Teaching Children with Dyslexia Philomena Ott, 2007-05-07 Teaching Children with Dyslexia is essential reading for any teacher Special Educational Needs Coordinator or teaching assistant who wants an insider's account of what dealing successfully with dyslexia entails. Written by one of the most well-regarded practitioners in the field with over twenty-five years' experience, this book is packed full with photocopiable exercises, activities and recommendations for resources, tests, teaching methods, advice and suggestions for strategies and techniques that are instantly transferable to classroom environments. This essential teaching companion includes chapters on how to spot dyslexia, screening and assessment tests, why it does not have to be hell to learn to spell, strategies for success for reluctant writers, meeting the challenge of dyslexia in adolescence. Written specifically to bolster teachers' confidence and empower them with the key to unlocking literacy problems in their most challenging pupils, this resource book should be on the shelf of every staff room. Unschool Kerry McDonald, Peter Gray, 2019-05-07 Education has become synonymous with schooling, but it doesn't have to be. As schooling becomes increasingly standardized and test-driven, occupying more of childhood than ever before, parents and educators are questioning the role of schooling in society. Many are now exploring and creating alternatives. In a compelling narrative that introduces historical and contemporary research on self-directed education, Unschool also spotlights how a diverse group of individuals and organizations are evolving an old schooling model of education. These innovators challenge the myth that children need to be taught in order to learn. They are parents who saw firsthand how schooling can dull children's natural curiosity and exuberance, and others who decided early on to enable their children to learn without school. Educators who left public school classrooms discuss launching self-directed learning centers to allow young people's innate learning instincts to flourish, and entrepreneurs explore their disillusionment with the teach and test approach of traditional schooling. New Media in the Classroom Cathy Burnett, Guy Merchant, 2018-05-24 This is an exciting publication that offers authentic approaches for educators to meet challenges of the literacy that students need in our evolving digital landscape. Maureen Walsh, Adjunct Professor, Australian Catholic University and Honorary Professor, The University of Sydney. In this significant new text, Cathy Burnett and Guy Merchant foreground the affective, embodied and emergent nature of making meaning with new media. Teresa Cremin, The Open University. The rise of new media technologies has changed the ways in which children engage with texts, and this has implications for literacy provision in schools. Drawing on research exploring new media practices within and outside school, this book explains and encourages classroom activity that makes purposeful and appropriate use of these literacies and is underpinned by a set of guiding principles for teaching literacy in contemporary times. Key topics include: Building on children's experiences in and out of school; Supporting children to draw on multiple modes and media to develop and convey meaning; Developing a responsive approach to literacy provision; Investigating ways of encouraging collaboration through and around digital media; Encouraging children to use digital media safely and advantageously This is essential reading for primary English or elementary language arts modules on initial teacher education courses including university based and schools based routes into teaching and also for current teachers wishing to enhance their own literacy teaching Cathy Burnett is Professor of Literacy and Education at Sheffield Hallam University Guy Merchant is Professor of Literacy in Education at Sheffield Hallam University Ihonics, Phonemic Awareness, and Word Recognition Activities Brenda Calabretta,1997-10 A handbook for teachers for helping children learn to read and write with the phonics approach

Literacy on the Left Andrew Lambirth,2011-04-14 This engaging text explores discourses involved in the teaching of literacy which can be conceptualised as deriving from the political left The concept of a left and a right in politics are fully defined and a unique analytical framework is introduced to examine and categorise perspectives for teaching literacy The book creates a language of critique for methods advocated from liberal left leaning sources within the field of education and connects them to left political agendas that aspire to either reform or revolution to change and improve society These left approaches are then contrasted with politically right agendas

Methods for the teaching of literacy have for many years been seen to be politically motivated by commentators on the left and the right of politics This book considers the ideological sources of educational practice in literacy Methods advocated from more liberal perspective are rarely critiqued and examined for their ideological and political roots The Routledge International Handbook of Early Literacy Education Natalia Kucirkova, Catherine E. Snow, Vibeke Grøver, Catherine McBride, 2017-03-31 The Routledge International Handbook of Early Literacy Education offers a pioneering overview of early literacy provision in different parts of the world and brings together interdisciplinary research evidence on effective literacy teaching to inform current and future practice and policy of early literacy From the problem of identification of literacy difficulties in a particular learning context to supporting the provision of early literacy through digital media the handbook deals with the major concerns and newest areas of interest in literacy research With an international and future vision it provides an accessible guide to the main debates and future trends in the global field of early literacy and informs academics policy makers practitioners educators and students about innovative early literacy research methods and instruction The three sections and 30 ground breaking chapters reflect a conceptual framework of questions asked by scholars and educators interested in looking beyond traditional definitions of literacy Part I provides contemporary insights collected by internationally renowned scholars on what literacy is and what it can offer to young children in the twenty first century Part II is a collection of detailed portraits of 14 countries regions or language communities and focuses on early literacy provision practice and policy from across the world Part III outlines key interventions and research endorsed practices designed to support home school connections and children s reading and writing skills as well as vocabulary phonological awareness and narrative abilities with examples drawn from various home school and community environments All chapters promote discussion critical analysis and questions for reflection and are written in jargon free language in an easy to use themed format This handbook is an indispensable reference guide for practising teachers and student teachers especially those undertaking postgraduate qualifications as well as early literacy researchers policy makers and school based literacy leaders
