The Palgrave Handbook of Gothic Origins Clive Bloom,2022-01-01 This handbook provides a comprehensive overview of research on the Gothic Revival The Gothic Revival was based on emotion rather than reason and when Horace Walpole created Strawberry Hill House a gleaming white castle on the banks of the Thames he had to create new words to describe the experience of gothic lifestyle

Nevertheless Walpole's house produced nightmares and his book The Castle of Otranto was the first truly gothic novel with supernatural sensational and Shakespearean elements challenging the emergent fiction of social relationships. The novel's themes of violence, tragedy, death, imprisonment, castle battlements, dungeons, fair maidens, secrets, ghosts, and prophecies led to a new genre encompassing prose, theatre, poetry, and painting whilst opening up a whole world of imagination for entrepreneurial female writers such as Mary Shelley, Joanna Baillie, and Ann Radcliffe whose immensely popular books led to the intense inner landscapes of the Brontë sisters. Matthew Lewis's The Monk created a new gothic, atheistic, decadent, perverse, necrophilic, and hellish. The social upheaval of the French Revolution and the emergence of the Romantic movement with its more intense and often atheistic self-absorption led the gothic into darker corners of human experience with a greater emphasis on the inner life, hallucination, delusion, drug addiction, mental instability, perversion, and death, and the emerging science of psychology. The intensity of the German experience led to an emphasis on doubles and schizophrenic behaviour, ghosts, spirits, mesmerism, the occult, and hell. This volume charts the origins of this major shift in social perceptions and completes a trilogy of Palgrave Handbooks on the Gothic; combined, they provide an exhaustive survey of current research in Gothic studies, a go-to for students and researchers alike.

Origins and Ends of the Mind Christian Kerslake, Ray Brassier, 2007

Figures of the Unconscious 7 In Origins and Ends of the Mind, a collection of theoretical essays by philosophers and psychoanalysts, encounters are arranged between Freudian and Lacanian psychoanalysis on the one hand and attachment theory, evolutionary psychology, and philosophy of mind on the other. Psychoanalysts claim that states of mind are inexorably structured by children's relationships with their parents. But the theory of attachment, evolutionary psychology, and contemporary philosophy of mind have all recently reintroduced the claim that mental development and pathology are to a large degree determined by innate factors. Today, Lacanian psychoanalysis most vigorously defends psychoanalytic theory and practice from the encroachment of the biomedical and cognitive sciences. However, classical psychoanalytic theories, the Oedipus complex, primary and secondary repression, sexual difference, and the role of symbols are being dismantled and reintegrated into a new synthesis of biological and psychological theories.
