A Mind At A Time Mel Levine, 2012-12-11 Different minds learn differently writes Dr Mel Levine one of the best known education experts and paediatricians in America today And that's a problem for many children because most schools still cling to a one size fits all education philosophy In A MIND AT A TIME Dr Levine shows parents and others who care for children how to identify these individual learning patterns He explains how parents and teachers can encourage a child's strengths and bypass the child's weaknesses This type of teaching produces satisfaction and achievement instead of frustration and failure Different brains are differently wired with eight fundamental systems of learning that draw on a variety of neurodevelopmental capacities Certain students are strong in certain areas and some are strong in others but no one is equally capable in all eight Learning begins at school but it doesn't end there Frustrating a child's desire to learn will have lifelong repercussions We must begin to pay more attention to individual learning styles to individual minds urges Dr Levine so that we can maximise our children's learning potential A MIND AT A TIME shows us how Organizations, Strategy and Society Rodolphe Durand, 2014-11-27 Organizations are ubiquitous from clubs and associations to firms and public agencies They confer meaning to all of us and our attachment to and membership of organizations have a profound effect on all areas of our lives However in our increasingly turbulent world these organizations run the risk of disappearing or losing their legitimacy creating a sense of pointlessness and absurdity Organizations Strategy and Society The Orgology of Disorganized Worlds draws on neo institutional and strategy theories of competitive advantage and develops an integrative approach to theorizing organizations and their behaviors termed orgology It explains that organizations can act strategically to protect and renew the meaning that individuals give to their lives In so doing organizations that survive and thrive impose their logics on society thereby influencing what is legitimate or not In turn individuals must reinterpret their multiple associations with organizations and contribute to reinforcing or inhibiting social evolutions This new way of understanding organizations relationships with society results in a reconsideration of management and the role of individuals in building their future This book will be of interest to students at all levels to researchers in organizational studies strategic management and sociology as well as to people willing to reorganize their world A Mind at a Time Melvin D.
