Hysteria: The Rise of an Enigma J., Bogousslavsky, 2014-06-27

Hysteria is probably the condition which best illustrates the tight connection between neurology and psychiatry. While it has been known since antiquity, its renewed studies during the 19th century were mainly due to the work of Jean Martin Charcot and his school in Paris. This publication focuses on these early developments in which immediate followers of Charcot, including Babinski, Freud, Janet, Richer, and Gilles de la Tourette, were involved. Hysteria is commonly considered as a condition that often leads to spectacular manifestations, e.g., convulsions, palsy, although both structural and functional imaging data confirm the absence of consistent and reproducible structural lesions. While numerous hypotheses have tried to explain the occurrence of this striking phenomenon, the precise nosology and pathophysiology of hysteria remain elusive. This volume offers an enthralling and informative read for neurologists, psychiatrists, and psychologists, as well as for general physicians, historians, and everyone interested in the developments of one of the most intriguing conditions in medicine.

Non-Epileptic Seizures in Our Experience Steven C. Schachter MD, 2020-04-01 To an outside observer, Psychogenic Non-Epileptic Seizures (PNES) look like epileptic seizures. The manifestations of PNES include collapses, impaired consciousness, and seizure-related injuries. However, unlike epileptic seizures, which are the result of abnormal electrical discharges in the brain, most PNES are an automatic psychological response to a trigger perceived as threatening. Not least because the changes in the brain that underpin PNES cannot be visualised easily with clinical tests such as the EEG, there are many uncertainties and controversies surrounding the condition. Patients often provoke a mixture of emotions in healthcare professionals. In the authors' previous book, In Our Words: Personal Accounts of Living with Non-Epileptic Seizures, over 100 individuals with PNES and their family wrote about their experiences with the condition. While some had positive care experiences, many were left feeling confused, angry, and abandoned by the clinicians they had encountered. Non-Epileptic Seizures in Our Experience: Accounts of Health Care Professionals complements the authors' previous book by presenting the perspectives of over 90 members of different healthcare professions from around the world. The anonymous publication format has enabled many not only to share success stories but also to be open about difficulties and failures. This volume will be an invaluable resource for both highly experienced professionals as well as relative novices and those experiencing PNES. This book will challenge negative attitudes surrounding the condition, improve understanding between healthcare professionals and patients, and ultimately advance the quality of care provided for those with PNES.

Automatic Religion Paul Christopher Johnson, 2021-01-12 What distinguishes humans from nonhumans? Two common answers: free will and religion. In some ways, they are fundamentally opposed. Whereas free will enjoys a central place in our ideas of spontaneity, authorship, and deliberation, religious practices seem to involve a suspension of or relief from the exercise of our will. What then is agency, and why has it occupied such a central place in theories of the human? Automatic Religion explores an unlikely series of episodes from the end of the nineteenth century when crucial ideas related to automatism and, in a different realm, the study of religion were both being born Paul Christopher Johnson draws on years of archival and ethnographic research in Brazil and France to explore the crucial boundaries being drawn at the time between humans nearhumans and automata As agency came to take on a more central place in the philosophical moral and legal traditions of the West certain classes of people were excluded as less than human Tracking the circulation of ideas across the Atlantic Johnson tests those boundaries revealing how they were constructed on largely gendered and racial foundations In the process he reanimates one of the most mysterious and yet foundational questions in trans Atlantic thought what is agency

The Sense and Sensibility of Madness Doreen Bauschke, Anna Klambauer, 2018-11-05 This volume explores the intriguing ontological ambiguities of madness in literature and the arts Despite its association with a diseased abnormal mind there can be much sense and sensibility in madness Daring to break free from the dictates of normalcy madwomen and madmen disrupt the status quo Yet as they venture into uncharted or prohibited terrain they may also unleash the liberatory and transformative potential of unrestrained madness Contributors are Doreen Bauschke Teresa Bell Isil Ezgi Celik Terri Jane Dow Peter Gunn Anna Klambauer Rachel A Sims and Ruxanda Topor

Seduction, Drive and Repetition Herman Westerink, Philippe Van Haute, 2025-09-01 This book makes the compelling argument that the key to understanding Freud's clinical writings and psychoanalytical theories lies in his trauma theory The authors argue that Freud never truly abandoned his initial trauma theory the seduction theory in favour of the Oedipus complex and the primacy of fantasy Instead Freud progressively enriched his understanding of trauma expanding his theory to include references to the evolution of human beings and organic life Trauma runs as a red thread throughout Freud's oeuvre It occupies a central position in both his clinical case studies and his meta psychological speculations Freud ultimately develops a metaphysics of trauma and a tragic view of human existence a worldview that continues to resonate within contemporary philosophy and psychoanalysis

