

Reading Comprehension

Read the short passage and answer the questions.

The Dog and the Shadow

It happened that a Dog had got a piece of meat and was carrying it home in his mouth to eat it in peace. Now on his way home, he had to cross a plank lying across a running brook. As he crossed, he looked down and saw his own shadow reflected in the water beneath. Thinking it was another dog with another piece of meat, he made up his mind to have that also. So he made a snap at the shadow in the water, but as he opened his mouth the piece of meat fell out, dropped into the water and was never seen more.

1. What animal was crossing a board?

2. What did the dog have in his mouth?

3. What did the dog see in the running brook?

4. What is the moral of the story?

Birch,2014-04-08 English L2 Reading Getting to the Bottom Second Edition remains a comprehensive myth debunking examination of how L1 features orthographic system phonology morphology can influence English L2 reading at the bottom of the reading process It provides a thorough but very accessible linguistic psycholinguistic examination of the lowest levels of the reading process It is both theoretical and practical The goal is to balance or supplement not replace top down approaches and methodologies with effective low level options for teaching English reading Core linguistic and psycholinguistic concepts are presented within the context of their application to teaching The text clearly explains the strategies that readers of other languages develop in response to their own writing systems Chinese Japanese Arabic Hebrew other alphabets or transparent Roman alphabetic systems contrasted with an explanation of the strategies that English readers develop in response to the opaque orthography of English and explicates how other low level processing strategies for L1 morphology and word formation may aid or hinder processing in English L2 reading acquisition A complete balanced reading ideology should be big enough to embrace all reading theories and practices In particular it should be able to accommodate those researchers and teachers who find that attention to the details of language can also help students learn to read better Many ESL EFL teachers are interested in supplementing their successful whole language methods with bottom up reading strategies but aren't sure how to do it This book fills that gap Changes in the Second Edition updated content in each chapter and clearer organization for the student to make the text more reader friendly expansion in Chapter 2 on alphabets writing systems and a brief history of written English and spelling extended discussion in Chapter 3 of the cognition of written language and reading transfer addition of phonemic vocal subvocal and articulatory development and L2 reading processing in Chapter 4 as well as instructional activities and strategies for teaching these skills to L2 readers elaboration of graphs and graphemes in Chapter 5 including discussion of developing graphemic knowledge processing strategies and their instructional application and new sections on reading speed pattern recognition and word recognition development of the probabilistic section in Chapter 6 particularly the probabilities in context of L2 reading updated information on the topic of brain activation studies and new treatment of the topic of reading fluency added in responses to requests from many readers of the first edition Intended for ESL EFL reading researchers teacher trainers and teachers and as a text for MATESOL students most chapters contain practical suggestions that teachers can incorporate into whole language methods to teach beginning or intermediate ESL EFL reading letters pronunciation smart phonics morphemes and vocabulary acquisition in a more balanced way Pre reading discussion and study questions are provided to stimulate interest and enhance comprehension End of chapter exercises help readers apply the concepts

The Cognitive Foundations of Reading and Its Acquisition Wesley A. Hoover, William E.

Tunmer, 2020-06-09 This book serves as a succinct resource on the cognitive requirements of reading It provides a coherent overall view of reading and learning to read and does so in a relatively sparse fashion that supports retention The initial sections of the book describe the cognitive structure of reading and the cognitive foundation upon which that structure is built This is followed by discussions of how an understanding of these cognitive requirements can be used in practice with standards assessments curriculum and instruction to advance the teaching of reading and the delivery of interventions for students who encounter difficulties along the way The book focuses on reading in English as its exemplar but shows how its framework can be adapted to understand the broad cognitive requirements for reading and learning to read in any phonologically based orthography It provides a way for reading professionals to think about reading and its development and gives them mechanisms that coupled with such understanding will help them link what children must know to become strong readers to what teaching can best provide through the competent use of available tools In this way the book will help reading professionals be both efficient and effective in what they provide all their students and be much better equipped to support those students who struggle to learn to read

An Investigation of Teachers' Questions and Tasks to Develop Reading Comprehension Ghazali Mustapha, 2020-02-03 Teachers are constantly seeking ways to improve their teaching and thereby enhance the learning of their students One method of doing this is to bring critical and creative thinking skills to the forefront of the curriculum This has been emphasized by the

Malaysian Ministry of Education via the KBSM syllabus in order to teach critical and creative thinking by considering the use of programs like Bloom s taxonomy of educational objectives in classroom practice This study demonstrates how the higher order skills can be integrated into the secondary school reading curriculum The main aim of the study is to investigate how teachers design reading comprehension questions RCQs and reading comprehension tasks RCTs in relation to the demands of higher order thinking to produce students with critical minds It focuses primarily on the use of COGAFF taxonomy a cognitive affective taxonomy adapted from Bloom s and Krathwohl s to formulate higher order reading questions and tasks as a means to develop critical and creative thinking skills In a pilot study in Britain with forty Malaysian teachers and in the main field study in Malaysia 150 subjects teachers and student teachers have yielded about one thousand RCQs and one thousand RCTs In line with many research findings of question and task design 91 2% of the RCQs and 83 6% of RCTs produced during the pretest were of low order types Subjects attended a workshop emphasizing question and task designing using the COGAFF taxonomy Dramatically during the posttest 74 4% of the RCQs and 80 6% of the RCTs were transformed into higher order inferential forms The other major thrust of the study is to demonstrate how higher order questions can be used to design equally higher order tasks that can be utilized as a thinking skills approach in the teaching of reading comprehension lessons in secondary schools Thinking tools and strategies as suggested by Beyer Guilford Gardner and several others and their implications for the teaching of reading comprehension and training of teachers in Malaysia are also discussed
