The Meritocracy Trap Daniel Markovits, 2019-09-10 This book flips your world upside down Daniel Markovits argues that meritocracy isn't a virtuous efficient system that rewards the best and brightest Instead it rewards middle class families who can afford huge investments in their children's education Frightening eye opening stuff The Times Books of the Year Even in the midst of runaway economic inequality and dangerous social division it remains an axiom of modern life that meritocracy reigns supreme and promises to open opportunity to all The idea that reward should follow ability and effort is so entrenched in our psyche that even as society divides itself at almost every turn all sides can be heard repeating meritocratic notions Meritocracy cuts to the heart of who we think we are But what if both up and down the social ladder meritocracy is a sham Today meritocracy has become exactly what it was conceived to resist a mechanism for the concentration and dynastic transmission of wealth and privilege across generations Upward mobility has become a fantasy and the embattled middle classes are now more likely to sink into the working poor than to rise into the professional elite At the same time meritocracy now ensnares even those who manage to claw their way to the top requiring rich adults to work with crushing intensity exploiting their expensive educations in order to extract a return All this is not the result of deviations or retreats from meritocracy but rather stems directly from meritocracy's successes This is the radical argument that The

Meritocracy Trap prosecutes with rare force comprehensive research and devastating persuasion Daniel Markovits a law professor trained in philosophy and economics is better placed than most to puncture one of the dominant ideas of our age Having spent his life at elite universities he knows from the inside the corrosive system we are trapped within as well as how we can take the first steps towards a world that might afford us both prosperity and dignity

Provisional Cities Renata Tyszczyk, 2017-11-02 This book considers the provisional nature of cities in relation to the Anthropocene the proposed geological epoch of human induced changes to the Earth system It charts an environmental history of curfews admonitions and alarms about dwelling on Earth Provisional cities are explored as exemplary sites for thinking about living in this unsettled time Each chapter focuses on cities settlements or proxy urbanisations including past disaster zones remote outposts in the present and future urban fossils The book explores the dynamic changing and contradictory relationship between architecture and the global environmental crisis and looks at how to re position architectural and urban practice in relation to wider intellectual environmental political and cultural shifts The book argues that these rounder and richer accounts can better equip humanity to think through questions of vulnerability responsibility and opportunity that are presented by immense processes of planetary change These are cautionary tales for the Anthropocene Central to this project is the proposition that living with uncertainty requires that architecture is reframed as a provisional practice This book would be beneficial to students and academics working in architecture geography planning and environmental humanities as well as professionals working to shape the future of cities

Reexamining Economic and Political Reforms in Russia, 1985-2000 Vladimir Gel'man, Dmitry Travin, Otar Marganiya, 2014-06-25 Reexamining Economic and Political Reforms in Russia 1985 2000 Generations Ideas and Changes analyzes the impact of generational changes and ideational changes on major political and economic reforms conducted in Russia during the late twentieth century This book examines how the policy agenda was shaped by the ideas of the generations representatives for the sixtiers and seventiers Representatives of the generation of sixtiers conducted reforms from 1985 to 1991 and invested major efforts in political liberalization but did not pay enough attention to economic reforms On the other hand the reformers from the generation of seventiers who were in charge of policy making from 1991 to 1998 were genuinely oriented toward market building but rather insensitive to the democratization of the political regime This book explores how these differences in ideational agendas produced inconsistent and controversial outcomes from both stages of reforms
