Global Economic Prospects 2008 World Bank, 2008-01-08

Global Economic Prospects 2008 Technology Diffusion in the Developing World examines the state of technology in developing countries and the pace with which it has advanced since the early 1990s It reveals both encouraging and cautionary trends On the one hand the pace of technological progress in developing countries has been much faster than in high income countries reflecting increased exposure to foreign technology as a result of linkages with high skilled diasporas and the opening of these countries to international trade and foreign direct investment On the other hand the technology gap remains large and the domestic factors that determine how quickly technologies spread within developing countries often stymie progress especially among low income countries This year's Global Economic Prospects comes on the heels of an extended period of strong growth and a 15 year period of strong performance in much of the developing world which has contributed to substantial declines in global poverty While high oil prices and heightened market volatility may signal a coming pause in this process over the longer term continued technological progress should continue to push back poverty Rapid technological progress in developing countries has been central to the reduction of poverty in recent decades While the integration of global markets has played and will continue to play a key role in this future success will increasingly depend on strengthening technical competencies and the business environment for innovative firms in developing countries

Graeme Wheeler Managing Director The World Bank Higher Education, Globalization and Eduscapes Per-Anders Forstorp,Ulf Mellström,2018-04-25 This book examines transnational scapes and flows of higher education arguing that the educational and political vision of a national regional and global knowledge society needs to be perspectivized beyond its ethnocentric conditions and meanings Using eduscapes as its most important concept this book explores the educational landscapes of individual as well as institutional actors particularly the agential aspects of how global eduscapes are imagined experienced negotiated and constructed In addition the authors highlight the critical potential of anthropology using this perspective as a resource for cultural critique where the Western experience and assumed ownership of the global knowledge economy will be put into question This comprehensive book will appeal to students and scholars of educational policy the sociology of education and the globalization of education PISA Education in the Eastern Partnership:

Findings from PISA OECD,United Nations Children's Fund,2024-12-17 The countries of the Eastern Partnership EaP an initiative between the Member States of the European Union and Eastern European and South Caucasus countries are navigating significant challenges while striving for sustainable economic growth and social cohesion Education plays a crucial role in unlocking the potential of digitalisation and the green transition offering pathways for economic diversification and innovation This report developed in co operation with the European Commission and UNICEF analyses PISA data for the EaP countries and economies that participated in PISA 2022 Baku Azerbaijan Georgia Moldova and Ukrainian regions It identifies the strengths and challenges within these education systems and provides recommendations on how to build more resilient equitable and high performing systems to support economic and social goals This report will be of particular interest to policymakers and stakeholders dedicated to advancing education across the Eastern Partnership region Research in Education ,1974 Resources in Education ,1998 Building the Knowledge Economy, Transforming Cities?

Transnational Education Zones as a Multi-Scalar Development Strategy in the Arab Gulf Region Tim

Rottlieb,2024-10-24 This book explores the strategies of governments in Doha Dubai and Ras al Khaimah in the Arab Gulf to attract offshore campuses of foreign universities These campuses predominantly Western are drawn by policies creating transnational education zones TEZs that offer infrastructures legal exceptions and administrative benefits while evoking vibrant international academic communities Governments expect TEZs to develop local higher education and drive economic transformation towards knowledge based economies Adopting a cultural political economy perspective the book integrates insights from urban and economic geography with debates on the Gulf s political economy and transnational higher education Through qualitative interviews and document analysis it reveals how governments leverage the zones and their offshore campuses to generate contingent skilled labour and position their cities as international education hubs This work highlights how governments driven by the economic imaginary of the knowledge based economy create exceptional spaces to navigate the global local dynamics of transnational higher education Battleground: Immigration Judith Ann

