Globalization and Cultural Trends in China Kang Liu, 2003-12-31 In this timely work Liu Kang argues that globalization in China is both a historical condition in which the country s gaige kaifang reform and opening up has unfolded and a set of values or ideologies by which it and the rest of the globe are judged Moreover globalization signals a significant ascendancy of culture Liu examines China's current ideological struggles in political discourse intellectual debate popular culture avant garde literature the news media and the internet With careful textual analysis and observation informed by critical theories and cultural studies he offers a forceful critique of the Chinese version of globalism that privileges economic development at the expense of social justice and equality

TikTok D. Bondy Valdovinos Kaye, Jing Zeng, Patrik Wikstrom, 2022-06-16 Since its acquisition and rebranding in 2018 TikTok has become one of the fastest growing platforms in the world Moreover it's the first Chinese developed platform to find mainstream international success carving its own niche in the global short video industry In the first comprehensive exploration of TikTok Kaye Zeng and Wikstr m provide a history of the emergent genre of short video and situate the platform within the cultures and controversies that have accompanied its dramatic growth They provide an extensive overview of TikTok's functions and uses the diverse markets in which the platform operates and the issues of governance that have impacted its expansion Once thought to be just for kids the authors illustrate how TikTok is further transforming platform cultures and the dynamics of broader creative industries TikTok the authors argue represents an evolutionary step in the way culture is produced and consumed on digital platforms This timely book is essential reading for students and scholars in media and communication studies and for anyone who has been captivated by the global growth of TikTok and short video

Musicking TikTok Juan Bermúdez, 2024-12-12 This ethnographic work about TikTok's musicking in a glocal Austrian context complements and build upon ethnomusicological assumptions theories and methods for the study of musical practices in digital spaces An overview of elements that make up TikTok's interface as well as the technical performative possibilities that it allows this book introduces a general categorization of existing performance types and how TikTokers appropriate the platform to make their music It illustrates how some TikTokers became aware of and began using TikTok and it reviews some of the different strategies TikTokers apply to learn how to use the application and successfully develop their performances Berm dez explores how performers move from being ordinary users to becoming TikTokers developing and performing an identity he calls TikTok Persona Moreover he discusses how some TikTok practices can and have occurred across multiple interconnected platforms and he examines how localities are articulated and negotiated in these contexts Berm dez argues for an understanding of musicking as a multimedia practice that different actors create and experience individually in everyday synchronous and asynchronous physical and digital situations The so called TikTokers create a sense of identity and community through their performances This study suggests that a digital performance can be aside from a representation of reality an integral part of it serving as a fundamental space for constructing and performing identity
