Milan Kundera Slowness:

Slowness Milan Kundera, 2020-11-09 A heady existential tale of seduction and romance by the author of modern classic The Unbearable Lightness of Being An artist clearly one of the best to be found anywhere Salman Rushdie Kundera designs fictions of the highest order Ian McEwan Audacity wit and sheer brilliance New York Times Book Review In a French chateau on a midsummer's night two tales of seduction entwine separated in time by over two hundred years but united in their quest for sensual pleasure Through their romantic endeavors a contemporary holidaymaker and eighteenth century chevalier illustrate our era's obsession with the vulgar demon of speed and the phenomenon of the dancer Oscillating between the sublime and ridiculous the historic and the modern Kundera's first novel written in French is an enchanting libertine fantasy radiant with intelligence and wisdom

Milan Kundera's Fiction Karen von Kunes, 2019-05-20 In Milan Kundera's Fiction A Critical Approach to Existential Betrayals Karen von Kunes traces Kundera's literary aspirations to a single episode in Czechoslovakia in the Stalinist era This moment attracted international attention when a 1950 police report was released in 2008 Reporters rushed to judgment accusing Kundera of denouncing Miroslav Dvořák to the police resulting in Dvořák's immediate arrest and sentencing to hard labor von Kunes debunks this shocking charge in a systematic way and argues that Kundera reported a suitcase not a man She ties Kundera's dominant themes of sex betrayal and political denouncement to the suitcase a fatal instrument that can lead to paradoxes and unforeseen and catastrophic coincidences for his characters

The Ethics of Mobilities Tore Sager, 2016-03-23 With this book the international academic discourse on mobility is taken a step further through the intertwined perspectives of different social sciences engineering and the humanities The Ethics of Mobilities departs from the recent interest in social surveillance raised by the use of technology for the surveillance and control of mobility as well as for transport It widens this theme to encompass a broad scale of issues ranging from freedom and escape to social exclusion and control thus raising important questions of ethics identity and religion questions that are dealt with by a diverse yet structured range of chapters arranged around the themes of ethics and religion and freedom and control Through their variety and diversity of perspectives the chapters of this book offer a substantial interdisciplinary contribution to the socially and environmentally relevant discussion about what a technically and economically accelerating mobility does to life and how it might be transformed to sustain a more life enhancing future Ethics of Mobilities will excite not only international interest but will also appeal to scholars across a wide range of disciplines in fields as diverse as theology and engineering

Tsai Ming-liang and a Cinema of Slowness Song Hwee Lim, 2014-01-31 How can we qualify slowness in cinema What is the relationship between a cinema of slowness and a wider socio cultural slow movement A body of films that shares a propensity toward slowness has emerged in many parts of the world over the past two decades This is the first book to examine the concept of cinematic slowness and address this fascinating phenomenon in contemporary film culture Providing a critical investigation into questions of temporality materiality and aesthetics and examining concepts of authorship cinephilia and nostalgia Song Hwee Lim offers insight into cinematic slowness through the films of the Malaysian born Taiwan based director Tsai Ming liang Through detailed analysis of aspects of stillness and silence in cinema Lim delineates the strategies by which slowness in film can be constructed By drawing on writings on cinephilia and the films of directors such as Abbas Kiarostami Hou Hsiao hsien and Nuri Bilge Ceylan he makes a passionate case for a slow cinema that calls for renewed attention to the image and to the experience of time in film Tsai Ming liang and a Cinema of Slowness will speak to readers with an interest in art cinema queer studies East Asian culture and the question of time In an age of unrelenting acceleration of pace both in film and in life this book invites us to pause and listen to linger and look and above all to take things slowly

On Slowness Lutz Koepnick,2014-10-07 Speed is an obvious facet of contemporary society whereas slowness has often been dismissed as conservative and antimodern Challenging a long tradition of thought Lutz Koepnick instead proposes we understand slowness as a strategy of the contemporary a decidedly modern practice that gazes firmly at and into the present s velocity As he engages with late twentieth and early twenty first century art photography video film and literature Koepnick explores slowness as a critical medium to intensify our temporal and spatial experiences Slowness helps us register the multiple layers of time history and motion that constitute our present It offers a timely and untimely mode of aesthetic perception and representation that emphasizes the openness of the future and undermines any conception of the present as a mere replay of the past Discussing the photography and art of Janet Cardiff Olafur Eliasson Hiroshi Sugimoto and Michael Wesely the films of Peter Weir and Tom Tykwer the video installations of Douglas Gordon Willie Doherty and Bill Viola and the fiction of Don DeLillo Koepnick shows how slowness can carve out spaces within processes of acceleration that allow us to reflect on alternate temporalities and durations

