TikTok

It's been a while since a new social app got big enough, to make non-users feel they're missing out from experience.

TikTok is an app for making and sharing short videos. The videos are tall, not square, like on Snapchat or Instagram's stories.

However, you navigate through videos by scrolling up and down.

Hashtags play a surprisingly large role on TikTok. Twitter hoped its users might congregate around hashtags in a never-ending series.

On TikTok, hashtags exist as a real, functional organizing principle: not for news, or even really anything trending anywhere else than TikTok.

TikTok can feel, for an American audience, like a most excellent hits compilation, TikTok — known as Douyin in China, is one of the most popular of many short-video-sharing apps in that country. This landscape evolved both alongside and at arm's length from the American tech industry.

There are messaging features. Users can make use of them like any other social app.

The various aesthetic and functional similarities to Vine or Snapchat or Instagram belie a core difference: TikTok is more machine than man.

Living with Algorithms Ignacio Siles, 2023-04-25 A nuanced account from a user perspective of what it's like to live in a datafied world. We live in a media saturated society that increasingly transforms our experiences, relations and identities into data others can analyze and monetize. Algorithms are key to this process, surveilling our most mundane practices and to many their control over our lives seems absolute. In Living with Algorithms Ignacio Siles critically challenges this view by surveying user dynamics in the global south across three algorithmic platforms: Netflix, Spotify and TikTok, and finds surprisingly a more balanced relationship. Drawing on a wealth of empirical evidence that privileges the user over the corporate, Siles examines the personal relationships that have formed between users and algorithms as Latin Americans have integrated these systems into the structures of everyday life: enacted them, ritually participated in public with and through them, and thwarted them. Sometimes users follow algorithms, Siles finds, and sometimes users resist them. At times users do both. Agency lies in the navigation of the spaces in between. By analyzing what we do with algorithms rather than what algorithms do to us, Living with Algorithms clarifies the debate over the future of datafication and whether we have a say in its development.

Concentrating on an understudied region of the global south, the book provides a new perspective on the commonalities and differences among users within a global ecology of technologies. Questions and answers for the classroom Gr 10-12

Centering Multilingual Learners in School Curriculum through Community Asset Mapping Ching-Ching Lin, Huseyin Uysal, 2025-05-27 Centering Multilingual Learners in School Curriculum through Community Asset Mapping is written for educators working with culturally and linguistically diverse student populations, particularly those from historically marginalized backgrounds. It presents and explores Community Asset Mapping (CAM) as a transformative pedagogical approach that values students' lived experiences, cultural wealth, and linguistic repertoires as essential components of learning. It speaks to teachers who seek to integrate students' strengths and assets into the curriculum while challenging hierarchical structures of knowledge and language within the education system. Written by two multilingual language education professionals who draw upon their own educational journeys and rich, multifaceted experience working with multilingual learners, this book is also grounded in a post-qualitative research approach. It weaves together culturally responsive teaching, translanguaging, and community asset mapping as a co-learning practice alongside a diverse range of critical theories and pedagogical approaches. This resource extends beyond academic scholarship; it engages with community-based initiatives, social entrepreneurship, and lived experiences to offer both a holistic perspective and a practical, action-oriented approach. Through this lens, the authors aim to equip educators with the tools to transform classrooms into more equitable and justice driven learning spaces Throughout the book numerous examples and practical resources are offered to bring these ideas to life demonstrating how CAM can be implemented in the classroom as a powerful and enriching teaching strategy More than just a resource this book is a call to action an invitation for educators to embark on a collaborative journey It embraces vulnerability emphasizes co learning and celebrates the communities that shape the work of language education professionals Through this shared effort the authors invite educators to join them in critically reimagining education and advocating for more equitable asset based practices that truly honor the voices and experiences of their students Perfect for courses such as Multicultural and multilingual Education Sociolinguistics Methods and Materials in TESOL Education Curriculum Design in Education or TESOL Language Culture and Society Urban Education Family Engagement in Education

Reimagining Communication in a Post-pandemic World: The Intersection of Information, Media Technology, and Psychology Runxi Zeng,Hichang Cho,Richard David Evans,Anfan Chen,2023-04-05

The COVID 19 pandemic has dramatically changed social interactions Social distancing policies lockdowns and mandatory quarantines have accelerated the technological mediation of communication e g AI mediated communication computer mediated communication on an unprecedented scale willingly or otherwise Many physical activities such as office work education and conferences have had to be performed in the online space through social media apps the metaverse or specialized programs on mobile phones or laptops as part of pandemic control efforts As a result digitally mediated channels have become critical for information acquisition and communication across a wide spectrum of human activities such as education social interaction entertainment and commercial activities Human beings are increasingly reliant on non human agents including social media Artificial Intelligence AI powered tools or smartphone mobile devices for most routine activities professional communication and social interactions As scientific understanding of COVID 19 improves pandemic restrictions are gradually loosening However it remains to be seen whether the pandemic communication paradigm characterized by heavy technological mediation and reliance on non human agents will also gradually decline or will the paradigm shift become deeply entrenched with further acceleration of dependency on technological mediation and non human agents
