002-10-24 We began our advance toward the Mokmer Airstrip The road climbed a ridge 15 or 20 feet high and we found ourselves on a flat coral plateau sparsely covered by small trees and scrub growth As we moved westward along the road two of our destroyers were sailing abreast of the lead elements of the advancing column The first indication of trouble was the roar of heavy artillery shells sailing over our heads aimed at our destroyers Shortly after that our forward movement stopped and we heard heavy firing from the head of the column As we waited we began to hear heavy fire from the rear We were cut off and surrounded In the enormous literature of the Second World War there are surprisingly few accounts of fighting in the southwest Pacific fewer still by common infantrymen This memoir written with a simple and direct honesty that is rare indeed follows a foot soldier s career from basic training to mustering out It takes the reader into the jungles and caves of New Guinea and the Philippines during the long campaign to win the war against Japan From basic training at Camp Roberts through combat occupation and the long journey home Francis Catanzaro s account tells of the excitement misery cruelty and terror of combat and of the uneasy boredom of jungle camp life A member of the famed 41st Infantry Brigade the Jungleers Catanzaro saw combat at Hollandia Biak Zamboanga and Mindanao He was a part of the Japanese occupation force and writes with feeling about living among his former enemies and of the decision to drop the atom bomb With the 41st Division in the Southwest Pacific is a powerful gritty and moving narrative of the life of a soldier during some of the most difficult fighting of World War II
