Medicine Risk Discourse And Power Routledge Advances In Sociology:

Medicine, Risk, Discourse and Power John Martyn Chamberlain, 2015-11-19 This book critically explores from a comparative international perspective the role medicine plays in constructing and managing natural and social risks including those belonging to modern medical technology and expertise Drawing together chapters written by professional practitioners and social scientists from the UK South America Australia and Europe the book offers readers an insightful and thought provoking analysis of how modern medicine has transformed our understanding of both ourselves and the world around us but in so doing has arguably failed to fully recognize and account for its unintended and negative effects This is an essential read for social scientists practitioners and policymakers who want to better understand how they can develop new ways of thinking about how modern medicine can promote social goods and enhance public health Thanatourism and Cinematic Representations of Risk Rodanthi Tzanelli, 2016-04-14 In today's world the need to eliminate natural and human made disasters has been at the forefront of national and international socio political agendas The management of risks such as terrorism labour strikes protests and environmental degradation has become pivotal for countries that depend on their economy's tourist sector Indeed there is fear that the end of tourism might be nigh due to inadequate institutional foresight Yet in designing relevant policies to tackle this arts such as that of filmmaking have yet to receive due consideration This book adopts an unorthodox approach to debates about the end of tourism Through twenty first century cinematic narratives of symbolically interconnected risks it considers how art envisages the future of humanity's well being These risks include migration as an infectious disease alien incursions as racialized labour mobilities cyborg rebellion as the fear of post colonial otherness and zombie anthropophagy as the replacement of rooted identities by nomadic lifestyles Such filmic scenarios articulate the futuristic survival of community as the triumph of the technological human over otherness and provide a means to debate societal risks that weave identity politics into unequal mobilities This book will appeal to researchers and students interested in mobilities theory tourism and travel theory film studies and aesthetics globalisation studies race labour and migration The Emerald Handbook of the Sociology of Emotions for a Post-Pandemic

World Paul R. Ward, Kristen Foley, 2023-04-14 The Emerald Handbook of the Sociology of Emotions for a Post Pandemic World offers a sociological examination of the lived impacts of the COVID 19 pandemic through culture's of emotion offering a refreshing contribution to a new and exciting sub discipline Mega-Events as Economies of the Imagination Rodanthi Tzanelli, 2017-10-10 Atmosphere the elusive ambiance of a place enables or hinders its mobility in global consumption contexts Atmosphere connects to social imaginaries utopian representational frames producing the culture of a city or country But who resolves atmospheric contradictions in a place's social and cultural rhythms when the eyes of the world are turned on it Mega Events as Economies of the Imagination examines ephemeral and solidified atmospheres in the Rio 2016 Olympic Games and the handover ceremony to Tokyo for the 2020 Games Indeed highlighting the various social and cultural implications upon these Olympic Games hosts Tzanelli argues that the Olympic City is produced by aesthetic imagineers mobile groups of architects artists and entrepreneurs who aesthetically engineer native cultures as utopias Thus it is explored as to how Rio and Tokyo s imagineers problematize notions of creativity cosmopolitan togetherness and belonging Mega Events as Economies of the Imagination will appeal to postgraduate students postdoctoral researchers and professionals interested in fields such as Globalization Studies Mobility Theory Cultural Sociology International Political Economy Conference and Event Management Tourism Studies and Migration Studies

Shared Experiences of Mass Shootings Johanna Nurmi, 2017-09-22 Mass violence and terrorism are a salient phenomenon in the late modern society showing no sign of decline Proactive results from the long ongoing debate of how to address these issues are therefore increasingly necessary not just in the context of prevention but also in the context of the aftermath Shared Experiences of Mass Shootings develops an understanding of the collective experience consequences and recovery processes after mass shootings Drawing from in depth case studies of two mass shootings in Finland and comparing them with other international cases it explores how communities work through violent tragedies employing social memory and memorialization practices that can be seen as either tools for recovery or as something that needs to be restricted Contributing a novel understanding of how experiencing mass violence is deeply gendered through the social patterns and narratives of men's and women's emotions this timely monograph will appeal to undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as postdoctoral researchers interested in fields such as Sociology of Violence Criminology Social Work Memory Studies Media Studies and Cultural Trauma

Foucault, Health and Medicine Robin Bunton, Alan Petersen, 2002-01-08 The reception of Michel Foucault's work in the social sciences and humanities has been phenomenal Foucault's concepts and methodology have encouraged new approaches to old problems and opened up new lines of enquiry This book assesses the contribution of Foucault's work to research and thinking in the area of health and medicine and shows how key researchers in the sociology of health and illness are currently engaging with his ideas Foucault Health and Medicine explores such important issues as Foucault's concept of discourse the critique of the medicalization thesis the analysis of the body and the self Foucault's concept of bio power in the analysis of health education the implications of Foucault's ideas for feminist research on embodiment and gendered subjectivities the application of Foucault's notion of governmentality to the analysis of health policy health promotion and the consumption of health Foucault Health and Medicine offers a state of the art overview of Foucauldian scholarship in the area of health and medicine It will provide a key reference for both students and researchers working in the areas of medical sociology health policy health promotion and feminist studies

Origins of Inequality in Human Societies Bernd Baldus, 2016-07-28 Since the beginning of social life human societies have faced the problem how to distribute the results of collaborative activities among the participants The solutions they found ranged from egalitarian to unequal but caused more dissension and conflict than just about any other social structure in human history Social inequality also dominated the agenda of the new field of sociology in the 19th century The theories developed during that time still inform academic and public debates and inequality continues to be the subject of much current controversy Origins of Inequality begins with a critical assessment of classical explanations of inequality in the social sciences and the political and economic environment in which they arose The book then offers a new theory of the evolution of distributive structures in human societies It examines the interaction of chance intent and unforeseen consequences in the emergence of social inequality traces its irregular historical path in different societies and analyses processes of social control which consolidated inequality even when it was costly or harmful for most participants Because the evolution of distributive structures is an open process the book also explores issues of distributive justice and options for greater equality in modern societies Along with its focus on social inequality the book covers topics in cultural evolution social and economic history and social theory This book will appeal to scholars and advanced students of sociology economics and anthropology in particular sociological theory and social inequality

Cool Nations Katja Valaskivi, 2016-04-14 Nation branding is the most recent feature of imagined nation making in the history of nations Facing global competition national decision makers aim to distinguish their countries from others by means of branding Quite a few nations have considered the term cool suitable for describing some essence of their country's brand Cool Nations Media and the Social Imaginary of the Branded Country traces the mediated ways in which the transnational idea of cool has circulated from popular culture fashion and marketing into describing nations The book explores the commodification of the nation the shift to a promotional political culture and the role of media in contributing to the circulation of the idea of the Cool Nation The social imaginary of nation branding takes its theory and practices from marketing unlike earlier imaginations based on ideas of democracy or citizenship Cool Nations argues that cool is one of the vehicles through which the commodification of nations takes place
