Medium Of Instruction Policies Which Agenda Whose Agenda:

Medium of Instruction Policies James W. Tollefson, Amy B.M. Tsui, 2003-10-03 Medium of instruction policies in education have considerable impact not only on the school performance of students and the daily work of teachers but also on various forms of social and economic inequality. In many multiethnic and multilingual countries the choice of a language for the medium of instruction in state educational systems raises a fundamental and complex educational question: what combination of instruction in students' native languages and in a second language of wider communication will ensure that students gain both effective subject content education as well as the second language skills necessary for higher education and employment. Beyond this educational issue of choice of languages of instruction, medium of instruction policies are also linked to a range of important sociopolitical issues including globalization, migration, labor policy, elite competition, and the distribution of economic resources and political power. The contributors to this volume examine the tension between the educational agendas and other social and political agendas underlying medium of instruction policies in different countries around the world and unravel the connections between these policies and the related critically important educational, social, political, and economic issues. Medium of Instruction Policies is intended for scholars and specialists in education, language policy, sociolinguistics, applied linguistics, and language teaching and is intended for use in graduate and advanced undergraduate courses on language education and language policy.

The Oxford Handbook of Language Policy and Planning James W. Tollefson, Miguel Pérez-Milans, 2018-05-07 This Handbook provides a state of the art account of research in language policy and planning LPP Through a critical examination of LPP the Handbook offers new direction for a field in theoretical and methodological turmoil as a result of the socio economic institutional and discursive processes of change taking place under the conditions of Late Modernity Late Modernity refers to the widespread processes of late capitalism leading to the selective privatization of services including education the information revolution associated with rapidly changing statuses and functions of languages the weakening of the institutions of nation states along with the strengthening of non state actors and the fragmentation of overlapping and competing identities associated with new complexities of language identity relations and new forms of multilingual language use As an academic discipline in the social sciences LPP is fraught with tensions between these processes of change and the still powerful ideological framework of modern nationalism It is an exciting and energizing time for LPP research This Handbook propels the field forward offering a dialogue between the two major historical trends in LPP associated with the processes of Modernity and Late Modernity the focus on continuity behind the institutional policies of the modern nation state and the attention to local processes of uncertainty and instability across different settings resulting from processes of change The Handbook takes great strides toward overcoming the long standing division between top down and bottom up analysis in LPP research setting the stage for theoretical and methodological innovation Part I defines alternative theoretical and conceptual frameworks in LPP emphasizing developments since the ethnographic turn including ethnography in LPP historical discursive approaches ethics normative theorizing and transdisciplinary methods and the renewed focus on socio economic class Part II examines LPP against the background of influential ideas about language shaped by the institutions of the nation state with close attention to the social position of minority languages and specific communities facing profound language policy challenges Part III investigates the turmoil and tensions that currently characterize LPP research under conditions of Late Modernity Finally

Part IV presents an integrative summary and directions for future LPP research Cognitive Linguistics in Critical Discourse Analysis Christopher Hart, Dominik Lukeš, 2009-03-26 In contemporary linguistics both cognitive and critical approaches to language have been elaborated in some detail Unfortunately the two perspectives have seldom converged despite the potential theoretical advances such collaboration offers The contributions to this volume explore the convergence of cognitive and critical trends in the guise of Cognitive Linguistics and critical discourse analysis The volume addresses a range of socio political discourses in various international contexts including discourses on nation education immigration and war One single integrated model is not presented but rather a number of methodologies are developed and assessed across the chapters The application of established Cognitive Linguistic theories including conceptual metaphor theory conceptual blending theory and frame semantics are discussed as well as developing theories such as metaphor power theory and discourse space theory The book is of value to anyone interested in the interaction between language mind and society including both students and scholars of Cognitive Linguistics and Critical Discourse Analysis Language, Nation and Development in Southeast Asia Lee Hock Guan, Leo Suryadinata, 2007 Papers from a workshop on Language Nation and Development in Southeast Asia held in Singapore 2003 English Medium Instruction in Secondary Education Jack Pun, 2024-04-19 Jack Pun presents best practices in pedagogy and teaching to facilitate effective content subject learning at the secondary school level Increasingly parents are sending their children to English Medium Instruction EMI secondary schools in their home countries to prepare them for full immersion in EMI in English native speaking countries The book explores the teaching and learning processes in EMI senior secondary science classrooms based in thirty secondary schools in Hong Kong Conducting analyses of classroom teacher and student perception data the author discusses the issues of teaching science through the medium of English in secondary schools the implications and applications for professional development of science teachers and other content subject teachers and suggests strategies for teaching science in different EMI contexts This volume is highly relevant to scholars in the field of educational linguistics particularly in English language teaching content based instruction content and language integrated learning and English as a medium of instruction It is also useful to education policymakers school teachers research students English and education majors Language, Education, and Identity Chaise LaDousa, Christina P. Davis, 2021-07-08 This book examines medium of instruction in education and studies its social economic and political significance in the lives of people living in South Asia It provides insight into the meaning of medium and what makes it so important to identity aspiration and inequality It questions the ideologized associations between education and social and spatial mobility and discusses the gender and class based marginalization that comes with vernacular medium education The volume also considers how policy measures such as the Right to Education RTE Act in India have failed to address the inequalities brought by medium in schools and investigates questions on language access inclusion and rights Drawing on extensive fieldwork and in depth interviews the book will be indispensable for students and scholars of anthropology education studies sociolinguistics sociology and South Asian studies It will also appeal to those interested in language and education in South Asia especially the role of language in the reproduction of inequality Linguistics in the Twenty First Century Eloína Miyares Bermúdez, Leonel Ruiz
