Land Use Dynamics and Governance in Sungai Selangor Watershed Jamilah Mohamad, Goh Hong Ching, 2015-11-24 Watersheds have been widely recognized as the best scale at which to govern water At the geographic scale of the watersheds stakeholders are able to make decisions on how to manage water resources in a setting more conducive to participation Through coordinated development and management of water land and related resources economic and social welfare can be optimized without compromising sustainability of vital environmental systems Sungai Selangor is an important water resource for the state of Selangor It is the major contributor in meeting water demand to the Selangor State and Kuala Lumpur Since early days Sungai Selangor has played a central role in the development of settlements in northern Selangor The research described here is an attempt to understand the development forces operating in the Sungai Selangor watershed The approach taken is intentionally multidisciplinary as it attempts to paint a broad brush picture of the current situation within the Sungai Selangor watershed Increasing pressures on land development is a major factor that causes land use conflicts in the watershed Spatial environmental governance should improve collaboration and connections between citizens and decision makers at the
