Student Study Guide to The Asian World, 600-1500 Roger Des Forges, John Major, 2005-10 The Christian doctrine of heaven has been a moral source of enormous power in western culture It has provided a striking account of the ultimate good in life and has for two millennia animated the hope that our lives can be fully meaningful Recently however the doctrine of heaven has lost much of its grip on the western imagination and has become a vague and largely ignored part of the Christian creed Not only have our hopes been redefined as a result but our very identity as human beings has been altered In this book Jerry L Walls argues that the doctrine of heaven is ripe for serious reconsideration He contends not only that the orthodox view of heaven can be defended from objections commonly raised against it but also that heaven is a powerful resource for addressing persistent philosophical problems not the least of which concern the ground of morality and the meaning of life Walls shows how heaven is integrally related to central Christian doctrines particularly those concerning salvation and tackles the difficult problem of why faith in Christ is necessary to save us from our sins In addition heaven is shown to illumine thorny problems of personal identity and to be an essential component of a satisfactory theodicy Walls goes on to examine data from near death experiences from the standpoint of some important recent work in epistemology and argues that they offer positive evidence for heaven He concludes that we profoundly need to recover the hope of heaven in order to recover our very humanity

Rulers and Rulership in the Arc of Medieval Europe, 1000-1200 Christian Raffensperger, 2023-08-24 Rulers and Rulership in the Arc of Medieval Europe challenges the dominant paradigm of what rulership is and who rulers are by decentering the narrative and providing a broad swath of examples from throughout medieval Europe Within that territory the prevalent idea of monarchy and kingship is overturned in favor of a broad definition of rulership This book will demonstrate to the reader that the way in which medieval Europe has been constructed in both the popular and scholarly imaginations is incorrect Instead of a king we have multiple rulers male and female ruling concurrently Instead of an independent church or a church striving for supremacy under the Gregorian Reform we have a pope and ecclesiastical leaders making deals with secular rulers and an in depth interconnection between the two Finally instead of a strong centralizing polity growing into statehood we see weak rulers working hand in glove with weak subordinates to make the polity as a whole function Medievalists Byzantinists and Slavists typically operate in isolation from one another They do not read each other's books or engage with each other's work This book requires engagement from all of them to point out that the medieval Europe that they work in is one and the same and demands collaboration to best understand it