Warner,2008-12-30 Among the most tumultuous conflicts of modern America is the war over legal and undocumented immigrants currently residing within U S borders Since the passing of the 1965 Immigration and Naturalization Act America has witnessed an unprecedented flow of immigrants onto its shores with increased diversity of race and culture Battleground Immigration examines the most critical issues surrounding immigration today including effects on the economy education and employment as well as the viability of the foreign born in American society All sides of the immigration debate are explored in this comprehensive 2 volume set with special weight given to the very specific issues that have arisen in post 9 11 America homeland security and border control 9 11 s impact on legislation and civil liberties the Department of Homeland security and its role in border control transnational organized crime human smuggling and trafficking and post 9 11 border control and security impact on immigration With direct ties to the curriculum this set is a valuable resource for students of sociology current events American history political science ethnic studies and public policy Reconstructions in Middle East Economic History Don Babai,2024-10-24 This volume explores major theoretical and empirical themes in the study of the economic history of the Middle East Despite the relative neglect of economic history in Middle Eastern studies this book makes a case for its importance as a discipline of study On the one hand it shows promise in illuminating the economic base of historical trends and events on the other it can elucidate the historical foundations of economic continuity and change The chapters employ an array of theoretical and methodological approaches and ultimately demonstrate how economics and history along with political economy complement each other in studying the Middle East Among the substantive topics explored are the trajectories of the Arab Spring institutional change and economic development in the early Ottoman Empire the destructive effects of the reordering property rights in Iraq by the American led occupation authority the evolution of the political economy of the Islamic Republic of Iran and the determinants of movements in the yields of Egyptian and Ottoman sovereign debt following political and economic crises in the 19th and early 20th centuries The book will be of interest to scholars and students of economic history political economy and the Middle East Teaching World History: A Resource Book Heidi Roupp, 2015-03-04 A resource book for teachers of world history at all levels The text contains individual sections on art gender religion philosophy literature trade and technology Lesson plans reading and multi media recommendations and suggestions for classroom activities are also provided The Mediterranean Sea Wafa Boulajfene, 2024-10-31 Over the last century the Mediterranean Sea has experienced significant alterations due to natural processes and human activities Some key changes include sea level rise temperature changes salinity fluctuations circulation patterns erosion and sedimentation loss of biodiversity pollution and overfishing etc It s important to note that while many of these alterations are driven by natural processes human activities have accelerated and exacerbated these changes Addressing these issues requires concerted global efforts to mitigate climate change reduce pollution and promote sustainable management of natural resources International HRM and Development in Emerging Market Multinationals Paresha Sinha, Parth Patel, Verma Prikshat, 2021-12-21 Emerging multinational enterprises or EMNEs have made a huge impact on the international business stage by internationalising at a rapid rate And they have performed remarkably well in both developing and developed countries Accordingly there is a growing strand of literature on how EMNEs manage their international human resource IHRM practices in different international contexts However the majority of the literature on IHRM practices of EMNEs is limited to explaining what international management practices EMNEs implement in their foreign subsidiaries and how they implement them Too often EMNEs struggle to transfer their weak management practices across national borders as they have limited experience resources and capabilities when compared to MNEs from developed countries Developing a better understanding on the manner in which EMNEs adopt their international human resource management and development practices abroad is therefore paramount to fully understand their globalisation related behaviours This dedicated book will aim to provide a holistic picture and contemporary insights on IHRM in emerging multinational enterprises It will be of interest to researchers academics and students in the fields of business and management especially those with a particular interest in human resource management firm internationalisation and emerging markets Economic Crisis and Political Change in North Africa Azzedine Layachi, 1998-10-28 A collective effort by American and North African scholars this volume provides a comprehensive analysis of recent economic social and political events in North Africa It shows how the Maghrebi states and societies are currently at a very important junction as they try to adjust to different ways of doing things in new regional and international orders Using a political economy approach the book focuses on a series of issues raised by the interaction between economic crisis and reform on the one hand and political change or stagnation on the other The author and his contributors provide a comprehensive and up to date survey of particular value to scholars and researchers of the Arab world in general and North Africa in particular

Muslim-christian Conflicts Suad Joseph,2019-10-10 What does religion mean in people s daily lives In what ways is it a component of ethnic identity How do religious identities and structures relate to other social identities and structures and to political and economic institutions and behavior How can Muslim Christian relations be understood in the context of the emergence of the world capitalist system These are some of the questions addressed by the authors of this volume Their collective goal growing out of a desire to understand the continuing war in Lebanon is to study the circumstances under which religious differences become politically salient General Foreign Policy Series , World Data Handbook United States.
