real feast a smorgasbord This is a magnificent piece of work and the 36 page index rounds it all off splendidly John Blundell

Aleksander Sulejewicz Journal of Contemporary European Research Over 800 pages on the economics of sport What a feast

And there are real gems in some of the contributions British Journal on the Economics of Sport This very interesting and Mediaweek ,1992 New Forms of Consumption Mark Gottdiener,2000-11-01 Consumption as a field of cultural studies overlaps with theories of postmodernism the social construction of self commodification in late capitalism and the role of mass media in daily life New forms of consumption such as those facilitated by cyberspace themed environments the commodification of sex and the increasing role of leisure in society all play new and interesting roles in daily life that combine consumerism with the most contemporary social forms This collection of essays examines the recent ways in which consumerism has been approached by cultural studies with special emphasis given to these and other newly emerging topics

The book is divided into three parts The first part provides a theoretical overview of consumption studies dealing with classical and more contemporary approaches in light of the debate between advocates and critics of postmodernism In this section there are papers on McDonaldization tourism and cultural studies and the Theory of Shopping The second part emphasizes empirical studies of the commodification process Papers address the transformation of womenOs bodies and the mass commodification of milk the creation of the toddler as a subject and the commodification of childhood the commodification of sports and the commodification of rock music The third section of the book explores new forms of consumption on a more detailed and concentrated level Papers in this section include the rise of sex tourism as a global industry the commodification of the sacred and the emergence of new consumer spaces in the city An introduction by the editor delineates the advantages of his approach to new forms of consumption based squarely in the emerging issues of cultural studies debates transcending postmodernism and the society of the spectacle
