Relevant Query Answering over Streaming and Distributed Data Shima Zahmatkesh, Emanuele Della Valle, 2020-01-21 This book examines the problem of relevant query answering over the Web and provides a comprehensive overview of relevant query answering over streaming and distributed data In recent years Web applications that combine highly dynamic data streams with data distributed over the Web to provide relevant answers have attracted increasing attention Answering in a timely fashion i.e. reactively is one of the most important performance indicators especially when the distributed data is evolving The book proposes a solution that retains a local replica of the distributed data and offers various maintenance policies to refresh the replica over time A limited refresh budget guarantees the reactivity of the system Focusing on stream processing and Semantic Web it appeals to scientists and graduate students in the field ECAI 2008 European Coordinating Committee for Artificial Intelligence,2008 Includes subconference Prestigious Applications of Intelligent Systems PAIS 2008 Media Libraries in an Age of Unending Consumption Mike Van Esler,2023-10-24 As the home video market upended traditional film industry models media libraries emerged as important sources of ancillary revenue The inflection point for media library exploitation came in 2007 when Netflix launched its streaming service relying on extensive licensing of film and television libraries to grow its subscriber base In this book Mike Van Esler examines how media libraries and business models have evolved since the home video era with particular emphasis placed on the streaming age of the past fifteen years Van Esler argues that media libraries have grown beyond their usages from the pre home video era to become central to today s corporate media strategy By studying the ways in which media library exploitation has scaled up since the turn of the new millennium the author identifies insights into larger media industry trends Ultimately this book explores the intersection of corporate media independent distributors private equity tech companies and audiences Scholars of media studies business and sociology will find this book of particular interest Online TV Catherine Johnson,2019-01-04 With growth in access to high speed broadband and 4G and increased ownership of smartphones tablets and internet connected television sets the internet has simultaneously begun to compete with and transform television Online TV argues that these changes create the conditions for an emergent internet era that challenges the language and concepts that we have to talk about television as a medium In a wide ranging analysis Catherine Johnson sets out a series of conceptual frameworks designed to provide a clearer language with which to analyse the changes to television in the internet era and to bring into focus the power dynamics of the online TV industry From providing definitions of online TV and the online TV industry to examining the ways in which technology rights interfaces and algorithms are used to control and constrain access to audiovisual content Online TV is a timely intervention into debates about contemporary internet and television cultures A must read for any students scholars and practitioners who want to understand and analyse the ways in which television is intertwining with and being transformed by the internet
