Mitsubishi Motors in Illinois Margaret L. Chapman, Arun P. Elhance, John D Wenum, 1995-06-28 Are state and local economic incentives to attract new firms worthwhile Mitsubishi Motors in Illinois provides in depth analysis of the incentives offered to land Diamond Star Motors the plant s labor force supplier organization and its community impact to answer this question The authors conclude with a benefit cost analysis of the incentive package at the community and at the state level Written in nontechnical language the book is intended for planners and administrators in state and local government economic and business development officers and international corporate management as well as economists and public policy analysts Although much research has been compiled separately on the various issues surrounding the establishment of Japanese auto manufacturing plants in the United States this work is unique for its direct surveys of workers suppliers members of the community and city and state leaders involved in the negotiations Data on the local housing impact are drawn from detailed examination of loan applications in the community during the major hiring period at the plant While some results confirm previous work the authors find many differences particularly in the composition of the labor force and the effect of just in time production methods on supplier location The book provides a comprehensive view of the community and regional impact of a Japanese auto manufacturing plant which can be used as a model for planning economic development strategies to attract new firms to states and communities Written in nontechnical language the book is intended for planners and administrators in state and local government economic and business development officers and international corporate management as well as economists and public policy analysts Report ,1987 International Technical

The Opportunity Equation Eric Schwarz,2015-08-25 Schwarz founder of the groundbreaking Citizen Schools program shares his vision for reducing inequality by pairing successful adults with low income students Parental wealth now predicts adult success more than at any point in the last hundred years And yet as debates about education rage on and wealth based achievement gaps grow too many people fix the blame on one of two convenient scapegoats poverty or our public schools But in fact low income kids are learning more now than ever before The real culprit for rising inequality Eric Schwarz argues in The Opportunity Equation is that wealthier kids are learning much much more mostly outside of school In summer camps robotics competitions sessions with private tutors and conversations around the dinner table children from more affluent families build the skills and social networks that propel them to success In The Opportunity Equation Schwarz tells the story of how he founded the pioneering Citizen Schools program to combat rising inequality by bringing these same opportunities to children who don t have access to them By increasing learning time in schools and harnessing the power of an army of volunteers with various skills and professional backgrounds lawyers engineers carpenters journalists nonprofit leaders and grandmothers who sew Citizen Schools offers after school apprenticeships that provide the building blocks for adult success Recounting the triumphs and setbacks he s encountered in implementing the program Schwarz shows that some of the nation s lowest performing schools in its lowest income cities can with help provide their students with many of the same experiences wealthy communities afford to their children The results have been proven in the dozen school districts from New York to Oakland that have partnered with Citizen Schools rates of attendance proficiency graduation and college acceptance have gone up and the achievement gap closes At a time when many stakeholders in the education debates are looking for new silver bullet shortcuts to educational excellence Schwarz shows that the best solution is human centered rooted in the American tradition of citizen voluntarism and most important achievable We can provide quality education for all students and close the opportunity gap in this country and we can do it together Chicago Tribune Index ,2004
