Working with the Voluntary Sector Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts,2006-03-02 The term third sector describes a range of voluntary and community sector organisations including small local community groups registered charities foundations trusts and co operatives Following on from the NAO report HCP 75 session 2005 06 ISBN 0102933243 published in June 2005 the Committees report examines the progress made by central government departments and other funders to improve the way they work with the third sector to achieve value for money in the provision of public services Findings include that voluntary sector funding represents less than one per cent of central government spending and only limited progress has been made to increase the sectors involvement in delivering government programmes Voluntary sector organisations are often subject to greater scrutiny and monitoring than private sector providers and fairer funding practices need to be applied by departments The Public Service Agreement target to achieve a five per cent increase in voluntary sector participation in public service delivery by 2006 is likely to be met but the Home Office and the Treasury need to set revised targets beyond 2006 to provide a real incentive to departments to increase their engagement with the sector Using Microsoft Office Project 2003 Tim Pyron,2004 By covering this project management tool this work offers the reader an understanding of the features functions and best practices of project management An Index of State Specifications and Standards Linda L.
