Science Experiments Goodreads Choice This Week:

The Model of Everything Ralph Brown, 2021-01-06 When humanity questions the purpose of existence they often turn to science or religion for answers Unfortunately both science and religion contain inconsistencies These inconsistencies touch the human spirit in the most profound ways resulting in an uneasiness about life Do I really have a purpose Seeking to address the spiritual unease the history of humanity documents the development and pursuit of religion with a concept of a divine creator with a plan for humanity However in more recent history with an increasing emphasis on scientific knowledge the concept of a divine creator is increasingly discounted as inconsistent with the material world revealed by scientific discovery Via the scientific method humanity is turning its focus to the material world creating new gods of science and the purveyors of scientific knowledge But rather than provide definitive answers as science continues to advance the theories of creation point increasingly to inconclusive and inconsistent results These shortcomings of science are often veiled in the expression Someday we will know but many in the scientific community are beginning to question that hope With science and religion each plagued with inconsistency perhaps appropriately integrating them will lead us to the real answers we seek The Model of Everything A Divine Universe relies on both scientific and biblical knowledge to fully integrate science and religion in a consistent complementary and interdependent fashion This confluence and synergy of knowledge reveal a comprehensive model that accounts for the totality of human existence the physical and spiritual The reader via personal and straightforward experiments participates in developing the model Biblical knowledge is the pointer for a unique application of scientific knowledge Then the incredible and sometimes bizarre world of science reveals how God teaches us about our existence and spirituality The integration of scientific and biblical knowledge results in several new mental constructs providing an account for the totality of creation the material and immaterial and a genuine hope and understanding of personal existence The model presents some eye popping implications and applications as well as predictions on future scientific progress and outcomes Each reader is invited and encouraged to become a scientist a scientist prepared to chart a life changing personal discovery

Not Another U.S. History Textbook Adam Strube, 2024-01-15 Why on earth would two history nerds use their own free time to write another US history textbook Well that intelligent human is the right question This work breaks from the traditional memorization of who what when where and focuses on why and how The former is popular in schools due to its efficiency in quantification for testing You re either right or wrong about remembering facts But it s so boring that most students turn off their brains once they set foot in the class and that habit continues well into old age if not recognized and corrected Why and how are more subjective therefore harder to grade But with their asking people become re centered in our collective story where they belong Only then can proper context be understood and criticism and perspective be applied We believe this approach to be the missing link in our education and understanding of current issues norms and discussion points Hopefully after reading this work each reader s critical thinking will activate around all history permanently That will certainly aid humanity s evolution and communication Wait does that mean this book can be categorized as self help Argue away

Reading Novels During the Covid-19 Pandemic Ben Davies, Christina Lupton, Johanne Gormsen Schmidt, 2022-10-20 Drawing on an ethnographic study of novel readers in Denmark and the UK during the Covid 19 pandemic this book provides a snapshot of a phenomenal moment in modern history The ethnographic approach shows what no historical account of books published during the pandemic will be able to capture namely the movement of readers between new purchases and books long kept in their collections The book follows readers who have tuned into novels about plague apocalypse and racial violence but also readers whose taste for older novels and for re reading novels they knew earlier in their lives has grown Alternating between chapters that analyse single texts that were popular Albert Camus s The Plague Ali Smith s Summer Charlotte Br nte s Jane Eyre and others that describe clusters of for example dystopian fiction and nature writing this work brings out the diverse quality of the Covid 19 bookshelf Time is of central importance to this study both in terms of the time of lockdown and the temporality of reading itself within this wider disrupted sense of time By exploring these varied experiences this book investigates the larger question of how the consumption of novels depends on and shapes people s experience of non work time providing a specific lens through which to examine the phenomenology of reading more generally This timely work also negotiates debates in the study of reading that distinguish theoretically between critical reading and reading for pleasure between professional and lay reading All sides of the sociological and literary debate must be brought to bear in understanding what readers tell us about what novels have meant to them in this complex historical moment