Mostly Missing: Be Silly Be Slow Prof (Dr.) Mahul Brahma,2022-10-12 The two critical aspects that go mostly missing in experiencing our lives fully as we become more and more mature are slowness and silliness There is not much literature on these two vital aspects of our lives that is mostly looked down upon in a world dominated by speed and seriousness or the act of it Yes being dead serious or acting so is the only acceptable solution if you want to be taken seriously by your family friends and peers Along the way unwittingly your professional life has been mixed with your personal life The concept of work from home has eliminated the blurred line between professional and personal space Seriousness finds entry into a space that is meant to be silly and the fast pace enters a life that is meant to be slow Slowness and silliness thus have no room left in your office home space This book in two parts explores these two vital elements of our lives that are on the verge of extinction being silly and being slow that are mostly missing BeSilly BeSlow

Mobile Media in the Asia-Pacific Larissa Hjorth,2008-10-13 This century has been marked by the rapid and divergent uptake of mobile telephony throughout the world The mobile phone has become a poignant symbol for postmodernity and the attendant modes of global mobility and immobility Most notably the icon of the mobile phone is most palpable in the Asia Pacific in which a diversity of innovation and consumer practices reflecting gender and locality can be found Through the lens of gendered mobile media Mobile Media in the Asia Pacific provides insight into this phenomenon by focusing on case studies in Japan South Korea China and Australia Despite the ubiquity and multi layered nature of mobile media in the region the patterns of female consumption have received little attention in the growing literature on mobile communication globally Utilising ethnographic research conducted in the Asia Pacific over a six year period this book investigates the relationship between gender technology and various forms of mobility and immobility in the region This book outlines the emerging modes of gender performativity that makes the Asia Pacific region so distinct to other regions globally Mobile Media in the Asia Pacific is a fascinating read for students and scholars interested in new media and gender in the Asia Pacific region

Translating Indigenous Knowledges Ma Carmen África Vidal Claramonte, 2024-12-30 In this book Vidal presents a new way of translating indigenous epistemologies For centuries the Western world has ordained what knowledge is and what it should be and has also been responsible for transmitting that knowledge This universal knowledge has traveled to the four corners of the globe In recent decades there has been a steadily growing interest in dialogical epistemologies Disciplines ranging from historiography and philosophy to anthropology are calling for this universalist idea of knowledge to be modified Thanks to this change of perspective other forms of knowledge which until now have been ignored are gradually coming to light Indigenous knowledges are not constructed with the scientific binary static Cartesian or univocal logic characteristic of Western societies Non Western types of knowledge incorporate senses emotions body objects and matter It is impossible to reduce indigenous knowledges to Western conceptualizations The types of translation covered in this book assume that knowledge is not transmitted only in the Western way and that there are world views that take into account the emotions and body as well as the intellect This includes all types of beings human non human and extrahuman In the face of this plurality of epistemologies this book affirms that the static Western conceptual traditions characterized by a binary logic are not useful and that there is a need to translate outside the scope of these traditions The examples given in this book show that translation is not only a process involving Western and non Western languages Translation is not a mere substitution of one word for another because knowledge is not only transmitted through words It also involves non verbal elements Knowledge is transmitted through objects songs sensations and emotions as well as through words Moreover many non Western traditions do not translate with language systems but rather with other semiotic systems such as knots threads colors and bodies in movement This is a timely topical and transdisciplinary reading of interest to advanced students and researchers in translation studies anthropology and beyond

Light and Photomedia Jai McKenzie, 2020-09-02 Light and Photomedia proposes that regardless of technological change the history and future of photomedia is essentially connected to light It is a fundamental property of photomedia binding with space and time to form and inform new explicitly light based structures and experiences Jai McKenzie identifies light space time structures throughout the history of photomedia from the early image machines through analogue and digital image machines to the present day She proposes that they will continue to develop in the future and takes us to future image machines of the year 2039 With the use of the theories of Paul Virilio Jean Baudrillard and Vilem Flusser featuring artists including Henri Cartier Bresson Nam June Paik Yves Klein Eadweard Muybridge Martha Rosler Cindy Sherman and Michael Snow as well as their photographic images Light and Photomedia places the reader in a new history and future which although mostly overlooked by the canon of photomedia theory is an essential line of enquiry for contemporary thinking and dialogue in photography

