potential clients People are going to say that I had some inside information but actually I had just been doing a bit of deduction Unfortunately or one could say fortunately for me I had hit the nail firmly upon the head and within the month there was an extensive crackdown on these services using cell phone services in order to ring up contact clients or ask their tele callers to solicit clients through cell phones So I asked my then editor if I should write about online marketing and what I thought about it He told me that it was a potential multibillion dollar industry and I should keep away from it because there was going to come a time when people would be spending billions of dollars ordering things online and this was the way things were going to be in the future He had more experience in reading his markets being a savvy businessman and selling his magazines online So I kept dropped the topic and looked into other avenues That was when eBay had not come into existence and within a couple of years Mister Omidyar had the bright idea of making a site which would sell everything from broken lasers to a Mercedes Benz for 10 One knows all about the story about a lady putting up her dead and defunct two timing husband s Mercedes Benz online for 10 because he had Willed his property to her but the money from the sale of the Mercedes Benz was to be given to his girlfriend Wifey sold it for 12 50 Let me give you another example Most of us have got plenty of amazing bargains on eBay and even Amazon especially vintage one of a kind stuff because one man s junk is somebody else s treasure
