Current Issues in Romance Languages

Teresa Satterfield, Christina Tortora, Diana Cresti, 2002 This book presents an enlightening collection of papers contributing to theoretical discussions across many topics within the study of Romance Languages and Linguistics The work originates from the 29th Linguistic Symposium on Romance Languages held in 1999 at the University of Michigan Ann Arbor although only a small subpart of the proceedings papers are included in this volume The selected papers have been reworked for the current publication Coarticulation and Sound Change in Romance Daniel Recasens, 2014-04-15 This volume should be of great interest to phoneticians phonologists and both historical and cognitive linguists Using data from the Romance languages for the most part the book explores the phonetic motivation of several sound changes e g glide insertions and elisions vowel and consonant insertions elisions assimilations and dissimilations Within the framework of the DAC degree of articulatory constraint model of coarticulation it clearly demonstrates that the typology and direction of these sound changes may very largely be accounted for by the coarticulatory effects occurring between adjacent or neighbouring phonetic segments and by the degrees of articulatory constraint imposed by speakers on the production of vowels and consonants The phonetically based explanations presented here are formulated on the basis of coarticulation data from speech production and perception research carried out during the last fifty years and are complemented with data on the co occurrence of phonetic segments in lexical forms of the languages being considered Attention is also paid to the role that positional and prosodic factors play in sound change implementation as well as to the cognitive and peripheral strategies involved in segmental replacements elisions and insertions

Studies in Romance Linguistics Carl Kirschner, Janet Ann DeCesaris, 1989-01-01 The papers collected in this volume reflect the numerous interests in the field of Romance languages and Romance linguistics today A far ranging amount of Romance data are presented French Italian and Spanish dialect data are crucial to several authors arguments Rumanian is the focus of two papers and many of the papers included discuss overall Romance developments It is noteworthy that formal approaches to syntax are here regularly applied to historical data three papers specifically deal with pro drop phenomena in Old French Of the papers on phonology syllabification and linking processes receive much attention