Touch Me, I'm Sick Margeaux Feldman, 2025-09-09 Reject the stigmas of trauma and chronic illness by fostering queer forms of intimacy and embracing the many ways humans can care for one another The writer behind the popular softcore_trauma Instagram offers a deeply personal memoir for folks seeking healing and better care The forms of intimacy and care that we've been sold are woefully inadequate and problematic In a world that treats those who are sick and traumatized as problems in need of a cure nonbinary writer artist educator and Instagram creator Margeaux Feldman offers a different story Trauma which all too often manifests as chronic illness tells us that there is something deeply wrong with the world we live in A world that promotes individualism fractures us from community through violence and systemic oppression and leaves us traumatized That is what we need to cure While unveiling their own lived experiences caregiving for their sick father losing their mother surviving sexual abuse and grappling with their own chronic illness Feldman provides roadmaps for embracing queer modes of care or hysterical intimacies that reject the notion that those who have been labeled sick are broken Feldman looks at the lengthy history of branding girls women and femmes and their desires as sick from the treatment of hysterics by Jean Martin

Charcot and Sigmund Freud in the 19th and 20th centuries What emerges is a valiant call for rethinking the ways we seek healing This compelling blend of theory personal narrative and cultural criticism offers a path forward for reimagining the shapes and forms that intimacy care and interdependence can take Apartheid and the Making of a Black Psychologist N. Chabani Manganyi, 2016-05-01 This intriguing memoir details in a quiet and restrained manner with what it meant to be a committed black intellectual activist during the apartheid years and beyond Few autobiographies exploring the life of the mind and the history of ideas have come out of South Africa and N Chabani Manganyi s reflections on a life engaged with ideas the psychological and philosophical workings of the mind and the act of writing are a refreshing addition to the genre of life writing Starting with his rural upbringing in Mavambe Limpopo in the 1940s Manganyi s life story unfolds at a gentle pace tracing the twists and turns of his journey from humble beginnings to Yale University in the USA The author details his work as a clinical practitioner and researcher as a biographer as an expert witness in defence of opponents of the apartheid regime and finally as a leading educationist in Mandela s Cabinet and in the South African academy Apartheid and the Making of a Black Psychologist is a book about relationships and the fruits of intellectual and creative labour Manganyi describes how he used his skills as a clinical psychologist to explore lives both those of the subjects of his biographies and those of the accused for whom he testified in mitigation his aim always to find a higher purpose and a higher self Adaptations, Versions and Perversions in Modern British Drama Ignacio Ramos Gay, 2014-10-02 This book aims to explore which plays were deemed suitable to be reworked for foreign or local stages what transformations linguistic semiotic theatrical were undertaken so as to accommodate international audiences how national literary traditions are forged altered and diluted by means of transnational adapting techniques and finally to what extent the categorical boundaries between original plays and adaptations may be blurred on the account of such adjusting textual strategies It brings together ten articles that scrutinise the linguistic social political and theatrical complexities inherent in the intercultural transference of plays The approaches presented by the different contributors investigate modern British theatre as an instance of diachronic and synchronic transnational adaptations based upon a myriad of influences originating in and projected upon other national dramatic traditions These traditions rooted in relatively distant geographies and epochs are traced so as to illustrate the split between the state imposed identity and personal subjective identity caused by cultural negotiations of the self in an age of globalism International frontiers are thus pointed at in order to claim the need to be transcended in the process of cultural reappropriation associated with theatre performance for international audiences Malady of the Mind Jeffrey A.

