Computer Games and Instruction J. D. Fletcher, Sigmund Tobias, 2011-05-01 There is intense interest in computer games. A total of 65 percent of all American households play computer games and sales of such games increased 22.9 percent last year. The average amount of game playing time was found to be 13.2 hours per week. The popularity and market success of games is evident from both the increased earnings from games over 7 Billion in 2005 and from the fact that over 200 academic institutions worldwide now offer game related programs of study. In view of the intense interest in computer games, educators and trainers in business industry, the government and the military would like to use computer games to improve the delivery of instruction. Computer Games and Instruction is intended for these educators and trainers. It reviews the research evidence supporting use of computer games for instruction and also reviews the history of games in general in education and by the military. In addition, chapters examine gender differences in game use and the implications of games for use by lower socio-economic students, for students reading and for contemporary theories of instruction. Finally, well known scholars of games will respond to the evidence reviewed. U.S. Navy Fundamentals of War Gaming Francis J. McHugh, 2013-07-01 The classic text U.S. Navy Fundamentals of War Gaming provides an in-depth introduction to the basics of military gaming and offers historical insights into the development of war gaming methodologies. It covers the evolution of gaming tools such as ancient adaptations of chess and the development of Kriegspiel to teach military tactics to Prussian officers. The employment of gaming by various military powers before and during the World Wars is explored and culminates with the introduction of computer support and simulations in the U.S. Navy. Also presented is a comprehensive treatment of the various forms of war gaming from manual games to computer-assisted games from one-sided to multi-sided games and from free play games to rigid style games. McHugh addresses every aspect of gaming imaginable including data requirements, design, execution and analysis. Even the use of probabilistic tables to emulate stochastic processing and the use of flow diagrams for decisions are included. McHugh was a member of the Naval War College staff when that institution became the forerunner of all U.S. military services for applying gaming technology to educate officers and to evaluate tactical situations, operations and strategy. He traces the history of gaming at the College from Lt William McCarty Little in the late 1800s to the employment of the NEWS Naval Electronic Warfare Simulator in the twentieth century. Reconceptualizing the Literacies in Adolescents' Lives Donna E. Alvermann, Kathleen A. Hinchman, David W. Moore, III, David W. Moore, Stephen F. Phelps, Diane R. Waff, 2007-07-10 Reconceptualizing the Literacies in Adolescents' Lives Second Edition focuses on exploring the impact of young people's identity making practices in mediating their perceptions of themselves as readers and writers in an era of externally mandated reforms What is different in the Second Edition is its emphasis on the importance of valuing adolescents' perspectives in an era of skyrocketing interest in improving literacy instruction at the middle and high school levels driven by externally mandated reforms and accountability measures. A central concern is the degree to which this new interest takes into account adolescents' personal, social, and cultural experiences in relation to literacy learning. In this new edition of Reconceptualizing the Literacies in Adolescents' Lives, students' voices and perspectives are featured front and center in every chapter. Particular attention is given throughout to multiple literacies, especially how information and new communication technologies are changing learning from and with text. Nine of the 15 chapters are new; all other chapters are thoroughly updated. The volume is structured around four main themes: Situating Adolescents' Literacies (addressing how young people use favorite texts to perform their identities, how they counter school-based constructions of incompetence, and how they re-construct their literate identities in relation to certain kinds of gendered expectations, pedagogies, and cultural resources); Positioning Youth as Readers and Writers (stressing the importance of classroom discourse, cultural capital, agency, and democratic citizenship in mediating adolescents' literate identities); Mediating Practices in Young People's Literacies (looking at issues of language, social class, race, and culture in shaping how adolescents represent themselves and are represented by others); and Changing Teachers Teaching (changes capturing the productive ambiguities associated with teaching urban adolescents to read and write in changing times, encouraging students to conduct action research on topics that are personally relevant, and using enabling constraints as a concept to formulate policies on adolescent literacy instruction). Reconceptualizing the Literacies in Adolescents' Lives, Second Edition, is an essential volume for researchers, faculty, teacher educators, and graduate students in the field of adolescent literacy education.