Global Perspectives on Probing Narratives in Healthcare Casal, Teresa, Cabral, Maria de Jesus, 2023-06-01 There is often a communication disconnect between medical caregivers including doctors nurses therapists and other assistive medical personnel and the patient While medical staff usually understand a patient's symptoms causes and treatments communicating this understanding to a patient using industry terminologies can lead to confusion and misunderstanding and similarly patients may lack the vocabulary to effectively communicate their experiences back to their caregivers A new approach to communication must be bridged between these groups by individuals who have experience on both sides of the conversation Previous studies of doctors who end up in the role of the patient reveal how these individuals have a dual perspective on illness combining their medical knowledge with their own personal medical experiences Narratives including autobiographical accounts and fictional stories can help bridge the gap between experiential and academic knowledge of illness by expanding one's limited perspective and accessing others points of view Autobiographical and fictional narratives can both play a role in developing a more comprehensive understanding of illness beyond simply treating the disease It is necessary to further examine the ethical and methodological underpinnings of narrative based interventions in the education of healthcare professionals practitioners and patients Global Perspectives on Probing Narratives in Healthcare offers a multidisciplinary examination of theoretical and methodological uses of narratives in healthcare by bringing together medical aspects of healthcare and the study of arts and humanities This illustrates specific applications of narratives in healthcare settings including improvement of clinical skills performance of the caring role and self efficacy for building a true partnership in the patient's health journey through varied approaches up to date tools and resources that can be transferred and adapted to specific educational and healthcare contexts This diverse collection of expert knowledge and experience is led by editors with over 20 years of teaching experience Dr Teresa Casal of the University of Lisbon Portugal and Dr Maria de Jesus Cabral of the University of Minho Portugal Expertise featured in this book includes contributions from some of the most prestigious academic institutions including Columbia University in the United States King's College in the United Kingdom University of Padua in Italy and more It is an essential resource for healthcare and social science researchers academics advanced healthcare students health training and education departments healthcare practitioners and patients associations and policymakers in healthcare who are looking to broaden their scope of understanding of the patient experience

Hagberg,2023 Garry Hagberg investigates the role that literature plays in the constitution of a human being and the connection between the language we see at work in imaginative fiction and the language we develop to describe ourselves He asks whether self descriptive or autobiographical language itself plays an active role in shaping our identities Ireland and Ecocriticism Eóin Flannery,2015-10-05 This book is the first truly interdisciplinary intervention into the burgeoning field of Irish ecological criticism Providing original and nuanced readings of Irish cultural texts and personalities in terms of contemporary ecological criticism Flannery s readings of Irish literary fiction poetry travel writing non fiction and essay writing are ground breaking in their depth and scope Explorations of figures and texts from Irish cultural and political history including John McGahern Derek Mahon Roger Casement and Tim Robinson among many others enable and invigorate the discipline of Irish cultural studies and international ecocriticism on the whole This book addresses the need to impress the urgency of lateral ecological awareness and responsibility among Irish cultural and political commentators to highlight continuities and disparities between Irish ecological thought writing and praxis and those of differential international writers critics and activists and to establish both the singularity and contiguity of Irish ecological criticism to the wider international field of ecological criticism With the introduction of concepts such as ecocosmopolitanism deep history ethics of proximity Gaia Theory urban ecology and postcolonial environmentalism to Irish cultural studies it takes Irish cultural studies in bracing new directions Flannery furnishes working examples of the necessary interdisciplinarity of ecological criticism and impresses the relevance of the Irish context to the broader debates within international ecological criticism Crucially the volume imports ecological critical paradigms into the field of Irish studies and demonstrates the value of such conceptual dialogue for the future of Irish cultural and political criticism This pioneering intervention exhibits the complexity of different Irish cultural and historical responses to ecological exploitation degradation and social justice Speeding up Sport Vidya

