 Named one of the best books of 2021 by NPR New York Times Bestseller and a New York Times Book Review Editor's Choice pick Masterly represents an extraordinary achievement It is comprehensive and detailed without being tedious practical without being banal impeccably well judged and unusually rigorous Daniel Markovits New York Times Book Review Ron Lieber is a gift Scott Galloway The hugely popular New York Times Your Money columnist and author of the bestselling The Opposite of Spoiled offers a deeply reported and emotionally honest approach to the biggest financial decision families will ever make what to pay for college a decision made even more confusing because of the Covid 19 pandemic Sending a teenager to a flagship state university for four years of on campus living costs more than 100 000 in many parts of the United States Meanwhile many families of freshmen attending selective private colleges will spend triple over 300 000 With the same passion smarts and humor that infuse his personal finance column Ron Lieber offers a much needed roadmap to help families navigate this difficult and often confusing journey Lieber begins by explaining who pays what and why and how the financial aid system got so complicated He also pulls the curtain back on merit aid an entirely new form of discounting that most colleges now use to compete with peers While price is essential value is paramount So what is worth paying extra for and how do you know when it exists in abundance at any particular school Is a small college better than a big one Who actually does the teaching Given that every college claims to have reinvented its career center who should we actually believe He asks the tough questions of college presidents and financial aid gatekeepers that parents don't know or are afraid to ask and summarizes the research about what matters and what doesn't Finally Lieber calmly walks families through the process of setting financial goals explaining the system to their children and figuring out the right ways to save borrow and bargain for a better deal The Price You Pay for College gives parents the clarity they need to make informed choices and helps restore the joy and wonder the college experience is supposed to represent

Parliament, 1897 Neighborhood Democracy Richard Guarasci, 2023-07-03 Higher education and America stand at a perilous moment brought about by economic and social inequality racism and the fracture of civic cohesion and structures From its origins the mission of American higher education was to promote democratic governance and a free fair and orderly society through the education of responsible citizens Just as its mission has become more urgent it is being undermined as colleges and universities find themselves trapped in a fiscal crisis that threatens their very institutional viability a crisis in large part brought about by the very perpetuation of economic and racial inequity and the consequent erosion of consensus about civic purpose and vision This book argues that higher education can and must again take leadership in promoting the participatory processes and instilling the democratic values needed to build a vibrant and fair society How to do that when as Guarasci argues a majority of colleges and universities are floundering under a business model that generates insufficient net revenue while making college unaffordable Guarasci offers a model of civic mission and engagement whereby through relatively modest investment colleges can develop reciprocal partnerships with local institutions civic and business groups to raise the quality and outcomes of K 12 education promote local entrepreneurship and community involvement raise incomes and increase the attainment of postsecondary education to benefit the wider national economy and colleges around the region and country He demonstrates how civic engagement can revitalize communities and generate developmental and foundation funding Vividly illustrated by the examples of success of students from the shadow community to which Wagner College committed its energies and resources by the stories of the local schools and their principals and the voices of local partners this book offers a compelling and detailed account of what it takes to transform an institution and a neighborhood and a model of renewal A Co Publication with AAC U
