Marketing Nancy R. Lee,Philip Kotler,2022-07-12 Social marketing a field first introduced by Philip Kotler and Gerald Zaltman in a pioneering article in the Journal of Marketing in 1971 uses marketing concepts to influence the behaviors of individuals and communities for the greater social good Now as the discipline celebrates its 50th anniversary Success in Social Marketing provides an accessible and comprehensive guide to the field introducing stories from around the world including public health injury prevention environmental protection community engagement financial well being and education The 100 case examples contained in this book each about two pages in length follow an outline that includes key components of a campaign Wicked Problem Purpose Focus Priority Audience Desired Behavior Audience Insights Marketing Intervention Mix and Results This common structure provides the reader with a clear sense of how success in social marketing may best be achieved in a wide variety of disciplinary and national contexts Success in Social Marketing is intended to fill a gap in the market as well as inform and inspire students and practitioners through 100 easily digestible case studies Issues addressed include public health opioid use mental health COVID 19 injury prevention gun violence youth suicide texting while driving environmental protection wildfires bicycle transportation in urban areas food waste community engagement homelessness racially motivated violence voting financial wellbeing microfinance savings employment and educational achievement early childhood education college applications female participation in STEM programs to name but a few This book is recommended reading for students enrolled in public administration public health environmental studies as well as policymakers interested in ways social marketing may help influence their constituent behaviors for individual as well as social good The Identity of the Architect Laura Iloniemi,2019-12-23 Today there are more tools for communication than ever before yet very little in the way of reflection on how these are being used and even less on what exactly is being conveyed This issue of AD looks at how architecture is communicated from a cultural perspective Do the identities of practices or their business driven branding and promotional efforts resonate with the critical acclaim many architects seek

Has slick image led media coverage sold the profession short How is it possible to convey the less visual and haptic qualities of architecture Can architects be more creative in their communication efforts making these joyous on their own terms as Le Corbusier did so memorably Is there really a need to succumb to the world of corporate marketing processes and managerial business jargon The issue explores notions of editing and curating work in an age of data deluge and discusses social media as a genuinely alternative space for communication rather than for just repurposing and regurgitating information relayed The Identity of the Architect encourages the promotion of practices as an integral extension of the very culture they hope to engender through their work Contributors Stephen Bayley Caroline Cole Adam Nathaniel Furman Gabor Gallov Jonathan Glancey Justine Harvey Owen Hopkins Crispin Kelly Jay Merrick Robin Monotti Juhani Pallasmaa Vicky Richardson Jenny Sabin and Austin Williams Featured architects Ian Ritchie BIG MVRDV IF_DO and Zaha Hadid Architects
