Hockey Night in Dixie Jon C. Stott,2011-04-15 During the 1980s the geography of minor league professional hockey changed radically moving from its roots in the Canadian Maritime provinces New England and the Midwestern states into the American south In addition to cities like Dallas Charlotte Norfolk and Oklahoma City which had long traditions of minor league hockey unlikely places such as Biloxi Baton Rouge Little Rock and Augusta hosted teams Over an 18 year period minor league hockey was played in 72 different southern cities and at one point there were more minor league teams in Texas than in all of Canada making Texas the place where many players learned their hockey skills Hockey Night in Dixie examines this phenomenon with a historical overview of the period including interviews with people involved in the founding and early years of each of the 13 leagues There are also in depth portraits of four teams one from each of the four lower minor leagues that played during the 2005 06 season These portraits feature interviews with owners coaches players officials fans and reporters Amply illustrated with photographs Hockey Night in Dixie paints a vivid picture of this extraordinary development in minor league sports

When the NHL Invaded Japan Steve Currier,2022-07-08 When the NHL announced in early 1976 that its two worst teams the Washington Capitals and Kansas City Scouts would travel to Japan for a four game exhibition series dubbed the Coca Cola Bottlers Cup fans and media were baffled The Capitals and the Scouts were both expansion teams with a combined 46 wins 236 losses and 38 ties in their first two seasons stats made more dismal when considering seven of those wins were against each other Yet lagging so hopelessly behind the rest of the NHL they were perfect for a one off event on the other side of the globe The series was an eye opening success Players skated on an Olympic swimming pool ringed with rickety boards hung with fishing nets that boomeranged pucks into their faces as curious Japanese fans gasped at the gap toothed Canadians wrestling on the ice Filled with rare photos and player recollections this book tells the story of how two league doormats became hockey heroes half way around the world
