Applied Linguistics and Primary School Teaching Sue Ellis, Elspeth McCartney, 2011-04-07 Modern primary teachers must adapt literacy programmes and ensure efficient learning for all They must also support children with language and literacy difficulties children learning English as an additional language and possibly teach a modern foreign language To do this effectively they need to understand the applied linguistics research that underpins so many different areas of the language and literacy curriculum This book illustrates the impact of applied linguistics on curriculum frameworks and pedagogy It captures the range of applied linguistics knowledge that teachers need and illustrates how this is framed and is used by policy makers researchers teacher educators and the other professions who work with teachers in schools It considers how to effect professional development that works It is essential reading for primary teachers but also for speech and language therapists educational psychologists learning support teachers and all those doing language or literacy research in the primary classroom

The Science of Reading Adrian Johns, 2023-04-05 For the first time the story of how and why we have plumbed the mysteries of reading and why it matters today Reading is perhaps the essential practice of modern civilization For centuries it has been seen as key to both personal fulfillment and social progress and millions today depend on it to participate fully in our society Yet at its heart reading is a surprisingly elusive practice This book tells for the first time the story of how American scientists and others have sought to understand reading and by understanding it to improve how people do it Starting around 1900 researchers convinced of the urgent need to comprehend a practice central to industrial democracy began to devise instruments and experiments to investigate what happened to people when they read They traced how a good reader's eyes moved across a page of printed characters and they asked how their mind apprehended meanings as they did so In schools across the country millions of Americans learned to read through the application of this science of reading At the same time workers fanned out across the land to extend the science of reading into the social realm mapping the very geography of information for the first time Their pioneering efforts revealed that the nation's most pressing problems were rooted in drastic informational inequities between North and South city and country and white and Black and they suggested ways to tackle those problems Today much of how we experience our information society reflects the influence of these enterprises This book explains both how the science of reading shaped our age and why with so called reading wars still plaguing schools across the nation it remains bitterly contested

Creating the Curriculum Dominic Wyse,Vivienne Baumfield,David Egan,Louise Hayward,Moirra Hulme,Ian Menter,Carmel Gallagher,Ruth Leitch,Kay Livingston,Bob Lingard,2012-08-21 Is there an ideal primary school curriculum Who should decide what the curriculum is Should teachers have autonomy over how they teach The curriculum is the heart of what teachers teach and learners learn effective teaching is only possible with an effective curriculum Yet in spite of its importance there has been a crisis in curriculum that has been caused in large part by governments assuming direct control over the curriculum assessment and increasingly pedagogy Creating the Curriculum tackles this thorny issue head on challenging student and practising primary school teachers to think critically about past and present issues and to engage with a new wave of curriculum thinking and development Considering curriculum construction and its impact on teaching and learning in the four countries of the UK key issues considered include who should decide the curriculum its aims and its values the extent to which issues in primary education swing back and forth Subjects versus thematic organisation stages and phases progression breadth and balance prescription versus teacher autonomy the key features of effective classroom practice strategies for assessing the whole curriculum how language in the classroom influences curriculum design understanding curricula in the context of children's social and personal circumstances creativity curriculum and the classroom Illustrated throughout with strategies and case studies from the classroom Creating the Curriculum accessibly links the latest research and evidence with concrete examples of good practice It is a timely exploration of what makes an effective and meaningful curriculum and how teachers can bring new relevance motivation and powerful values to what they teach Reading First Activities, Grade K Jodene Lynn Smith,2004-03-23 Contains activities based on the United States Dept of Education's Reading First program Neuro-Education and Neuro-Rehabilitation Eduardo Martínez-Montes,Julie Chobert,Mireille Besson,2016-11-04 In the last decade important discoveries have been made in cognitive neuroscience regarding brain plasticity and learning such as the mirror neurons system and the anatomical functional organization of perceptual cognitive and motor abilities Time has come to consider the societal impact of these findings The aim of this Research Topic of Frontiers in Psychology is to concentrate on two domains neuro education and neuro rehabilitation At the interface between neuroscience psychology and education neuro education is a new inter disciplinary emerging field that aims at developing new education programs based on results from cognitive neuroscience and psychology For instance brain based learning methods are flourishing but few have been rigorously tested using well controlled procedures Authors of this Research Topic will present their latest findings in this domain using rigorously controlled experiments Neuro rehabilitation aims at developing new rehabilitation methods for children and adults with learning disorders Neuro rehabilitation programs can be based upon a relatively low number of patients and controls or on large clinical trials to test for the efficiency of new treatments These projects may also aim at testing the efficiency of video games and of new methods such as Trans Magnetic Stimulation TMS for therapeutic interventions in children or adolescents with learning disabilities This Research Topic will bring together neuroscientists interested in brain plasticity and the effects of training psychologists working with adults as well as with normally developing children and children with learning disabilities as well as education researchers directly confronted with the efficiency of education programs The goal for each author is to describe the state of the art in his her specific research domain and to illustrate how her his research findings can impact education in the classroom or rehabilitation of children and adolescents with learning disorders You Can Teach Someone to Read Lorraine