Subramanian,2022-11-21 Cricket has been the single most popular sport in India In a technologically unmediated age the game was played in the five day test format In 2007 though the sport evolved itself into the Indian Premier League an association that transformed it from mere a sport to an entertainment spectacle raising its viewership TRPs and popularity of the game to hitherto unimaginable heights The IPL consequently became India s first sporting platform This book posits that the growth of the IPL and of the popularity of cricket in contemporary India has also been dependent on the parallel evolution of information and technology systems The implications of technology have affected the way in which it can now be viewed by audiences on the television set at home new technologies have affected umpiring decisions new software are critically tied to generating digital audiences for the sport it can be viewed on one s smartphone and e devices and in general information and communication technology ICT has brought major interface between cricket players administrators brand managers PR agencies and the audience Developing ICTs as a real time technological mediation has made the IPL dependent on the internet television broadcast Twitter facebook and mobile phones This book studies this impact it studies not only how the sport has evolved in a post liberal India but also how technology has affected the way it is viewed and spectated upon thereby altering the cultural and social milieu of the nation

Time, Technology and Narrative Form in Contemporary US Television Drama JP Kelly,2017-10-09 This book examines how television has been transformed over the past twenty years by the introduction of new viewing technologies including DVDs DVRs and streaming services such as Netflix Hulu and Amazon Prime It shows that these platforms have profoundly altered the ways we access and watch television enabling viewers to pause rewind record and archive the once irreversible flow of broadcast TV JP Kelly argues that changes in the technological landscape of television has encouraged the production of narrative forms that both explore and embody new industrial temporalities Focusing on US television but also considering the role of TV within a global marketplace the author identifies three distinct narrative temporalities acceleration 24 Prison Break complexity Lost FlashForward and retrospection Mad Men Through industrial textual analysis of television shows this cross disciplinary study locates these narrative temporalities in their socio cultural contexts and examines connections between production distribution and narrative form in the contemporary television industry

Brand China in the Media Qing Cao,Doreen Wu,Keyan G. Tomaselli,2020-06-29 This book examines China s identity transformations with a focus on self perceptions and their representations and communication in the mass media By considering the internal dynamics of change it explores the emerging multifaceted China brand With its growing economic clout China has taken a proactive stance in shaping global economic and strategic order through ambitious programmes such as the Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank and the Belt and Road initiative However as a developing country China is at pains to manage its own transformations while trying to carve out an international identity Arguably China's unique sense of history and identities may lead to a contested modernity or multiple modernities radically different from the prevalent classical theories of modernisation and convergence of industrial societies To understand China's trajectory of future development has been a major issue in international affairs This book is concerned with how China's hybridised identities are articulated and intertwined with situational institutional and societal dynamics and how they are interwoven with China's international outlook which converges with or diverges from China's historical assumptions and beliefs This book will be of interest to those studying China's identity in the media situated at the juncture of past present and future and between China and the wider world The chapters in this book were originally published in Critical Arts

Critical Complexity Rika Preiser, 2016-01-15 This book is a collection of all the single authored essays by Paul Cilliers published between 1990-2011 Being one of few authors who approached the study of complexity from a philosophical perspective the main themes in these papers explore Qualitative characterization of complexity and the normative implications of studying complex adaptive systems the philosophical and conceptual similarity to post structural approaches how any engagement with complexity leads to a critical engagement with how we do science and design interventions critical and normative implications for how to engage with complex socio political concerns in the world What makes this book unique is that it consolidates a body of work that is distributed over a wide range of academic journals Although his book Complexity and Postmodernism Routledge 1998 remains a cornerstone in the field of complexity studies Cilliers' journal essays really explore the application of the theoretical concepts in more depth His ground breaking ideas conceptualized in these essays have served as a continual source of novelty and inspiration in the process of applying complexity thinking to other fields of study

Eleven Exercises in the Art of Architectural Drawing Marco Frascari, 2011-03-08 This book deals with the critical nature and crucial role of architectural drawings A manual which is essentially not a manual it is an elucidation of an elegant manner for practising architecture Organized around eleven exercises the book does not emphasize speed nor incorporate many timesaving tricks typical of drawing books but rather proposes a slow meditative process for construing drawings and for drawing constructing thoughts This is an indispensable reference text and an effective textbook for students seeking to advance their appreciation of the nature and exercise of architectural drawings
