Ground Combat Ben Connable, 2025 Ground Combat reveals the gritty details of land warfare at the tactical level and challenges the overly subjective and often inaccurate American approach to characterizing war Ben Connable's motivation for writing the book is to replace overly subjective analyses with an evidence based approach to examining war From analyzing a set of over 400 global ground combat cases Connable shows there has been a modest and evolutionary shift in the characteristics of ground combat from World War II through the early 2020s This evidence of gradual change repudiates the popular but often hyperbolic arguments about military technical revolutions and that there is a singular character of war in the modern era Connable identifies past and current weaknesses in military design and strategy examines common characteristics in modern ground combat from the data and reframes the debate over the historical and prospective impact of emerging technologies on war Ground Combat sets an evidentiary baseline and a new detail oriented standard for conflict research and policymaking

Epistemic Justice and Creative Agency Sarah Colvin, Stephanie Galasso, 2022-09-12 Foundational theories of epistemic justice such as Miranda Fricker's have cited literary narratives to support their case But why have those narratives in particular provided the resource that was needed And is cultural production always supportive of epistemic justice This essay collection written by experts in literary philosophical and cultural studies working in conversation with each other across a range of global contexts expands the emerging field of epistemic injustice studies The essays analyze the complex relationship between narrative aesthetics and epistemic in justice referencing texts film and other forms of cultural production The authors present without seeking to synthesize perspectives on how justice and injustice are narratively and aesthetically produced This volume by no means wants to say the last word on epistemic justice and creative agency The intention is to open out a productive new field of study at a time when understanding the workings of injustice and possibilities for justice seems an ever more urgent project

Anthem of Misogyny Ibtissam Bouachrine, 2022-10-03 Anthem of Misogyny The War on Women in North Africa and the Middle East argues that misogyny which operates through an interconnected network of ideologies institutions beliefs aesthetics and cultural trends is too complex and too deep rooted to eradicate with superficial changes Like a national anthem misogyny in North Africa and the Middle East has acquired a sacred status It is accepted uncritically and woven effortlessly into daily practices creating a community of men of different ages educational levels and socioeconomic backgrounds who are united in their sense of entitlement to evaluate scrutinize deter question and expose women For women it is as if they are in a state of perpetual war forever on the verge of being accused of deviating from the norms and being punished These norms however are neither clear nor predictable This study of misogyny is written against a dominant orthodoxy in Western feminism Critics are accused of gendered orientalism savior complexes and even Islamophobia if they dare to bring up misogyny and gender based violence in North Africa and the Middle East in contexts other than calling it a Western created issue Rather than exaggerate Western agency this book is invested in making Muslim agency visible There are narratives of violence and injustice that produce discomfort anger and even despair These stories deserve to be told and those behind the injustices are entitled to an unfiltered portrayal because the non West too is deserving of unapologetic feminist critique