Lieberman, 2024-04-23 This brilliant portrait of schizophrenia the most malignant and least understood mental illness by renowned psychiatrist Jeffrey Lieberman Chair of Columbia s legendary Psychiatry department interweaves cultural and scientific history with dramatic patient portraits and clinical experiences to impart a revolutionary message of hope that for the first time in human history schizophrenia can not just be effectively treated but even prevented Of the many myths and misconceptions that have historically obscured our understanding of schizophrenia the most pernicious is that there is no effective treatment or cure The reality couldn't be more different the truth is that today's treatments have the potential to be game changing and often lifesaving In this rigorously researched deeply compelling biography of schizophrenia Dr Jeffrey Lieberman draws on his four decade career to tell the story of the past present and future of this historically dreaded often disabling illness From his vantage point at the pinnacle of academic psychiatry informed by extensive research experience and clinical care of thousands of patients Dr Lieberman describes how the complexity of the brain the checkered history of psychiatric medicine and centuries of stigma combined with misguided legislation and health care policies have impeded scientific and clinical progress And yet there is hope by offering evidence based treatments that combine medication with psychosocial services doctors are now able to effectively treat schizophrenia Even more auspiciously early detection and intervention before the onset of psychotic symptoms can thanks to decades of scientific work not only suppress symptoms but also effectively prevent the outbreak of this disorder A must read for fans of psychological histories and anyone whose life has been affected by schizophrenia this revelatory work offers a comprehensive scientific portrait crucial insights and most importantly hope for those afflicted

Performing Hysteria Johanna Braun ,2020-11-16 We seem to be living in hysterical times A simple Google search reveals the sheer bottomless well of hysterical discussions on diverse topics such as the metoo movement Trumpianism border wars Brexit transgender liberation Black Lives Matter COVID 19 and climate change to name only a few Against the backdrop of such recent deployments of hysteria in popular discourse particularly as they emerge in times of material and hermeneutic crisis Performing Hysteria re engages the notion of hysteria Performing Hysteria rigorously mines late 20th and early 21st century primarily visual culture for signs of hysteria The various essays in this volume contribute to the multilayered and complex discussions that surround and foster this resurgent interest in hysteria covering such areas as art literature theatre film television dance crossing such disciplines as cultural studies political science philosophy history media disability race and ethnicity and gender studies and analysing stereotypical images and representations of the hysteric in relation to cultural sciences and media studies Of particular importance is the volume's insistence on taking the intersection of hysteria and performance seriously

Freud Frederick Crews,2025-06-25 From the master of Freud debunkers the book that definitively puts an end to the myth of psychoanalysis and its creator Since the 1970s Sigmund Freud's scientific reputation has been in an accelerating tailspin but nonetheless the idea persists that some of his contributions were visionary discoveries of lasting value Now drawing on rarely consulted archives Frederick Crews has assembled a great volume of evidence that reveals a surprising new Freud a man who blundered tragicomically in his dealings with patients who in fact never cured anyone who promoted cocaine as a miracle drug capable of curing a wide range of diseases and who advanced his career through falsifying case histories and betraying the mentors who had helped him to rise The legend has persisted Crews shows thanks to Freud's fictive self invention as a master detective of the psyche and later through a campaign of censorship and falsification conducted by his followers A monumental biographical study and a slashing critique Freud The Making of an Illusion will stand as the last word on one of the most significant and contested figures of the twentieth century Trance Speakers Claudie Massicotte, 2017-05-17 A thought provoking exploration of women s voices and their agency in practices of trance possession The Mind Electric Pria Anand, 2025-06-10 Named a Best Book of Summer 2025 by The Globe and Mail Toronto Publishers Weekly and Book Riot The Observer London s Summer Reads Select In this collection of medical tales reminiscent of Oliver Sacks the best of medical writing Abraham Verghese author of The Covenant of Water a neurologist reckons with the stories we tell about our brains and the stories our brains tell us A girl believes she has been struck blind for stealing a kiss A mother watches helplessly as each of her children is replaced by a changeling A woman is haunted each month by the same four chords of a single song In neurology illness is inextricably linked with narrative the clues to unraveling these mysteries hidden in both the details of a patient s story and the tells of their body Stories are etched into the very structure of our brains coded so deeply that the impulse for storytelling survives and even surges after the most devastating injuries But our brains are also porous the stories they concoct shaped by cultural narratives about bodies and illness that permeate the minds of doctors and patients alike In the history of medicine some stories are heard while others the narratives of women of Black and brown people of displaced people of disempowered people are too often dismissed In The Mind Electric neurologist Pria Anand reveals through case study history fable and memoir all that the medical establishment has overlooked the complexity and wonder of brains in health and in extremis and the vast gray area between sanity and insanity doctor and patient and illness and wellness each separated from the next by the thin veneer of a different story Moving from the Boston hospital where she treats her patients to her childhood years in India to Isla Providencia in the Caribbean and to the Republic of Guinea in West Africa she demonstrates again and again the compelling paradox at the heart of neurology that even the most peculiar symptoms can show us something universal about ourselves as humans
