Jones,2013-08-15 The past decade has seen a profound shift in our collective understanding of the digital network What was once understood to be a transcendent virtual reality is now experienced as a ubiquitous grid of data that we move through and interact with every day raising new questions about the social locative embodied and object oriented nature of our experience in the networked world In The Emergence of the Digital Humanities Steven E Jones examines this shift in our relationship to digital technology and the ways that it has affected humanities scholarship and the academy more broadly Based on the premise that the network is now everywhere rather than merely out there Jones links together seemingly disparate cultural events the essential features of popular social media the rise of motion control gaming and mobile platforms the controversy over the gamification of everyday life the spatial turn fabrication and 3D printing and electronic publishing and argues that cultural responses to changes in technology provide an essential context for understanding the emergence of the digital humanities as a new field of study in this millennium The Open Access version of this book available military practitioners alike The volume is divided into six thematic sections Section I draws out general trends in the phenomenon of war and sketches the most significant developments from the past to the present and into the future Section II looks at the areas and domains which actively shape the future of warfare Section III engages with the main theories and conceptions of warfare capturing those attributes of contemporary conflicts which will most likely persist and determine the dynamics and directions of their transformations The fourth section addresses differentiation and complexity in the domain of warfare pointing to those factors which will exert a strong impact on the structure and properties of that domain Section V focuses on technology as the principal trigger of changes and alterations in the essence of warfare The final section draws on the general trends identified in Section I and sheds light on how those trends have manifested in specific local contexts This section zooms in on particular geographies which are seen and anticipated as hotbeds where future warfare will most likely assume its shape and reveal its true colours This book will be of great interest to students of strategic studies defence studies war and technology and International Relations International Business, International Adaptation Shad Morris,James Oldroyd,2023 With the incisive and comprehensive exploration of international business in the modern world in this edition of International Business an accomplished team of educators and business practitioners delivers a revitalized approach to the discipline that brings international business to life This edition of the book includes one of a kind chapters on sustainability poverty and innovation as well as explorations of the COVID 19 pandemic and its effects on commerce the business implications of social and civic justice race and inequality debates and new case studies including one on equity diversity and inclusion at Microsoft The book efficiently prepares students for the global economy and transforms the authors impressive international experience at multinational corporations into an indispensable pedagogical resource This international adaptation further strengthens the bond between the readers and the contemporary world of international business through the introduction of new case studies caselets illustrations and exhibits related to India Australia bilateral trade association solar mammas of Sudan evolution of Islamic banking in Tanzania McDonald s kosher menu in Israel and so on It takes us through the emerging factors affecting the international business such as digital transformation and global supply chain strategies post COVID 19 Critical thinking questions added at the end of each chapter will encourage the students to think analytically and delve deeper into the topic
