can be found today in the Catechism of the Catholic Church No other book has gathered such an array of scholars or provided such a deep study into how humanity's divinized life in Christ has received many rich and various perspectives over the past two thousand years This book seeks to bring readers into the central mystery of Christianity by allowing the Church's greatest thinkers and texts to speak for themselves demonstrating how becoming Christ like and the Body of Christ on earth is the only ultimate purpose of the Christian faith

Meditations on the Incarnation, Passion, and Death of Jesus Christ Catharina Regina von Greiffenberg, 2010-04-15 Read by Protestants and Catholics alike Catharina Regina von Greiffenberg 1633-94 was the foremost German woman poet and writer in the seventeenth century German speaking world Privileged by her social station and education she published a large body of religious writings under her own name to a reception unequalled by any other German woman during her lifetime But once the popularity of devotional writings as a genre waned Catharina's works went largely unread until scholars devoted renewed attention to them in the twentieth century For this volume Lynne Tatlock translates for the first time into English three of the thirty six meditations restoring Catharina to her rightful place in print These meditations foreground women in the life of Jesus Christ including accounts of women at the Incarnation and the Tomb and in Scripture in general Tatlock's selections give the modern reader a sense of the structure and nature of Catharina's devotional writings highlighting the alternative they offer to the male centered view of early modern literary and cultural production during her day and redefining the role of women in Christian history

Fire of Mercy, Heart of the Word Erasmo Leiva-Merikakis, 2010-03-25 To the unstudied eye St Matthew's gospel can seem a terse narrative almost a historical document and not the tremendously spiritual and doctrinal storehouse that it is In his second volume of meditations on Matthew chapters 12-18 Erasmo Leiva shows Matthew's prose to be not terse so much as economical astoundingly so given its depth The lay reader can derive great profit from reading this Each short meditation comments on a verse or two pointing to some facet of the text not immediately apparent but rich with meaning Leiva's work is scholarly but eminently approachable by the lay reader The goal of the book is to help the reader experience the heat of the divine heart the light of the divine Word Leiva comments on the Greek text demonstrating nuances in the text that defy translation He uses numerous quotes from the Fathers and the Liturgy of the Church to demonstrate the way the Tradition has lived and read the Word of God His theological reflection vivifies doctrine by seeking its roots in the words and actions of Jesus
